JEWEL TEA BIDS FOR HALL SITE

Board Accepts Firm's Offer

The Village of Arlington Heights this week accepted the offer of Jewel Tea Co. to buy the village hall and adjacent village-owned land for $138,000.

Under the terms of the bid, Jewel Tea will put in Highland st. between Wing and Miner at its own expense, except that the village will provide necessary engineering and inspection.

Included in the purchase is the park and parking area and lying north of Davis st. to the railroad. The village previously purchased this parcel for $37,500 so it could be included in the sale.

Deducting this purchase price, the village still will clear $100,000 on the sale to Jewel Tea, as recommended by a citizen's advisory committee.

Also included in the sale is the portion of Davis st. lying north of the village hall, west of Vail st. This section of Davis will be vacated.

THE TOTAL area of land being sold is 55,916 square feet, which will be rezoned B-2, commercial. A representative of Jewel Tea was at the village meeting Monday night when the company's bid was opened and accepted. He said the company intends to put in retail stores and parking facilities.

He also said that when this is accomplished, the Jewel store on 11 S. Dunton st. will be closed.

Actual transfer of ownership is contingent upon a number of factors, particularly upon the ability of the village to relocate its administrative offices, police and fire departments.

THE JEWEL representative said the company had in mind a delay of about 90 days.

"Is there any reason you can't relocated the village administration within 90 days?" Trustee William Moore asked Village Manager L. A. Hanson.

"I can have everything moved in 60 days," Hanson said.

HANSON EXPLAINED that he already has had the problem under consideration for some time and has reached tentative conclusions. The fire department equipment must be kept on the south side of the railroad tracks, he said, so it would be moved temporarily to the public works building.

Hanson said he has made arrangements with nearby villages for lockup of prisoners when necessary. As for administrative offices, he suggested St. Peter school and other alternatives.

The village will build a new village hall on its property on the east side of State rd., opposite Sigwalt. Construction of a new village hall was authorized last December when voters approved 3-1 a $350,000 bond issue for the project. The hall is estimated to cost about $450,000.

CONSTRUCTION has been held up pending sale of the old village hall site. Stumbling block has been the construction of Highland st. between Wing and Miner. The previous bidder insisted the village pay this cost, which would have resulted in a net profit to the village of only about $54,000. This was deemed unacceptable.

No date was mentioned Monday night for construction of the new Jewel and related facilities. The company representative said it depended somewhat upon when the village vacates the premises and the status of the company's lease of the building in which its present store on S. Dunton is located.

He estimated construction of the new facilities would take about nine months.

LITTLE MISS Personality is Sara Ann Martin, the winner of the title "Arlington Heights Anniversary Baby." Sara polled the highest number of the almost 1,000 votes cast at the ice cream social Oct. 4, sponsored by the Newcomers club in connection with the village celebration. Sara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin, 1614 W. Oakton, Arlington Heights.

STUART R. PADDOCK

Take to the woods and the by-ways, not the highways and freeways, "while ye may" for the feel of quietness and repose and sheer beauty of color. The wild growth of nature is over and she is reaping her burgeoning gifts.

We enjoyed this lavish display near Springfield, spending a half a day reliving the early Lincoln life in New Salem. The summer crowds are over which gives room for looking.

Large stock farms, harvesting of crops make for a thankfulness for the rain and sun which make fall so beautiful.

When going south in this state, you can always arrange to follow the Rock River for a bit and take a picnic in the White Pines — that bit of Illinois that the glaciers slid around leaving those magnificent stands of pines and deciduous trees. Do ford the many little creeks and enjoy a bit of quietness in a spot of Illinois many natives have still to know.

While hearing Senator Homer E. Capehart of Indiana at the convention of the Illinois Press last week we were carried back a bit to the oratory of William Jennings Bryan, but this speaker represents Indiana in the Republican fold. His oratorial manner, thumping the podium (until the reading lamp broke) and seeing him later in his big-brimmed white felt hat certainly lent a bit of nostalgic color to the event.

Perhaps hindsight is always better than foresight, but it was with ease that he recalled events from 1933 when Russia was recognized and we as a nation spent money and sent technicians to build their scientific economy.

From there on up to the present, we fell in line with building up their Marxist plans — letting them enter the World War II conflict in time to divide and take over nations of mid-Europe.

Again letting them in to the Japanese War just in time to take Korea and Mongolia and complete their plan for China.

The Marxists philosophy followed by the Soviets has been blueprinted for us by Marx and Engels for several decades and still we go along with their pattern.

The Senator answered questions freely and made it clear that unless we still destroy the Communist regime in Cuba, 90 miles away, we can not convince Central American nations that we will extend our protection a few thousand miles further. Hindsight is always easier than foresight but the lesson should have been learned.

Referendum December 9

Sewer Construction Program Is Outlined

Arlington Heights residents will be given an opportunity to vote December 9 on a sewer bond referendum which, if successful, will finance a program designed to relieve about 99 per cent of the current flooding problem, and provide for future growth of the village.

The date for the referendum was set Monday night at a meeting of the village board of trustees, during which the firm of John Nuveen and Co. was hired to work out details of the financing and sale of the bonds, and act as financial consultant to the village.

THE SEWER construction program was recommended in an updated report by the firm of Suhr, Peterson, Peterson and Suhr. According to the report, only a major sewer construction program will provide relief from the problem of flooded basements.

Monday night, Trustee William Moore's proposal that a citizens advisory committee be appointed to work with the board on the project was passed unanimously. Trustees will submit names of persons to be included on the committee at the next meeting, Oct. 16.

Also discussed Monday night was the number of the precinct polling places which should be opened for the special referendum. Cost of the election would be considerably lessened if only two or three were used, but Village President John Woods and the board members agreed that all 21 precincts should be utilized in order that no one who wants to vote need be inconvenienced.

W. G. INMAN, a vice president of the Nuveen firm, attended the Monday night meeting and in a preliminary way discussed possible financing of the $3.4 million project. Inman recommended the entire proposal be put before the voters at the same time.

"I think it's important that the whole program be authorized at one time," Inman said. "The electorate should be given the opportunity to approve the entire proposal."

The flood problem is a serious one in Arlington Heights. A survey by the Suhr and Peterson firm indicated that about 30 per cent of the homes had a flooding problem during a severe deluge, and about 12 per cent a continual flood problem.

THE FIRM said this is far more than should be tolerated. Unfortunately, the firm's report continued, the solution does not recommend itself to a step-by-step program, but should be undertaken in its entirety.

The problem cannot be alleviated by piece-meal sewer construction in various areas of the village, the report said. It is a result of continual addition of lateral sewers until the main trunk sewers just are unable to handle the volume of water flowing into them. Thus the remedy involves installation of overflow trunk sewers, with added lateral sewers in some areas.

Looking to the future, the mushrooming growth of Arlington Heights inevitably will cause other parts of the city not now plagued with a flood problem to encounter one. Because of this, the sewer construction program has been designed to handle future growth as envisioned in the village master plan.

Residents Must Be Registered

Arlington Heights residents who have not re-registered before Dec. 9 will not be eligible to vote in the sewer bond referendum to be placed before the electorate on that date.

Polls will be open (see separate story) Friday, Oct. 13, from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. in each precinct for re-registering.

Inventory Begins

Tree Program Started By Village Trustees

Inventory of the number and types of trees in Arlington Heights began this week, the first step in a comprehensive program of planned forestation and reforestation of the village.

At the village board meeting Monday night, Trustee Norval Stephens reported he had been in contact with a recognized forestation planning expert who reviewed the steps taken in the past by Village Manager L. A. Hanson.

Stephens said the expert, George Wickstead of Winnetka, lauded Hanson's work to date, saying the village had taken a number of important and affirmative steps.

Wickstead recommended a comprehensive tree planting program on a carefully planned basis, the first step of which would be a tree inventory program.

Monday, Hanson hired a trained nurseryman to undertake such an inventory, using funds available in the budget.

Wickstead offered his opinion of the forestation plans of Hanson without charge, upon the suggestion of Stephens and Trustee William Sauer.

HIS QUALIFICATIONS as an expert include experience as planner of the Air Force Academy site, Chicago branch of the University of Illinois, and the town of Clinton, Iowa, among others.

"When the tree inventory is completed," Stephens told the board, "we can begin planning a reforestation program for the village on a long term, five or six year basis."

Similar action also was envisioned by Hanson in his previous reports. He further recommended that the village plant small trees in various vacant land areas owned by the village, to be used for future transplanting.

STEPHENS WAS enthusiastic about this aspect of the program. "The idea of a 'tree bank' is a great one," he said.

"Let's use vacant village property for just that purpose. Let's get trees started. If we have the plan and the trees, it's a matter of time to get the program on a self-sustaining basis."

When the tree inventory is out of the way this fall, the village board will have all winter to work with a shade tree planting consultant and develop plans for spring planting, it was pointed out Monday night.

A PROGRAM of planned reforestation is extremely timely due to the ill effects of Dutch elm disease, which has swept the country, blighting whole areas in some places.

In Hanson's earlier reports, he noted that ordinances provide for planting a number of types of trees, specifically hackberry, thornless honey, Norway maple, ironwood, and columnar maple. The village manager is allowed discretion to approve other types also.

Monday night, Sauer offered a motion that two other types of shade trees be placed on the list as particularly recommended for planting, the sugar maple and the pin oak. The motion passed without dissent.

NO IMMEDIATE plans were made for hiring a shade tree consultant, and it was indicated further action will await completion of the tree inventory.

Daughtry to Speak Here

Wallace Daughtry, Arlington Heights Civil Defense director, tonight (Thursday) will address members of the Arlington Greens Community association, and their friends and neighbors.

Daughtry will speak on Civil Defense and how it pertains to Arlington Heights.

The association business meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan association building, to be followed at 8:30 p.m. by Daughtry's talk.

Board Okays Company Bid

The $84,745 bid of Keno Construction Co., Highland Park, for purchase and installation of two pumps in well number eight in Arlington Heights was accepted Monday by the village board of trustees.

The Keno bid was lowest of those submitted, and also specified the lowest number of days (120) within which installation would be completed.

Boy Injured

Fire Damages Home Sunday

A flash fire this week in an Arlington Heights residence injured a 2-year-old boy and caused an estimated $10,000 damage before fire fighters were able to get it under control.

The fire was in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bettis, 802 N. Stratford. Burned on the face and arms, though not believed seriously, was their son, Robert William.

FIREMEN were called shortly before 10 a.m. Sunday. Fire chief Harvey Carothers, who lives only about a block and one-half from the Bettis residence, was first on the scene.

Carothers said Bettis described the fire this way:

Bettis and his son had gone into the basement to get some turpentine out of a metal paint locker. As Bettis took the jug out of the locker, the bottom dropped out and the turpentine splashed onto the floor and began running toward a drain.

BETTIS went to get some water. As the turpentine drained past a clothes dryer, the vapor flashed into flame igniting the boy's clothes.

Bettis extinguished the burning clothes then went after a garden hose but couldn't get near enough to the blaze to train it on the flames because of the smoke and heat.

When firemen arrived, the flames had spread upstairs into a bathroom through a linen chute. Firemen saved the house, but appliances and furnishings in the basement recreation room and utility rom were a complete loss, and there was other smoke, heat and water damage.

CAROTHERS said the heat was so intense in the kitchen, plastic wall ornaments melted and ran down the wall.

The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Sara Martin Wins Tot Competition

A bright-eyed Arlington Heights tot was officially designated "Arlington Heights Anniversary Baby" last week at the ice cream social sponsored by the Newcomers club in connection with the village's 125th anniversary celebration.

Winner in the contest was Sara Ann Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin, 1614 W. Oakton, Arlington Heights. Sara outpolled the seven other finalists in the public voting in which almost 1,000 votes were cast.

FOR A PRIZE, she received a $100 savings bond, and rode the Newcomers club float in the grand parade last Saturday. The other seven finalists will each receive a $20 merchandise certificate in the mail.

The prizes were donated by Gieseke's department store, Todd's shoes, Toy and Hobby shop, Hagenbring's, Heinz shoes, Heirs and Expectations, Kenard's shoes, Andes Candies, Schneller's furniture, Sugar 'N' Spice, Freitag hardware and Monaco drugs. Community Camera was contest headquarters.

Approximately 1,600 persons attended the afternoon and evening social, casting 998 votes in the contest.

THE OTHER seven finalists, not necessarily in order of popularity, were Alan Michael Chase, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel R. Chase, 634 E. Clarendon ave., Arlington Heights; Patrick Carleton Tower, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Tower, 1550 W. Kensington rd., Arlington Heights.

Leanne Wolkey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Wolkey, 928 N. Chestnut ave., Arlington Heights; Cathy Coffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Coffman, 1264 Larchmont dr., Elk Grove Village; Corrine Sundquist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lennart Sundquist, 807 Fernandez, Arlington Heights; Jeffrey Christiansen, of 101 E. Hawthorne ave., Arlington Heights; Edwin J. Brztowski, of 350 N. Smith, Palatine.

Parking Lot Fee System Arranged

Modest clamor over the apparent ticketing of autos parked in the new downtown Arlington Heights parking lot even though the lots do not yet have meters, is, to quote the bard, "Much Ado About Nothing."

Some persons who passed the parking lot parallel to Northwest hwy. between Dunton and Evergreen thought they were witnessing an injustice. Adorning each of the parked cars was a bright yellow parking ticket, even though the meter heads have not been installed in the lot.

Arlington Heights police explained, however, that the tickets are not for violations.

AT THE BOTTOM of the ticket is a notation that the parker should deposit 25 cents with the station as a parking fee, since this is the only way the city can get its revenue from the lot until the meters are in.

Although the lots are now open for limited parking, surfacing still is to be done and meter heads placed on the poles. No estimate is available of when work will be completed.

Dog Classes Will Start October 18

Dog Obedience are a new part of the Arlington Heights park district recreation program.

Classes are to be held at Pioneer park on Wednesday evenings from 7:30 to 8:30 and 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. The course of instruction will continue for 12 weeks. The first night will be an orientation session with the actual class work starting October 18.

There are still openings in the classes and dog owners are urged to register so as not to miss any of the training sessions, said Bill Appleby, park recreation director.

Interested persons may sign up by calling CL 3-0620 or coming to the Pioneer park office.

Suburban News Summary

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS — The village has accepted the offer of Jewel Tea co. to buy the village hall and adjacent municipally-owned property for $138,000. The village will net about $100,000 from the sale. The funds will be used for construction of a new municipal building on village property on the east side of S. State rd. at Sigwalt st. An additional $350,000 was authorized by voters for this purpose last year, but action has been postponed pending sale of the old village hall.

MOUNT PROSPECT — A new fitness rating program for Mount Prospect's police department was explained Tuesday by the village board's police committee. The system has been set up to enable promotions on "as fair a basis as possible."

WHEELING — A citizens' pool committee is staging a last-ditch drive to sell bonds to citizens for construction of a $200,000 community swimming pool. The project is modeled after other such pools located in suburbs. Committee members this week were "pessimistic" about the success of the venture.

BUFFALO GROVE — The village is seeking to buy the privately-owned Buffalo Utility co. which supplies the sewer and water facilities for the entire community. The company has refused the price offered by the village, claiming that it also owns the underground lines throughout the village. The board of trustees asserts that home owners paid for the lines when they purchased their homes. Condemnation proceedings are expected to be filed by the village.

PALATINE — The two-and-a-half-year controversy over the downtown Triangle property has been finally resolved. The William Heise family of Palatine and Elgin has purchased the 6900-square foot lot and will erect a state bank building on the land.

ROLLING MEADOWS — Governor Otto Kerner will listen to the plea of Rolling Meadows businessmen Friday. They want to keep a full traffic interchange at Route 53 and Kirchoff rd. The merchants are opposed to a proposal by the county highway department to move the cloverleaf to Euclid ave., declaring that patrons of the race track will find their way from the Kirchoff rd. exit from the expressway without difficulty. On the other hand, the businessmen insist that shoppers will by-pass the Rolling Meadows shopping center unless the interchange is conveniently located.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS — A series of "community study" meetings have been scheduled for this unincorporated area by two citizen groups concerned with future development of Prospect Heights. The meetings, open to all residents of the area, will explore such matters as annexation, incorporation, zoning and planning, the community's present status, and other municipal problems.

SCHAUMBURG TOWNSHIP — School district 54 board of education has deferred a decision on bids for construction of a four-room addition to Campanelli school and a multi-purpose room at Lakeview school. The delay was caused by the board's inability to locate written confirmation of one of the bids. A decision was expected at a special meeting of the board Wednesday night. Bids ranged from a low of $89,784 to a high of $115,139 for the work. (AF

Well, you all had quite a rest the past four or five weeks. You didn't have to look at my face in the column. All right I'll put a stop to that right now.

I really wanted you to become acquainted with our Prescription Department, and I hope I accomplished that in some small measure. In all phases of the business at Harris Pharmacy we wish to please as many people as possible. We know that we cannot please everyone, but we do want to please as many as we can. I have had my face before you, for lo' these many years, so I'm quite certain that you can stand anything. I just want you all to remember that anything that I might say in this column is my own opinion, and I never intentionally intend to hurt anyone.

Do drop around and see us when you are in the neighborhood and let us have the pleasure of serving you. You'll be looking at the same old face next week, so be prepared.

Wanted: Ladies to Lead Girl Scouts

In Arlington Heights there are between 200 and 300 young girls who would like to become Girl Scouts but can't because there are no women available to serve as leaders.

"How about you?" asks Mrs. Frank Currier, a neighborhood leader. "Would you like to help provide a wholesome interest for these girls?"

Mrs. Currier, 1006 Stratford, is chairman of the Northeast Arlington Neighborhood district, one of three in the village.

SHE SAID THIS week that in her neighborhood district alone, there are approximately 100 girls who want to become scouts but for whom no leaders are available. Some have been on the waiting list for more than two years.

Aside from a liking for children and an enthusiasm for the work, there are no particular qualifications. A potential leader might be a woman whose children are grown up, or a woman without children of her own.

The position entails providing a meeting place for a troop one afternoon a week after school. The meeting usually lasts for about two hours.

IN THE BROWNIE program, the time is usually spent on games and songfests. The Intermediate, junior and senior scouts work on crafts using a scout handbook. At times, the leader will take her troop on trips and tours, perhaps to a factory or newspaper plant or nature center.

"I don't want to kid anybody," Mrs. Currier said, "it takes some time to be a leader, but not an overpowering amount of time."

Training sessions are conducted at the Northwest Cook County Council headquarters in Des Plaines for new leaders, where they are given suggested routines to follow during meetings.

AT PRESENT, there are 33 troops with 578 girls and 80 women leaders in Arlington Heights' three neighborhood districts, Northeast, Northwest and South.

Any woman interested in helping in this type of youth work may call Mrs. Currier, CL 5-7649, for further information.

Top Floral Award to Mrs. Moser

Mrs. Diane Moser, 1418 N. Illinois, Arlington Heights, captured a major award with her flower arrangement displayed as part of the "Arlington Albums" flower and horticulture show during the village's 125th anniversary.

Mrs. Moser's display was in the window of Maison de Romayne. It was centered around a small silver telephone. The display won a Tri-Color award, a coveted prize not easily captured.

The Arlington Heights Garden club, of which Mrs. Moser is a member, has had four other shows and this is the first Tri Color any of its members has won.

Board Meets

The Arlington Heights village board of trustees will meet in regualr session at 8 p.m. Monday in the village hall council room, 107 W. Davis st.

Battle of Beards Fought Out

The long-awaited battle of the beards took place last Saturday before an estimated crowd of 800. When it was over, Chess Edwards, who has a shop in Arlington Market, was named grand champion beard grower, and James Theis of Arlington Heights was awarded the prize for the speediest shave.

With Sig Sakowicz as emcee and referee, two separate contests were held, one for the best beards and one for the quickest shaver.

Edwards was named grand champion beard grower and also took first place in the full beard competition. Second place went to William L. Munson of Palatine, and third place to Michael S. Hoggay of Arlington Heights.

IN THE NOVELTY beard judging, first place went to Howard K. Butcher, second place to William F. Griffith and third place to T. Williams, all of Arlington Heights.

In the Van Dyke beard judging, Robert J. Pine of Arlington Heights took first place, Joseph F. Wundsam of Palatine second place, and Albert C. Peters of Arlington Heights third place.

All the winners in the beard growing contest were awarded trophies.

In the speed shaving contest, using Remington Rand Lectronics, seven full-bearded men, in a matter of minutes, took off growths they had cultivated for weeks.

WINNER WAS James Theis, who whisked off his beard in four minutes flat. Second by 15 seconds was Richard Kyska of Arlington Heights. Next in order came Don Peterson, Bill Simon, Roger Mueller and Irv Grunther. Slowpoke of the shavers, finishing in six minutes, was Les Grant.

All seven finalists in the shaving contest were awarded Remington Rand electric shavers, and as an added prize, rubbed cheeks (to test their smoothness) with the four runners up in the Miss Arlington Heights contest.

There were some 80 entrants in the beard growing contest; about 40 of them with full beards and thus eligible for the shaving contest.

Judges were Mrs. Beth Carr and Mrs. Dorothy Chambers, both of Barrington, and Mrs. Shirley Shanklin of Palatine. In charge of the contest were Mrs. Dorothy Hauff, Mrs. Mil Meyers, and Mrs. Frances Brosseit. (B8

Elk Grove Leader In Construction

Elk Grove township topped 19 other townships in Cook county in total construction valuation represented by building permits issued for August.

Valuation figured on the basis of 49 permits issued by the county department of building for Elk Grove stood at $1,623,100. Only Stickney township had more permits—67—although they represented less valuation, $886,120.

Wheeling township was issued 40 permits valued at $615,300. Maine township had 23 permits whose valuation stood at $219,300.

IN THE northwest suburban area, Palatine township secured 19 permits valued at $305,200, and Schaumburg township had seven permits for the month valued at $185,700.

Total building construction authorized in August was estimated to cost $8,163,460 for unincorporated Cook county. Of the total of 453 permits issued, 147 were for single family dwellings valued at $3,036,700. (B-8

Rev. Baker To Address Dads' Club

The general topic of "The Teenager and His Personality" is slated for the meeting of the Notre Dame Catholic boys high school Fathers club Tuesday, Oct. 17, at 8 p.m. in the cafeteria of the school, located in Niles.

Main speaker will be Rev. Thomas Baker, C.S.C.

Fathers club spokesmen called Fr. Baker "one of the most capable and interesting speakers" scheduled for appearance before the club.

THE BUSINESS section of the meeting will include a report of the Fathers club dance to be held November 4 at O'Hare Inn.

The club membership drive is scheduled for discussion. Spokesmen indicated the drive was "gaining momentum" as fathers became aware of the insurance provisions of membership.

The $6 fee includes insurance for the completion of a son's schooling at Notre Dame without cost to survivors if a club member should die.

The club membership chairman pointed out 11 boys were carried on the school roster last year under this insurance provision. (B-8

A. Yes. Scoop out the contents with your fork. Then put the empty cup on the dinner plate to one side, out of your way.

Famed Negro Baritone Opens Concert Series

By DOLORES HRUBY

The Arlington Heights Community Concert audience had the privilege of hearing Todd Duncan, one of the great singers of our times, last Sunday evening. However much we may regret some of the loss of power of this rich baritone voice, we may cherish the rich fruition of the musicianship of this mature artist.

The first half of Duncan's program was a selection of salon-type songs, each of which he presented as a polished gem. He opened with four selections from the 18th Century classical period, all sung in English. He followed with songs of Brahms and Richard Strauss, and closed the first half with three chansons by Ravel. In all three languages his pronunciation was a thing of beauty.

Duncan sang "O Sleep, Why Dost Thou Leave Me?" from Handel's "Semele" with great depth and beauty. His choice of a slower than usual tempo in a song filled with long, legato phrases is evidence of his amazing discipline and control. Duncan demonstrated his well-known mastery of German Lieder by singing four of them superbly. Particularly impressive was the dramatic "Befreit" of Strauss. The final Ravel was sung with the kind of perfection that comes only with maturity.

THE SECOND half of the program he devoted to contemporary selections and a group of Negro spirituals. In these songs not only his artistry but his showmanship were shown to great advantage. The audience took special delight in his good-humored performance of "The Seminarist" by Moussorgsky.

When Todd Duncan first stepped on the stage, he could be seen looking up at the stage lights, seeking a hot spot. Unfortunately on that inadequately lighted stage, there is no hot spot, and so he had to resign himself to performing in the gaslight atmosphere of our lovely auditorium. This was a great loss for the audience. Duncan is a singer who acts and an actor who sings. To miss any of the expressions on that marvelous face is to miss part of the thrill of seeing this man in person.

As the curtain closed on Todd Duncan's last encore, the audience held for a moment, a tribute of love and respect for this great American Negro artist. (B8

POINTING OUT ADVANTAGES of a postal career is Virginia M. Dodge, postmaster for Arlington Heights. Applications are now being accepted for the next clerk-carrier examination for postal employment in north Cook county.

Players Have Found Stage For Production of Comedy

Shirley Johnson, director for the Elk Grove Masque and Staff, breathed a sigh of profound relief last week.

Moving into the fifth week of rehearsals for its November 3, 4, 10 and 11 presentation of "The Gazebo", the theater group has finally found a stage on which to mount the play.

Because of an overly-abundant number of applications for the use of school facilities, district 59 school board has been issuing permits to village groups on a week-by-week basis. This, says Mrs. Johnson, presents a number of problems when you happen to be planning a play. Tickets cannot be printed, programs are held up, and publicity efforts are limited in the extreme when you don't know where the action is going to take place.

YIELDING to the Masque and Staff's persistent pleas, the board last week approved its application for use of the Dempster Junior High auditorium on the nights in question. The group's previous four productions were housed in the Higgins School.

Mrs. Johnson admits some nostalgia at leaving the familiar confines of the Higgins site but looks forward to the more flexible facilities available at Dempster. The stage alone, she says, is half again as big as that at Higgins, and the seating capacity is equally impressive.

"The Gazebo" is only the fifth of the relatively-new dramatic group's offerings. Preceding it were a musical revue entitled "Just For Fun", "January Thaw", "Night of January 16th" and "Ask Any Girl."

NORMA HORST and Bob Johnson, remembered by many Elk Grove playgoers for their "Honeybun" number in the revue "Just For Fun", co-star in the current mystery-comedy. Supporting roles are played by Bonnie Casey, Guy Marsh, Patt Gersdorf, Morris Pumphrey, Don Arndtsen, John Harling, Dick Africk, Ed Waybright, Harold Thompson and Jim Spahr.

Tickets for each of the four performances, at $1.25 each, may be ordered by calling HE 7-0042. Dempster Junior High school is located at 420 W. Dempster, just west of route 83. Curtain goes up at 8:30 p.m.

Boy Scout Camporee Set for October 20

One of the biggest events in 1961 for all Boy Scouts of the Algonquin district, which includes the Des Plaines, Schiller Park and Wheeling areas, will be the District Camporee at Lakota reservation October 20-22.

It will be the first District Camporee to be held at this site, which was recently purchased by the Northwest Suburban council, and is six miles west of Woodstock on route 14.

Under the direction of skilled adults, who will be on hand at all times, the Scouts will cook their own meals at 40 to 50 individual patrol campfires and get settled for the night.

THIS WILL be a new experience for many, as two exciting days are ahead for the estimated 400 Scouts and the 100 or more adult Scouters who will attend!

Activities during the Camporee will revolve around the theme of "Danger from Space." The five general types of competition among patrols will include the use of lashings, first aid and stilt walking; the last two will stress "be alert," "be prepared" and will require agile minds.

Natural patrols of five to eight Scouts 15 years old and under will be formed for these competitions.

EACH PATROL may receive up to 100 points of credit in each of the five competitions and will be awarded ribbons on the basis of the total scored. That troop having the highest number of points through its various patrols also will receive the "Commissioner's Trophy."

This is a cup and twice has been won by Troop 114 (Good Shepherd Church, Des Plaines) under the able tutelage of A. D. "Bud" Kriegermeier, scoutmaster. If won three times, Troop 114 will keep it permanently.

The evening's activities will consist of supper, campfire and troop skits on "Danger from Space," on which patrols and troops have been working for some time and, finally, "Taps" at 10:30 p.m.

THE ADULT Scouters will stay up a while longer (if they an stay awake) for a "Leader's Cracker-barrel," there to run over the day's events and have a briefing for Sunday's activities.

After lunch October 22, all troops will assemble for the presentation of patrol awards. Ribbons for Scouts of the individual patrols, the colors of which will represent the points they have earned, and the awarding of the "Commissioner's Trophy," will be presented with appropriate ceremonies.

Cub Scouts of Webelos age (10 years old) and their parents are invited to visit the Camporee during the Saturday afternoon competitive events period.

Those desiring further information may call Al Werhane, camping and activities chairman, at VA 4-7446 for particulars. (B8

Offer Postal Job Opportunities in Northern Suburbs

The board of United States Civil Service Examiners announced this week that applications are being accepted for the next clerk-carrier examination for postal employment with post offices located in north Cook county.

The starting rate of pay is $2.16 per hour for substitute employees and $4345 per annum for regular employees. Applicants must be at least 17 years of age. There is no maximum age limit.

THIS IS AN important public service which offers job security. Important advantages are regular step increases in salary. Added benefits include liberal vacations, paid sick leave, uniform allowance for carriers, longevity salary increases, promotional opportunity, low rate life insurance, health benefit plan and an up-to-date retirement system. A life of security.

A copy of the announcement which gives full particulars may be secured at any post office in north Cook county, or in any other post office in which this announcement is posted, or from the Executive Secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Post Office Department, Room 312, Main Post Office Building, Chicago 7, Illinois. B 8

YMCA Boys Will Do Household Chores

Autumn to the home owner often means hard work, what with screens to come down, storm windows to put up, leaves to rake and other chores. Northwest Suburban YMCA Hi-Y clubs have thought of a way to help Mr. Home Owner with these tasks and also contribute to the YMCA World Service at the same time.

HIGH SCHOOL boys of the local Hi-Y club will be available on Saturday, Oct. 21, and Saturday, Oct. 28, and may be hired at $1.25 per hour or $10 for the day (9 a.m. to 5 p.m.). They will do these household chores and donate their pay to the 'Y's World Service pledge.

This World Service means helping YMCAs throughout the world to help the less fortunate people.

Anyone wishing to reserve a worker may call Cliff Lothery, VA 7-4890, any evening or weekends before the above dates. (B8 O'DONNELL AND Maude Iselin, great-great-great-great-great-great grandchildren of Benjamin Franklin, inspect a replica of a plaque which marks the site of Franklin's print shop in Philadelphia. C. O. Schlaver, 400 I-Oka, Mount Prospect, editor of The Quill attended the site marking ceremonies. This picture is featured on the cover of the October issue of The Quill, magazine of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism society. (B8

C. O. Schlaver

Quill Editor at Fete In Honor of Franklin

Attendance at the ceremonies marking the site of Benjamin Franklin's shop in Philadelphia where he published the Pennsylvania Gazette and Poor Richard's Almanac was a highlight of an eastern trip made recently by C. O. Schlaver of Mount Prospect, editor of The Quill, magazine of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism society.

The society sponsored the program of placing the plaque in the sidewalk near the curbline of the property where Franklin lived from 1728 to 1739. It was the 17th historic journalism site marked by Sigma Delta Chi.

ADDRESSING the audience of Philadelphians and more than 100 visiting Pennsylvania editors, Mayor Dillworth of Philadelphia said:

"Franklin recognized the responsibilities of a free press and its ability to help people realize achievements in civic enterprise."

Of particular interest to Schlaver, as village president of Mount Prospect, was Mayor Dillworth's statement:

"Franklin inspired the country's first police and fire departments and managed to get the streets of the community paved as a result of public interest."

Edward W. Scripps II, vice-president of the Scripps-Howard newspapers and president of Sigma Delta Chi, presented replica of the plaque to O'Donnell Iselin, 8, and his sister, Maud Duane Iselin, 6, both of New York City. They are great-great - great - great - great - great - grandchildren of Franklin.

The plaque bears the historic words written by Franklin more than 230 years ago:

"When men differ in opinion, both sides ought equally to have the advantage of being heard in public."

In addition to participating in the Philadelphia ceremony, Schlaver addressed the Overseas Press club meeting of three Sigma Delta Chi chapters in New York city, attended a U.N. meeting and was a guest of the Radio and Television News Directors Assn. convention in Washington, D. C. (B8

Local Principal Selected Leader

Dr. Eugene E. Oliver, principal of Arlington high school, was selected as a discussion leader at the meeting of Illinois school administrators last week at the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana.

The discussion group headed by Dr. Oliver spoke before a mass meeting of secondary school principals and related educators. Title of the discussion was "The Role of the Secondary School Principal."

The meeting, conducted by the U.I. College of Education and Division of University Extension, attracted more than 500 educators.

INCLUDED in the interlocking four-fold program were meetings of the Illinois Association of Secondary School Principals, Illinois Junior High School Principals association, Illinois High School Association and North Central Association for Illinois Schools.

Among the major speakers at the October 2-4 conference were Sen. Frank Church (D-Idaho), keynote speaker at the Democratic convention last year.

Based on audience reaction, the most popular speaker at the meeting was Rev. Robert "Bob" Richards, twice Olympic gold medalist in the pole vault.

Top Bridge Players Are Announced

First place winners at the Arlington Heights Park District bridge club meeting last Friday were Cornelia Skoulund and Goete McKenna of Fox River Grove, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Krupa of Northbrook and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Papreck.

Second place winners were Mr. and Mrs. H. W. L'Hommedieu, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kaye and Ben Lockhart of Arlington Heights, Dallas Erickson of Des Plaines, Jean Devers of Palatine and Gerald Holmes of Fox Lake.

THE DUPLICATE bridge game was played in two sections of 8 and 7½ tables.

Duplicate bridge, open to the public, is part of the recreational program of the park district. Games are held on the first and third Fridays at Pioneer park at 7:45 p.m.

The next game will be on Oct. 20. There will be a duplicate bridge game at the Northwest Suburban YMCA on Friday, Oct. 18, at 7:45 p.m.

Call Parley To Organize Moose Lodge

The Loyal Order of Moose will hold an organizational meeting October 17 at 8 p.m. in a second floor room at 1 N. Elmhurst rd., Prospect Heights.

Purpose of the meeting is to make plans for establishment of a lodge in Prospect Heights to serve that community as well as Wheeling, Arlington Heights, Rolling Meadows, Palatine, and Mount Prospect.

THE MEETING will include formation of committees and drafting of a charter. Both men and women in the northwest area may attend the first session.

Guest speaker will be Gordon Main, regional director of the Supreme Lodge building in Mooseheart, Ill. (B8

ELECTRONIC PACESETTER

by ED LANDWEHR

Here's an electronic invention that will aid our college trackmen tremendously, and I would even like to see it used in the high schools.

An electronic timer running on a rail beside the inside edge of a track. It can be set to keep ahead of a runner no matter how fast he keeps after it. Or it can time a pace when the trackman keeps abreast of it. Meanwhile, the coach can speak to the runner through its intercom system. You might call it an electronic coach.

LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, wouldn't mind working with this invention. We mean the installation of it, not the running after it. We save our sprinting for those calls direct to the home for TV service. Your dialing CLearbrook 5-0700 will bring out record sprinting, and we guarantee our services, too.

Mirror Image?

Study Shows Suburb Life Not So Bad

"The suburbs have been 'sitting ducks' for sociologists for the past few years, but despite an occasional blast, they're now flying high," William A. Alter, president of Realty company of America, Inc., observed this week.

"It has been fashionable to attack suburbia as breeding grounds for conformists," Alter said. "In the suburbs man is supposedly living next door to his 'mirror image.'"

THE SUBURBS have been accused as 'levelers' of class, occupation, income, interests and aspirations, Alter noted.

A critical analysis of the first 100 families who moved into new homes at RCA's Arlington Heights Gardens refutes many of these claims. Arlington Heights Gardens is a community of 450 families on Arlington Heights rd., one half mile north of the Golf rd. intersection.

Early statistics point up the community as a healthy cross section of middle west America, Alter reports.

OCCUPATIONALLY, residents range from executives to blue collar workers, with the majority junior executives.

Residents were categorized into four broad groups: Professional executive; white collar; craftsmen and service force.

Professional men and executives (24 per cent include production analysts, engineers, artists, teachers and chemists.

WHITE COLLAR workers (sales managers, technical representatives, and office workers) comprise slightly over 20 per cent.

Skilled craftsmen, including carpenters, electrical foremen and trained machine operators, total 35 per cent.

Service-force workers are a little over 20 per cent.

Income levels, too, show a wider range than most community developments, says Alter. Incomes at Arlington Heights Gardens vary as mcuh as $7,000, between the high and the low, he states. This is another positive factor adding to the diversity of the community.

CRITICS OF suburbs claim oldsters are missing from the scene. This is not borne out by the survey. Several purchases are grandparents. More and more older couples desiring the advantages of home ownership, are spending their retirement days in the suburbs, Alter observes.

Seventeen per cent of the residents have no children and 15 per cent have children over 12.

"The suburbs are even attracting the sociologists as a place to hang their questionnaires," Alter said. (B8

'Terrariums' Growing Fad in Suburbia

by MELDA LYNN

Terrariums and their inhabitants are becoming the topics of conservation, not only for the high school crowd in the northwest suburbs, but for the tots barely able to pronounce the word.

Webster says a terrarium is a "small enclosure for keeping small animals."

The enclosures differ from aquariums in that they have sand and gravel in them, but no water, other than for drinking purposes

Many of the children may not know how many games a particular baseball or football team has won—but they know exactly how many frogs Johnnie has — how many turtles Mary has and that Jim has TWO garter snakes!

How many Monarchs spent the night at a particular home is another score they know. One family had 40 Monarchs in its living room one night!

TWO MOUNT Prospect mothers can be credited for this sudden interest in the wonders of living nature, or in science, as the study is called today. (Adults called it nature study when they went to school. Today, it's science).

Mrs. William Goodhope, 700 S. Owen St. and Mrs. Robert M. Brown, 700 S. William, sisters who live one block from each other, have studied reptiles and amphibians since their childhood days.

Their interest was given a shot in the arm when their children came along and they were able to show them how fascinating nature is.

THEY INTRODUCED their children to toads, frogs, turtles, snakes and lizards. They taught them their living habits and how to take care of them.

"By taking care of their pets and learning their habits, they also, automatically, have learned the lesson of reproduction, in a very unhampered, matter-of-fact-way" the mothers report.

The Goodhope and Brown children spend many pleasant hours in the fields getting small animals for their terrariums. They go on family field trips and recently went to Aurora to the fossil fields to get interesting bits of nature to put in for atmosphere.

THE CHILDREN learned to feed their turtles such delicacies as tomatoes, cantaloupes, raw hamburger, strawberries and lettuce. These items are easy to get.

Feeding the frogs and garter snakes takes more effort, but the effort provides fun as well.

The leopards, bulls, greens and springpeepers (frogs) must have flies, crickets, grasshoppers, worms and other tiny insects. (The children know how to catch flies by stunning, not killing them so the pets can have "fresh" flies to eat).

THE CHILDREN, armed with butterfly nets go into the fields to catch the necessary food for their terrarium friends.

When the Brown and Goodhope children first moved into their Mount Prospect neighborhood, their new playmates became very curious when they saw them running around with the nets.

The friends soon saw what fun it was and eagerly joined the game. They too began making terrariums and learning the wonders of nature. This fun has spread throughout the area.

THEY HAVE learned, along with the Goodhope and Brown children, that a snake sheds its skin—in fact they have watched the process. They know how exciting it can be to watch the eyes of the snakes turn bright blue during the skin shedding process.

They talked their mothers into making butterfly nets for them, either out of curtain material or old pillow cases, wire coat hangers and broom handles.

While scavenging for food, the nature-science buffs have quite naturally come across some sidelines, such as Monarch butterflies. While they catch the tiny white butterflies to feed to their pets, they discovered a beautiful orange and black butterfly, the Monarch.

THEY QUICKLY learned, through Mrs. Goodhope and Mrs. Brown, that these were very special insects and should not be harmed. They learned that Monarchs are different from any other species of butterflies—that they are the only ones which have a life span of more than a few months or weeks.

They also learned that they are the only ones that migrate. They start south to Monterey Bay, Cal. from the north the middle of the summer and go north in early spring, even as far as Canada and Alaska. There they lay their eggs and die.

The children have learned that nothing, short of death, can keep them from their migratory life cycle. They catch the Monarchs, bring them into the house and put them on the window screens.

"THEY ARE very tame and stay on the screen all night," one nature lover said. A water saturated rag is put on the windowsill so they can get necessary water.

The children have an opportunity to watch the butterflies while they are in their homes. The next morning they set them free and notice with amazement that they head in a southwesterly direction immediately, as though they had not been stopped the day before.

All these lessons learned in the many faceted business of keeping a terrarium are looked upon with favor by parents, teachers and even the sophisticated teenagers, who engage in the fun, but claim it's strictly an assignment for school, or to help the youngsters. (B8

SCOTT BROWN AND Karen Goodhope show some of the members of their terrarium. The box land turtles were found while the cousins vacationed in the east. The frogs were found in the fields in Mount Prospect. Providing food for their pets keeps the nature lovers happy and their time well occupied. Seven year old Karen is in the second grade at Lions Park school and Scott, age 9, is in the fourth grade. (B8 YOUNGSTERS IN THE northwest suburban area can be seen in the fields in their neighborhoods, armed with butterfly nets which they use to catch crickets, grasshoppers, tiny white butterflies and other insects which provide food for terrarium pets. (B8

Class Division

There may be said to be two classes of people in the world: those who constantly divide the people of the world into two classes, and those who do not. —Robert Benchley.

KEITH BAUER, 814 S. Owen, Mount Prospect, shows one of the Monarch butterflies he captured with his homemade pillowcase net. Keith let the butterfly go free after he watched it drink water.

Low Bids Are OK'd by Board

Upon recommendation of Village Manager L. A. Hanson, the Arlington Heights village board Monday night accepted the low bids on a portable air compressor and a material spreader, and authorized their purchase.

Gilbors Equipment Co., Chicago was low bidder on the air compressor with a bid of $2,846. Lyons Equipment Co., Chicago, was low bidder on the material spreader with a bid of $2,972. (A

Falls from Roof but Only His Heel Hurt

by HELENE BRISTOL

A simple bandage application was the only result of a fall from a roof for a Chicago workman last week. Taken to the emergency room of Northwest Community hospital after the accident, Joseph Kereszture, 4155 W. Carl, Chicago, was found to have a fractured right heel.

A bandage was the only treatment needed after another potentially serious fall. Thomas Hefley, 14, of Rt. 3, Palatine, fell from the back of a car. At the emergency room the boy was found to have a sprained right wrist.

One of the unique accidents treated at the emergency room last week involved Dennis Fecteau, 17, of 4 Audrey lane, Hatlen Heights. The youth was admitted to the hospital for treatment of his left hand, injured when he accidentally discharged a .22 calibre blank pistol. The blank pistol, a type used to start various races, did not contain a bullet but only a powder charge.

MANY PATIENTS landed in the emergency room as a result of difficulties with animals.

James Corcoran, 530 Deerfield, was treated for a racoon bite. A bee sting brought Mrs. Mary Gorman, 525 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights, to the emergency room.

Falling from a horse proved to be an emergency room ticket for Robert Westerberg, 9½, of 31 Evergreen, Elk Grove Village. The boy broke his left wrist and a long arm cast was applied.

Several patients arrived for emergency treatment after "man's best friend" — a dog — decided not to be friendly but in a biting mood. Two nine-year-olds were included in the dog-bite victims. They were Judy Carstensen, Rt. 3, Palatine, and William Hathaway, 1509 W. Fremont, Arlington Heights.

TWO OTHER dog-bite patients were Valerie Syms and Fred Barbalace, both 18. Miss Syms lives at 1103 N. State rd., Arlington Heights, while Barbalace resides at 303 Ashley rd., Hoffman Highlands.

The range of "snacks" consumed by small children in the area included everything from turpentine and paint to vitamin solution.

The most serious case involved Julia Bertram, 2, of 2305 St. James, Rolling Meadows. The tiny girl was rushed to the hospital after drinking a large quantity of turpentine. Listed on the critical list when admitted, hospital authorities now state the girl is in good condition.

OTHER CHILDREN who arrived at the mergency room for treatment after their "tasty tidbits" were discharged after having their stomachs washed. The children included Sarah Prochaska, 3, of 145 E. Wood, Palatine, who drank vitamin solution; Candace Correl, 2, of 141 N. Olive, Hoffman Estates; who drank a large amount of cough medicine; and Daniel Drechsel, 15 months, of 500 N. Wille, Mount Prospect, who drank rubbing alcohol.

Other "odd foods" brought three more youngsters to the emergency room. James Swartz, 3, 32 Maple, Willoway Terrace, Arlington Heights, drank gasoline. Laura Jacks, 16 months, of 115 N. Waterman, Arlington Heights, was treated after possibly eating paint. Tim Kuecker, 2½, of 2606 Spruce ct., Rolling Meadows, was rushed to the hospital after possibly drinking bleach.

School injuries sent a group of youngsters to the hospital for emergency treatment. David Low, 14, of 1307 Park, Arlington Heights, is wearing a splint after breaking his arm playing football at school. William Kieck, 8, of 1015 Chicago, Arlington Heights, received a sprained ankle at school.

A FALL AT school sent Virginia Elder, 6, of 1529 Ridge, Arlington Heights, to the hospital for treatment of a cut on her chin. A laceration on her forehead and a tetanus toxoid shot are reminders of a fall on the school playground for Kathy Miller, 7, of 6 Woodcrest lane, Elk Grove Village.

Falls were not confined to school for emergency room patients.

William Owens, 8, of 176 Glendale, Buffalo Grove, was admitted to the hospital for care after he fractured his right elbow in a fall from a bicycle. A long arm cast was applied to the broken left wrist of nine-year-old Pamela Green, 816 Delphia, Elk Grove Village. The young girl broke her wrist in a fall from a swing. Another long arm cast is being worn by Timmy Belzer, 3, of 228 Lincoln Terrace, Buffalo Grove, who broke his right arm in a fall.

Playtime proved to be bone-break time for William Fitzgerald, 4½, of 378 Maple, Elk Grove Village, and Cathy Concidine, 15, of 417 Warren rd., Glenview. The Fitzgerrald boy fell from a swing and broke his collarbone. A broken left wrist was the result of a fall while roller skating for Miss Concidine.

A SEVERE laceration of the upper lip was the result of a fall for young Debra Hanson, 3, of 50 Webster lane, Schaumburg. James Hicks of Lake Zurich was treated for a deep scalp wound received when he fell.

Foot trouble to a major degree brought three patients to the emergency room. Stan Naylor, 4, of 109 Highland blvd., Hoffman Highlands, smashed his right foot with a pipe. David Parr, 203 Campbell st., Arlington Heights, dropped a heavy object on his left foot, fracturing one toe and bruising the others. Little Jeffery Paice, 2, of 516 N. Derbyshire, Arlington Heights, was treated for second-degree burns of his right foot.

Traffic victims taken to the emergency room included Miss Joyce Anzalone, 429 S. Plum Grove, Palatine, who was admitted to the hospital for treatment of a possible concussion and bruises. She was injured in an accident at Wilke and Dundee rds.

ALSO ADMITTED for treatment of a possible concussion, cuts and bruises was Roger Gettelman, 261 Laurel, Elk Grove Village. Elk Grove police brought Gettelman to the hospital following an automobile accident at Rt. 83 and Landmeier rd.

Released following examination was Mrs. Marcella Lumley, 29 S. Leonard, Palatine. Mrs. Lumley was brought to the emergency room by Palatine police following a traffic accident at Rt. 14 and Chicago ave.

Arlington Heights police brought four accident victims to the emergency room following a collision at Dryden and Foundry. Examined and released were Jeffery Smith, 3, of 113 S. State rd., Arlington Heights; Mrs. Angelina Valpe and Mrs. Grace Buffino, both of 600 Foundry rd., Mount Prospect. Mrs. Anna Pugliesi of the same address was treated for a sprained right elbow.

A TRAFFIC accident at Mt. Prospet rd. and Thacker in Des Plaines brought Julie Lalor, 18, of 828 N. Ridge, Arlington Hts., to the emergency room. Miss Lalor was released after examination.

Two eight-year-old boys were treated for severe finger lacerations and both were given tetanus toxoid shots. Robert M. Borck of Lexington Fields, Schaumburg village, cut his left thumb while husking corn. Charles Meyer, 714 N. Dryden, Arlington Heights, caught his right hand in the chain of a bicycle. (B-8

High School Growth To be Aired at Meet

Growing pains and how to cure them are the major topics set for the meeting of Arlington-Prospect High school board Monday, Oct. 16, at 7:30 p. m. in Arlington high school.

Discussion of the district 214 board of education will center on plans for the fourth high school building and the purchase of additional building sites for future growth.

THE DISTRICT now has two high schools in operation — Arlington and Prospect. The third high school, Forest View, is scheduled to open in September, 1962. The Forest View school is located on Goebbert rd. between Golf and Algonquin rds. in an area just east of State rd.

Tentative discussion by the school board indicated the fourth school would be built in the Wheeling-Buffalo Grove area.

Two sites are now owned by the school district in this area. A sixth site is located in Elk Grove Village on State rd.

The district recently completed a study of school plant and site needs under the supervision of Dr. Jack R. Childress of Northwestern University. The Childress report indicated a fourth high school should be opened by 1963 or 1964 in the Wheeling-Buffalo Grove area, with a fifth high school in Elk Grove Village opened in 1965 or 1966. The report pointed out a sixth high school might be needed by 1969.

Dr. Childress also recommended the purchase of two additional school sites for future school construction—one at the far east section of the school district and another at the northwest section.

High School Boundary Hearing 'Calm'

by HELENE BRISTOL

Armed with maps and statistics, administrators of Arlington-Prospect high school district overcame anticipated controversy and criticism at the public meeting on school boundaries before it even arose.

Attending the meeting Tuesday night in the Arlington high Little Theatre were almost 200 area residents as well as school board members. The majority of those attending lived in the south Arlington Heights area which was to be divided "down the middle" according to rumors reported to school board members. This rumored change was not recommended by the school administration.

RECOMMENDATION of the school administration to the school board for establishment of new boundaries was needed because of the opening of the new Forest View high school near Algonquin and State rds. next fall.

Final decision on the boundaries could be expected from the school board in one to two months, Board President Daryl Oldaker said. He assured those attending the meeting that further opportunity for the public to express their views would be planned if any major change in the administration-suggested boundaries was made.

Stressing that the administration recommendation aimed at keeping students from various communities together as much as possible at the high school level, present north-south boundary lines between Arlington and Prospect high schools were not changed in the Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect areas.

According to the proposal, students for the new Forest View high school will be drawn mainly from Elk Grove Village, Rolling Meadows, the section of Mount Prospect south of Weller creek, Hatlan Heights and the area of Arlington Heights south of Kirchoff - Central rds.

MAJOR CHANGE in boundary lines at the north end of the district was the shift of pupils from the Wheeling - Buffalo Grove area from Prospect high school to Arlington high school.

Statistics developed by the school administration attempted to keep individual school enrollment figures as near the maximum 2,500 for each school as possible. The suggested boundary lines contemplated the opening of a fourth high school in the Wheeling - Bufallo Grove area in 1964-65, with the revamping of boundary lines for this school requiring as little change as possible.

The administration, with Superintendent Harold Slichenmyer and Forest View Principal Lawrence Jenness as spokesmen, stated that the recommendation included the opening of Forest View high school for the 1962-63 year as a three-year school only. This would permit senior students from all areas of the district to graduate at the schools where they are now junior students.

Under this plan, the first Forest View graduation would be in the spring of 1964 when both state and North Central association approval is expected for a full four-year school.

THE SCHOOL administration pointed out the possible advantage to building of the fourth high school in the Wheeling - Buffalo Grove area for an opening enrollment of about 1,500 instead of a capacity of 2,500 as in the three previous schools. This would permit construction of a fifth high school in Elk Grove Village at the same time. The two proposed 1,500 capacity schools at the far north and far south sections of the district would permit retaining the boundaries suggested by the administration "indefinitely."

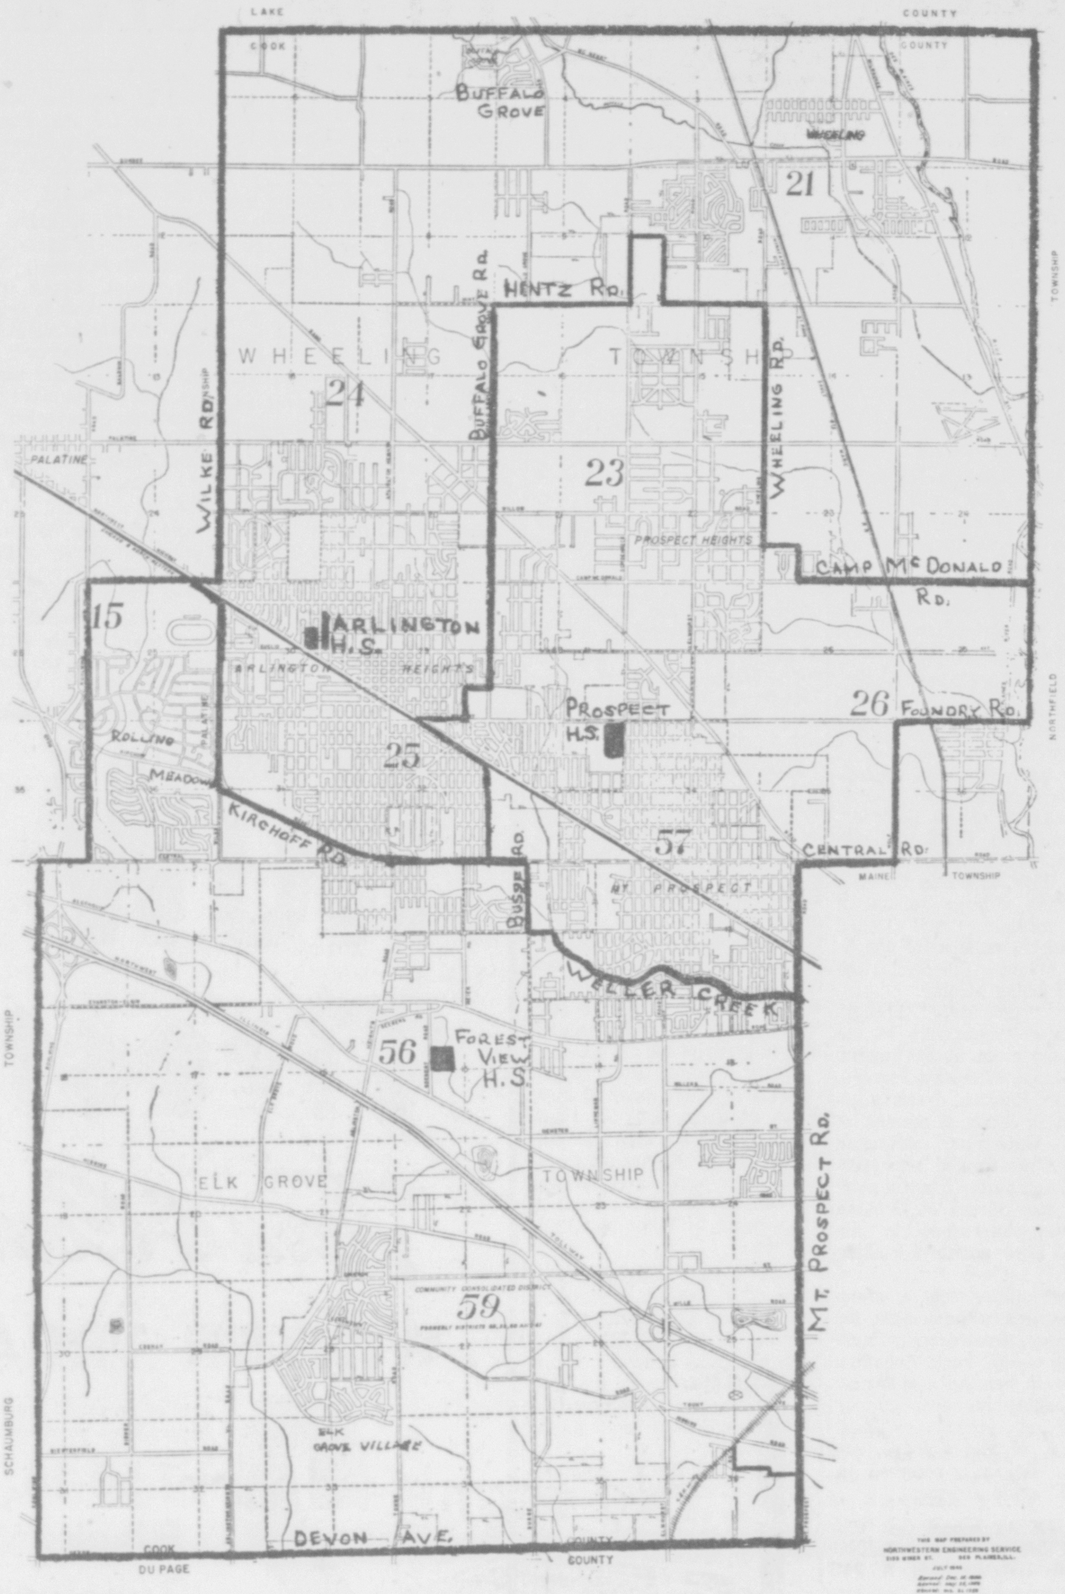
Several alternate boundary-line plans were given to school board members. Most drastic revision on any of the plans was the division of Wheeling down the middle of Dundee rd., with students to the south going to Prospect high school and those living north going to Arlington high. This alternate plan divided Rolling Meadows at Kirchoff rd., with students going to Arlington and Forest View high schools. The plan also cut Mount Prospect along Northwest hwy. sending students to the south of the road to Forest View.

Another plan left Wheeling intact, although transferring these students to Arlington high school from Prospect. Pupils from all of Rolling Meadows, Arlington Heights south of Rockwell and Mount Prospect south of Lincoln would attend Forest View high school. This plan would be the best proposal, according to the school administration, if a fourth high school were not planned for 1963-64.

IN DISCUSSING the opening of Forest View high school, Supt. Slichenmyer indicated about one-third of the teachers at the new school would come from Arlington with another third coming from Prospect. This would mean only one-third new faculty members at each of the three schools in the district.

Enrollment figures used in establishing the proposed boundary lines were taken from present high school enrollments for the classes of 1963, 1964 and 1965. Statistics for the classes of 1966, 1967 and 1968 were taken from the year-end enrollment survey of elementary schools in the district last June. Where individual districts or schools were divided into various sections, these statistics were obtained from a survey of enrollment cards in the specific elementary school office.

Alternate statistics were compiled to show the effect of known subdivision building plans. This raised potential enrollment figures particularly from Wheeling, Arlington Gardens, the Brickman development near Mount Prospect and Elk Grove Village. (ACM



NEW SCHOOL BOUNDARIES recommended by the school administration of Arlington-Prospect high school district 214 at a public hearing Tuesday night are shown above. The new boundaries, to go into effect next September with the opening of Forest View high school, will shift Rolling Meadows and Elk Grove students to the new school, as well as students living in Arlington Heights south of the Kirchoff-central rd. line. Students from Hatlan Heights and Mount Prospect south of Weller creek will also go to the new school under the administration proposal. Wheeling-Buffalo Grove area students will be shifted to Arlington high school from Prospect under this plan in order to equalize enrollments in the schools. As proposed the plan does not change the main north-south boundary line between Arlington and Prospect schools as it runs through Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Prospect Heights. One of 11 alternat plans submitted to the school board by the school administration, final determination of the boundaries is expected within two months. (ACM

VIRGINIA TERRACE

A cocktail party was hosted by Robert and Shirley Vogtritter, 1208 N. Race, last Saturday night in honor of John Mesner, a longtime friend from Park Ridge, who recently returned from Brazil where, as a geologist, he has worked for the past year. Their party then proceeded to The Studio restaurant in Morton Grove for dinner.

A welcome is extended to Donald and Wilma Stull and Sandra Kay, who have moved to 1405 N. Illinois from New Jersey. Before moving to New Jersey, they were former Peoria residents and are happy to be back in their home state again. Donald is a sales engineer for Robertson Photo Mechanix in Chicago and reports that Wilma rates bowling high among her leisure time activities.

SATURDAY afternoon an outdoor party was held in honor of Paula, daughter of Robert and Lorraine Twilling, 1227 N. Illinois, who was seven. Guest included Kris Anderson, Susan and Mary Jo Burkhart, Barbara Warner, Janet Pendelton and Elizabeth McBride.

This past weekend the Corleys, 1326 N. Chicago, entertained Mag's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Barribeau, her brother, Francis Barribeau Jr., and aunt, Mrs. Edith Johnson, all of whom drove down from Milwaukee for Sunday dinner.

A 3-part party for 3-year-old Thea, daughter of Ted and Edith Larson, 1202 N. Race, was held last week. Sunday the Richard Bures family of Broadview were guests at a family celebration. Monday evening Thea's aunt, Sylvia Rockefeller of Chicago, visited her, and last Saturday, Thea was feted at a luncheon party with her playmates, Scotty Vogtritter, April Krug, Barbara Schmidt, Dawn Dolejs and sister, Loni.

Due to their forthcoming move to the west coast, the Grasslys, 1414 N. Yale, decided to hold Beth's fifth birthday party slightly early this year. Guests included Wendy Bloom, Cathy Koser, "Poodie" Speers and Mickey Moser.

A confirmation party was held for Michael, son of Marcy and Ted Micek, 1325 N. Chicago, last Sunday. Guests included his sisters, Pam and Wendy, in addition to grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Micek, aunt, Mrs. Josephine Swiderski, with cousin Louise, and aunt, Miss Rose Micek, all of Chicago. Following the confirmation ceremonies Monday evening at St. James, the Miceks entertained Mr. and Mrs. Sam Coniglio, Michael's sponsor, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Garland.

FRIENDS AND neighbors of John and Mary Ann Geer, 1515 Clarendon, will miss them as John's firm has transferred them to Kansas City, Kan. In line with this move, Pearl Trummer, 1418 W. Oakton, held a farewell coffee for Mary Ann last Friday night. Enjoying refreshments and neighborhood movies the Trummers had taken were Esther Turner, Eileen Brown, Vivian Weber, Marge Frisbee and Jane Coleman.

Prior to attending the Grand Ball last Saturday night, Bob and Betty Gumz, 1248 N. Chicago, hosted a cocktail party for the George Herberts, Bill Gunnisons, Frank Feitschs, Ray Funks and the Jack Martins of Ridge Park, with the Jim Kuhnheims of Lexington, Ky. The evening concluded with everyone converging at Cathy and Bill Gunnisons for a late snack.

The village anniversary celebration provided a theme for the ninth birthday of Jean, daughter of Vaneta and Ray Kellogg, 1341 N. Wilke. After guests Jennie and Jackie Rollefson, cousin, Cindy Probst of Bartlett, and brother, Whitney, attended the parade, they returned to the Kelloggs' for a birthday lunch, joined by Jean's grandmother, Mrs. Whitney of Arlington Heights. Then Vaneta escorted the young folk to town for a 2-hour session at the carnival.

DOROTHY AND Chuck Catlin, 1609 W. Olive, spent last Saturday night at Apple Orchard country club at a dance sponsored by the Starlighter

Even at the tender age of one, Dawn, daughter of dance club.

Glenn and Deanna Olson, 1342 N. Chicago, enjoyed a 2-part birthday recently. The first was a kid's party with Ronnie and Cathy Eilken of Des Plaines, Mark Angelotta of Mount Prospect, Julie and Danny Marsitlia and Vicky Arhammer of Arlington Heights attending.

The second was held a few nights later, when Dawn's great-grandmother, Mrs. Edna Hoffman of Hutchinson, Kan., maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Rolfs, the Wilbur Grandt family and Mrs. Harry Olson of Palatine, enjoyed a birthday supper.

While vacationing in this area, former Terrace residents, Robert and Jo Dieden, now of Warwick, R. I., spent Monday visiting Darrell and Lynda Thompson, 1325 N. Wilke.

Condolences are extended to the Ralph Wiederhold family, 1322 N. Chicago, due to the recent death of Ralph's father, William Wiederhold of Park Ridge.

LAST THURSDAY afternoon a party was held for James, son of John and Margaret Noon, 1221 N. Chicago, who was 5. Enjoying the cake and games were playmates Greg Schafer, Mark and Michael Moustakis, Michael Herbert and Nicky Caprara, along with his brothers, John and Jonathan.

Joyce and Bob Anderson, 1234 N. Yale, hosted a cocktail party for Terrace friends and neighbors last Saturday night, preceding the Grand Ball at Arlington Park. Guests included the Bill Heises, Dave Pendeltons, Gary Lichtblaus and the Bill Borlands.

A family dinner was held Sunday afternoon in honor of Roxanne, daughter of Bud and Marva Kuhl, 1515 Clarendon, who was 8. Attending were grandparents, Mrs. Violet Kuhl and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stockfisch, Arlington Heights, and aunts and uncles, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bending of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Camphousen, Itasca.

A welcome is extended to the Bartel family, who moved to 1210 N. Race from Highland Park. Frank and Katherine have two youngsters, Laurie, who will be 3 next month, and Danny, 2. Frank, a supervisor at the Power Packaging Co. in Wheeling, is an avid fisherman. They are members of St. James parish.

LAST FRIDAY marked the first half of a birthday celebration for Lori, daughter of Ken and Joan Herrmann, who was 3. Guests included Billy Nickas, David and Laura Staubitz, Darlene Donath and brothers, Tommy and Bobby, along with former Terrace playmates, Frankie, Lisa, Gay and Johnny Precillo. The following day a family party was held for Lori. Attending were the grandparents, the Theodore Johnsons of Palatine and the Joseph Herrmanns of Chicago, aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Owen, and aunt, Marci Prestiano, and cousins, Carol and Marlene. The Herrmanns live at 1443 N. Race.

A double celebration Monday for Billy, son of William and Anne Cardinell, 1711 W. Olive, to mark his 10th birthday and confirmation. Attending the party after the confirmation ceremony at St. James church were grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cardinell, of Chicago, uncles and aunt, John Cardinell of Arlington Heights and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lavesen, his sponsor.

Sunday afternoon a family dinner party was held to honor Johnny, son of Pauline and John Noerenberg, 1235 N. Race, on his 10th birthday. Guests included his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lazarus Andrew, and aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Peter Christy, all of Milwaukee, and his godfather, Athan Fisekis of Chicago.

NOT WANTING to waste an afternoon of the glorious weather, during the weekend several Terrace neighbors decided to have one last picnic at Deer Grove. Attending with their families were the Bill Rosses, Ralph Landes, Bill Rixes, John Schluntzes and the Bob Gumzes.

Last Saturday afternoon a party was held for Bobby, son of John and Eleanore Blomquist, who was 6 October 7. Guests included Daniel and Mike Yore, David Zare and Mark and Mike Moustakis. That evening a family party was held for Bobby and attended by his sister, Elaine, brother, John, aunt, Mrs. George Von Oepen, and cousin, Sharon, with cousins Mrs. D. Carr and Cathy.

An after school party was held last week for Claire, daughter of Hazel and Taft Lowell, 1246 N. Yale, who was 10. Helping to celebrate were her sister, Kay, and brother Reid, along with school friend, Leni Kastens. After supper they all attended a showing of "Snow White and the Three Stooges." Last Sunday the family celebrated Claire's birthday with a dinner attended by her grandmother, Mrs. F. T. Lowell, and great-aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. M. Larson, all of Chicago. (A

A week of intense activity as beauty queen co-chairman for Arlington's 125th anniversary celebration was climaxed Saturday night when Eunice Behm entertained Miss Arlington Heights and her court at a Pepsi-party in her home, 202 N. Lincoln lane. The queen Anne Heuer, is our nearby neighbor from 102 S. Brighton. Runnersup Pamela Bryant, Nancy Larsen, Sue Turner and their escorts, were the Behm's guests before their appearance at the Grand Ball at Arlington Park. Other guests at the predance party were Mr. and Mrs. Dave Terrill and Mr. and Mrs. John Eiler.

Earlier in the week, on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, the Behms had entertained the judges of the beauty contest.

Parade day was also a busy one for Hank Wallace of N. Dryden, who was instrumental in securing the colorful Medinah Arab patrol for Saturday's spectacular parade. Some 50 members of the group gathered at Bea and Hank's home Saturday morning for a pre-parade breakfast. The ideal weather permitted Bea to serve on their screened porch and in the backyard. Hank took part in the parade as drill master for his Barrington Bethel No. 106 drill team.

AFTER THE festivities, many of the Medinah marchers and their families returned to the Wallaces' for luncheon.

The St. James Women's guild float was driven by Casey Mutti, who is this year's president. Mrs. Helen Kasper was one of the guild members who also took part in the float.

New York City and its vicinity was the vacation destination of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Babs of N. Douglas. They drove as far as E. Lansing, Mich., where they were joined by Mr. Babs' sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Hoch and their son, Rudy Allan, who entered Michigan State university there as a freshman. After touring the campus and having dinner with Rudy Allan, the Babs and the Hochs left for the east coast, with a stop-off at Niagara Falls.

Headquartering in New Jersey near the Lincoln Tunnel, the vacationers toured the New York highspots such as the UN building, Empire State building, Rockefeller Center and St. Patrick's cathedral. Their sightseeing also included a boat trip around Manhattan island and seeing the Broadway show "Camelot."

MRS. WILLIAM Stueber's mother, Mrs. Clara Peterson of Camerson, Wis. has been a visitor at the Stueber home, 414 N. Beverley ave. Express purpose of Mrs. Peterson's visit was to cheer her grandaughter Karen, who had undergone a tonsillectomy at Northwest Community hospital.

Carol Luker celebrated her 6th birthday this week with an after-school party for neighborhood playmates, Terry Lee Neilsen, Kimmy Kenyon, Curt and Johnny Lane, Eddie Laue and her sister Sharon and brothers Donald and Kenneth. A family celebration in the evening doubly marked Carol's special day.

Birthday fare was also in order two weeks ago at the Luker home, 1019 E. St. James, when Sharon observed her 7th birthday with a party September 26 for six schoolmates from the second grade at St. Peter Lutheran school.

A session of tournament bridge was enjoyed at Betty and Matt Cockrells' home Saturday night. The Bob Lukers, Bud and Fran McKnight and newcomers to the tournament, Virginia and Bob Fritz of N. Douglas ave., were their guests. (A

Anne Heuer Captures Beauty Crown Here

What amounts to almost a temporary new way of life has begun for 18-year-old Anne Heuer of Arlington Heights — who outdazzled 23 other girls last week and captured the title of "Miss Arlington Heights."

In the coming weeks, Anne will appear at dozens of functions and on various television and radio shows as the official representative of the village.

Her spare hours will further be taken up with classes at the Patricia Vance studio and with Delores Eiler, as Anne prepares for the Miss Illinois contest, final stepping stone to the Miss America competition in Atlantic City.

Anne received her crown at the finals of the Miss Arlington Heights contest last Thursday night in Arlington Market, where the 10 finalists modeled bathing suits and formals, and displayed their talent.

The title of Miss Runner Up went to 17-year-old Pamela Bryant of Pinegate Highlands, Palatine, who went away from the contest with two of the five coveted trophies.

IN ADDITION to her Miss Runner Up trophy, Pam also was awarded the "Miss Talent" title and trophy for her graceful dancing interpretation of "water."

"Miss 2nd Place" was Nancy Larsen, an 18-year-old graduate of Arlington high school. In the preliminaries, Nancy appeared in a flapper costume and danced a Roaring Twenties number. In the finals, she played a piano solo.

The "Miss 3rd Place" trophy was awarded Sue Turner, a senior at Arlington high school, who displayed four outfits of apparel she had designed and made herself, and also wore one of her own creations in the formals judging.

THE NEW MISS Arlington Heights, a senior at Prospect high school, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Heuer, 102 S. Brighton place, Arlington Heights.

Until recently, Anne and her parents lived in South Africa in a resort town on the coast, where she did some modeling. She has had special training in dramatics, art, modeling and singing, and would like to continue her education in either nurses training or fashions.

The 5-foot, 10½" beauty queen is fair complected and has grey-green eyes and brown hair, weighs 135 pounds. The statistics read 35½-24½-37.

IN ADDITION to the beauty and talent judging, each of the finalists answered two questions drawn from a fishbowl—one serious and one in a lighter vein.

Anne was asked if she would have liked to have been the wife of the first settler in Arlington Heights. With only a moments hesitation, Anne admitted that she loves adventure, and answered, "yes."

For her second question, Anne was asked if she thought that deep in the heart of every person there is a desire to help others.

"Yes," she answered, "I think that if someone is in trouble and other people see this, they will have a desire to try and help."

Judges in the contest were Gloria Van, a popular radio and television singer; Ellen Janda, of the Patricia Vance studio; Olympic skating champion Michael Kirby, of the Michael Kirby skating school; Louis M. Roseth, Chicago industrialist; Joe Foss, CBS sports and newscaster; and Dale Young, ABC-TV star of the morning Clock show.

Young played a double role Thursday night, acting as a judge and substituting as master of ceremonies for ailing Bob Atcher, who came up with the flu.

IN ADDITION to her scholarships to the Patricia Vance studio and the Michael Kirby skating school, Miss Heuer won a mink stole donated by the Arlington Market Merchants association; a $500 college scholarship; a year's supply of Pepsi-Cola; a Lady Remington electric shaver; a sterling silver place setting and wristwatch from Robbin jewelers; and a $50 gift certificate donated jointly by the Co-op Electric supply and Burns and Collins.

Each of the finalists received a bathing suit from Jantzen and the Ruth Miller apparel shop, which was contest headquarters. The contest was sponsored by the Jaycees in cooperation with the village anniversary celebration committee.

After the contest, the judges agreed their decision had been a difficult one. The girls were judged on beauty (25 per cent), talent (50 per cent), and personality (25 per cent).

THE JUDGES also pointed out that they were instructed to bear in mind that the winner would be representing the village in the Miss Illinois contest, and that they should consider potential talent indicated, as well as what actually was displayed.

For her talent, Miss Heuer recited two selections from Elizabeth Barrett Browning's "Sonnets from the Portugese," with background music.

Besides those who captured trophies, the other finalists were Gail Brooke, Dale Soderstrom, Patricia Ann Kudla, Marilou Geisen, Brenda Rudolph and Cheryl Williams.

ENTERTAINMENT at the finals was provided by some spirited pixies from the Delores Eiler studio, who performed a variety of dances, scoring a particular hit with the can-can.

Guests at the finals included John Woods, Arlington Heights village president; and Miss Jacqueline Bingert, Miss Illinois of 1961.

The Changing Times

'Pumpkin Snatchers' Decline

by DAN PRIBILSKI

There just aren't as many pumpkins and watermelon snatchers as there used to be.

Most farm boys will recall that it was a great game to sneak through fields and raid a farmer's watermelon patch, making off with the biggest and juciest melons.

And around Holloween time, whoever heard of buying a pumpkin. The same way watermelons were gotten, pumpkins were gotten.

Of course, there used to be quite a few city folks who used to drive out to the "sticks" to see the country — and snitch a few cabbages or ears of sweet corn that grew in fields along the roads.

Occasionally a city slicker would get his wits shook when a farmer's dog would attack or a load of buckshot ruined a good pair of pants, among other things.

According to Carl F. Mees, the local farm advisor, watermelon, pumpkin, and cabbage snatching occurs rarely today.

"PUMPKINS ARE taken, mostly around Halloween," Mees said. "But by and large, most people nowadays are respectful of others' rights."

One common complaint which still comes to Mees' attention is that hunters often enter a farmer's land without permission.

Hunters have a bad habit of shooting not only pheasants but chickens, and even cows. To some hunters, it is all great sport.

THIS WRITER remembers a time when some hunters were allowed on a farm located northeast of Arlington Heights on Checker rd. right by Long Grove rd.

The hunters got their pheasant. Then to end a good day of sport, they took on the aluminum roofing of the silo, the cylindrical building used to store corn. Their buckshot ripped a hundred holes in the silo's roof. The farmer, who was not present, never did see the hunters again.

Besides the hunters and snatchers of produce, a new kind of trespasser has developed. It's the innocent suburbanite off on a treasure hunt.

OF LATE, civic and church groups have been sponsoring hunts where families race in their autos from treasure caches to treasure caches, finding clues where to go next. Eventually everyone ends up at a party.

Last year on the Ciolac farm on Meacham rd. just south of Schaumburg rd., a couple of the treasure hunters almost went next to eternity instead of the next clue location.

Steve Ciolac saw a lot of flashlights being beamed out in his fields. He did not know what was going on. He went out with his dogs and his shotgun and challenged the treasure hunters who had managed, while looking for clues, to trample a lot of tomato plants.

"WE'RE SORRY," was all the treasure hunters could say as Ciolac glared at them with his shotgun in his hands.

This year Schaumburg's police have warned treasure hunters about trespassing.

THE STARS OF THE Best Off Broadway Players, Inc., production, "Annie Get Your Gun" which will be presented Oct. 20, 21, and 22 in the Barrington Consolidated high school, are Karyl Jacobsen 1538 N. Need More Registrants For Judo

The start of Arlington Heights park district judo classes were delayed this week for want of more registrants, according to Bill Appleby, recreation director.

Classes meet at Recreation park fieldhouse on Mondays at 7 p.m. for fifth through eighth grade boys, 8 p.m. for women and girls self defense, and 9 p.m. for men and high school boys.

The course consists of eight one-hour lessons designed to teach judo tactics and self defense. Courtesies and procedures which are a part of this sport will be taught.

Interested persons may call CL 3-0620 or stop in at the Pioneer park office. (A

Troop 355, under the leadership of Mrs. D. Galloway and Mrs. W. Hunter, hiked to Wink's Bike shop October 2. Troop members are working on their cyclist badges and learned much about the care of their bikes at the shop. Questions were asked pertaining to maintenance and repair. They were also shown various models including an old wooden bike manufactured in 1886 and a unique large wheel bike made in 1875 which Mr. Winkleman had in his shop for the centennial celebration.

The troop also make posters on bicycle safety for a service project. The posters will be displayed in the classrooms of Park school, where the troop meets. Accompanying the troop was Mrs. H. Luebke, a past leader.

MT. PROSPECT

All sixth, seventh and eight grade girl scout troops in Mt. Prospect spent the evening at Camp Pine last Wednesday. A pioneer camping unit was displayed by eighth grade troop 499 and songs were taught by girls that attended Camp Hickory Hill this past summer.

The Campfire program was led by Mrs. Guy Cortney. Supper was planned and served by Mrs. Frank McDade and her committee of mothers. Mrs. Alvin Bridges was in charge of first aid; all first aid equipment was furnished by Randhurst Corp. Mrs. E. Gallup, south side neighborhood chairman was chairman of the outing which the girls hope to repeat in coming years. (B9

Q. Is it necessary to acknowledge receipt of birthday or anniversary cards?

A. If you mean a note of acknowledgment, no. However, when you next meet the sender of such a card, it is always good manners to mention that the card was received and appreciated.

Some Dangerous

Warning Sounded on Fire Extinguishers

A warning to homeowners against purchase of undesirable types of home fire extinguishers was issued this week by Arlington Heights Fire Chief Harvey Carothers.

Carothers said some types of extinguishers can be dangerous. He particularly mentioned extinguishers which use a carbon tetrachloride base, and usually come in small pressurized cans.

THE FIRE CHIEF pointed out that carbon tet, upon contact with a hot surface, gives off eight kinds of toxic gas, one of which is a deadly vapor.

Another type which Carothers advises against is the CO_2 bottle, which he says is good as an extinguisher but can give a homeowner a false sense of security. He explained that the one-pound CO_2 extinguisher, the type normally sold for home use, will last only about five seconds.

Carothers said there are a number of types of home extinguishers which are acceptable, and recommended a water type.

He urged homeowners to call the Arlington Heights fire department before purchasing any home extinguisher, to see if the purchase is advisable from a standpoint of safety and effectiveness. (A

MINER JUNIOR HIGH

"Spirit of West Point," a semi-documentary account of the famous gridiron twins, Glenn Davis and Felix "Doc" Blanchard, who flourished as West Point's sports heroes from 1944 to 1947, will be the first film shown by Miner PTA's Little Theatre. Robert Shane and Anne Nagel also star in this movie which will be presented at 1 and 3:30 p.m. October 14 at Miner school.

Tickets for this show or season passes for the entire series are being sold at Miner school and through Mrs. Wayne Wankel, CL 5-4418.

WESTGATE K-5

September 26 was bicycle inspection day. There were 141 bicycles taped according to Mrs Gross, safety chairman.

Mrs. Robert Erickson, membership chairman, thanks all concerned for making Westgate PTA membership enrollment successful.

October 17, at 8:15 p.m. Westgate PTA will have its annual Parent's Night. This will give the parents an opportunity to visit their child's classroom. The teacher will describe the curriculum of the year and how it will be taught. The room mother of each class will act as the hostess.

A bake sale is set for October 17. Baked goods will be sold in the multipurpose room from 7 to 10 p.m. and coffee will be sold from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Parents have been asked to donate baked goods and as an added interest it is hoped they will include their favorite recipe with the donated item. Mrs. Wlliam Naeher and Mrs. Larry Anderson, ways and means chairmen are in charge.

The teacher-parent conferences will be held after school hours starting October 25 through October 31.

RIDGE SCHOOL

Parents' night will be observed at Ridge school Tuesday Oct. 17. The school bell will ring promptly at 8:15 p.m. when all parents, children are not present on this night, will be expected to be in their children's rooms. At this time the teacher will be introduced and he or she, in turn, will discuss the year's curriculum.

Following room visitation, refreshments will be served in the multi-purpose room

NORTH SCHOOL

The annual parents night of the North school PTA is Tuesday October 17. This is the ening when parents may take the opportunity to become better acquainted with their children's teachers and to see what has been and expects to be accomplished during the school term. Each child's work, books and art work, will be available for the parents' inspection.

Schedule for the evening is as follows:

Kindergarten 1 and 3, 7:30 to 8, room 13; kindergarten 2 and 5, 8 to 8:30, room 12; kindergarten 4 and 6, 7:30 to 8, room 12; grade 1, 7:30 to 8, home rooms; grade 2, 8 to 8:30 home rooms; and grades 3, 4 and 5 8:30 to 9 home rooms.

Refreshments will be served in the school cafeteria as parents complete their meetings in the rooms.

DRYDEN SCHOOL

Dryden school PTA will hold its annual parents night Tuesday, Oct. 17 at 8:15 p.m. Parents will visit their children's classrooms where the teachers will explain the year's curriculum, show textbooks and answer any questions the parents might have.

Room mothers will act as hostess for each room and refreshments will be served by fifth grade parents.

WINDSOR

October 17 is the date for the annual Windsor school PTA Parents night. This is the evening on which parents are invited to their child's classroom to hear from the teacher the program planned for his or her particular room for the year, Anyone with questions about his child's educational experiences, or anyone interested in how material is to be presented to him, is invited.

RE-REGISTRATION

Mrs. Donald Thompson, legislation chairman of the Arlington Heights Council of Parents and Teachers associations, and her committee call to the PTA members' attention that in order to vote at the next election everyone who is qualified to vote must re-register.

To be eligible to register to vote a resident must meet the following requirements: "If you will be 21 years of age by April 10, 1962, will have lived in Illinois one year, in Cook county 90 days, and in your precinct 30 days." Re-register October 13 from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. at your polling place.

ARLINGTON HIGH

Arlington high school teacher parent council will meet on two separate nights this year. The first meeting will be for the freshman and sophomore parents October 19, and the junior and senior parent open house will be October 26. This has been done to reduce overcrowding and to give every parent an opportunity to meet the teachers.

The program is called "Know Your Teachers" and each parent will follow the daily schedule of his son or daughter in miniature class periods to see the classrooms and to meet the instructor. Parents are invited to visit the study halls as well as the regular classes.

The opening session will be in the Boy's Gym from 7:45 until 8 p.m. at which time "classes" will begin. At 9:45 p.m. there will be refreshments in the cafeteria.

PARK SCHOOL

Friday's second voters' re-registration day will be the occasion of Park school PTA's second bake sale of the year. Since the first sale was a complete sell-out by 1 p.m., the co-chairmen, Mrs. Basil Regione and Mrs. Donald Barker, are planning on an additional supply of home prepared items.

The sale will begin at 8:30 a.m. and continue until sold out. School children will have a special table at which cupcakes, cookies and candy will be available at 5 and 10 cents.

KENSINGTON

With a space rocket to the moon as a symbol, Kensington school PTA "blast off" their drive for new members during the week of October 2 to 9, according to Mrs. Thomas Buirley, membership chairman.

"It's A-OK With Your PTA" was the theme of the drive as the association looked for a nearly perfect percentage of parent membership. Mrs. Buirley stated that there will be cash prizes for each room attaining 95 per cent membership. Pupils in rooms reaching this goal will be able to purchase their own class selection.

It is stressed by the committee that all children from the same family attending the same school are covered by a single membership.

Those assisting Mrs. Buirley included Mesdames C. T. Alborn, E. F. Walter, Richard Kruse, C. F. Schroeder, James Haanel, R. J. Baranowski, M. S. Rygh and Jean Samp. (A FAVORITE RECIPES will be included with the merchandise October 17 when members of Westgate PTA hold a baked goods sale from 7 to 10 p.m. in the school's multi-purpose room. In charge of the sale are Mrs. Larry Anderson and Mrs. William Naeher, who are about to sample one of the donations. (A

Ridge Park–Sherwood

From Sherwood

Eighteen enthusiastic Sherwood ladies pooled their cars October 3 for the trek to Old Orchard where the Northwest Chapter of the Lake Bluff Service league sponsored a brunch and fashion show in the Hawthorne room. The profit was earmarked for the clothing fund at the children's home. Sherwood's Charlotte Auld was in charge of the affair.

The surgical convention brought Dr. and Mrs. C. D. Edwards and their two children from Washington, D. C., to the Chicagoland area and eventually to the Nick Shumans, 1001 W. Clarendon, for two days last week. Friends since school days, Marilyn and Mrs. Edwards applaud the conventions and business trips that bring their families together.

Open house at the Roger Rydens, 1119 N. Harvard, recently honored their son, David, and Robbi Oswald who plan to be married October 21 at the John Timothy Stone Chapel of Fourth Presbyterian Church in Chicago. Robbi was showered with miscellaneous bridal gifts last week at a party at the home of Mrs. Carl Palmer, 1023 W. Burgoyne. Co-hostesses for the evening were Mrs. R. E. Peck and Mrs. George Thieman.

While the shower was going full speed ahead at the Palmers, outside, in the driveway, so was a float for the homecoming parade that came away with first honorable mention.

FROM RIDGE PARK

The anniversary celebration is over and, like Christmas, the letdown afterward is a bit of a strain. Still it has left some wonderful memories behind. For many of the adults who marched or rode in the parade, it was fun, but for children like David and Danette Harmon it was the thrill of a lieftime. When he wasn't helping his sister throw suckers to the crowds, David helped his daddy drive the milk truck that pulled the Fairmont Foods float.

Margaret Schlickman's mother came from Rockford for the weekend celebrations, arriving just in time for the parade. Unfortunately for Stephen, flu kept him at home when all the fun was going on. Margaret and Gene live at 712 N. Fernandez with their four children.

Norman and Rita Wall, 936 N. Ridge, joined several of their neighbors for dinner at the Alpine House in Lake Zurich before coming back to the Grand Ball. It was a full day for Rita who rode in the Junior Woman's club float in the parade that afternoon. Son, Tommy was 9 Monday, but an infection in both ears kept him home and in bed concentrating on getting well so he could celebrate with his family Tuesday.

THE TOM PRAYS, who formerly lived at 1015 N. Harvard, moved to a new home in South Arlington Heights a month ago and Jerry and Marge Schafer moved from South Yale ave. to the above address. The Schafers have two children: Jeremy, 3½, and David, 2½.

The welcome mat is also out to Marge and Dave Stueckemann who moved to 1415 W. Oakton in September. Mr. Stueckemann teaches at Miner junior high. Bruce and Helen Nelson, who formerly lived at that address, are now in a new home in Hasbrook.

Sunday Nancy and Frank Peterson, 1409 W. Oakton, had their baby, Nancy Carol, baptized at Our Saviour Lutheran church. Helen and Bruce Nelson served as sponsors. The family dinner afterward included Nancy's parents, who came from Michigan for the occasion, as well as Frank's family, the sponsors and their daughter, Kristi.

Ridge Park welcomes the Joseph Mussachio family who moved to 709 N. Kaspar from Buffalo Grove. Timothy, 5, is a kindergartner at Ridge, while Wendy, 2, and Claudia, 8 months, help keep their mommy company at home. Mr. Mussachio is connected with Material Service corporation. The John Foersters now live in Prospect Heights, having moved from the above address.

BIRTHDAY celebrations for Nancy Urbanowicz were a day early because of the parade. Friday after school the following children came to wish her a happy "seventh" birthday: Bruce Topp, Kathy Donahue, Pamela Rosheger, Janet Mills, Kim Koehler and Nancy's brother, Joey. Sunday there was another party for Nancy, at the home of her aunt and uncle in Chicago, where plenty of cousins helped her celebrate. Nancy is the daughter of the J. F. Urbanowiczes, 803 N. Kennicott.

Saturday evening the Elmer Schmidts, 736 N. Ridge, drove into Chicago to the home of the Joseph Barrows, where a double birthday party was planned for Susan Schmidt and her uncle, Elmer Krueger, who makes his home with the Barrows. This was Susan's 18th birthday and helping her celebrate, along with her Uncle Elmer, were Susan's guest, Edward Gliot, her cousin, Karen Krueger, the Oscar Ekdahls, the Ed Mantheis and Mrs. Dorothy Freuh.

Linda Ann Cunningham was baptized Sunday afternoon in St. James church, her sister, Donna, and Wayne Heindl, serving as godparents. The family came for dinner afterward to honor Linda and to celebrate Donna's 17th birthday, October 5, and Peggy's eighth birthday, today. The Vince Cunninghams live at 802 N. Harvard.

Balloons were popping thick and fast at the Jim Polites' home, 944 N. Salem, Sunday when relatives and the Stafford Machas family came to help Jimmy celebrate his fifth birthday. After a buffet supper, Helen brought out Jimmy's pirate cake which she served with ice cream.

BACK FROM A week's trip to Wisconsin, the John F. Millers, 836 N. Ridge, are singing the praises of Door county in the fall, with the leaves turning all shades of red, yellow and brown. They stopped in Oshkosh first to pick up his cousin and her husband, the V. Boeders, who went on to Door county with them. Staying in a cabin on Lake Michigan, they explored the sights in Peninsula State park before going to Rib Mountain State park, Mellon, Wis. and Copper Falls State park.

In Mellon they had the rare opportunity of seeing the movie "Adventures of a Young Man" filmed right in town and were intrigued with the horse buggies and other props used in the filming. On the way home, they made a stopover in Antigo to visit Mrs. Miller's cousin whom she hadn't seen in 20 years.

Weekend before last Anne and Jim Christensen, 725 N. Patton, drove to Powers Lake where her sister and brother-in-law, the Robert Kings, had an end-of-the-summer party underway. Five couples left their children with babysitters and enjoyed the wonderful food Mrs. King had prepared, plus dancing and just sitting around the fireplace talking, sans children.

PLAYING hostess for Sharon Friday night, Lee Koeneman, 908 N. Fernandez, gave a miscellaneous bridal shower for Jeannie Reighard to which 30 guests were invited. Sharon will be maid-of-honor at Jeannie's wedding October 21 at St. James church, for which she will come up from the University of Louisville, where she is a sophomore.

A pre-confirmation dinner party was held at the home of the Mick Danes, 725 N. Harvard, for Curt who made his confirmation at St. James church Monday night. Curt's sponsor, Edward Rappey, and his family were guests at Curt's party.

Coffee and cake were served at the Ed Gleasons, 911 N. Princeton, Monday night after Bobby made his confirmation at St. James. His uncle, James Gleason, was his sponsor.

Saturday the Ed Merges, 834 N. Harvard, celebrated John's forthcoming confirmation at St. James when they entertained his sponsor, Hal Cates, and his family at dinner.

Celebration of Maureen Jones' confirmation Monday night was somewhat hampered with three sick youngsters at home. Mrs. Charles Blcek was Maureen's sponsor. Maureen and her family, the Charles Jones, live at 835 N. Kaspar.

At the Howard Tollefsons, 1504 Brown, Monday night they celebrated two confirmations: Paul's and Steve Lane's. Joseph Dunne was Paul's sponsor and after the service he and Kathleen joined the Tollefsons for cake, ice cream and coffee. Howard Tollefson was Steve's sponsor, so Steve and his family were also part of the post-confirmation party. Steve is the son of the Vincent Lanes, 923 N. Race.

SUNDAY THE Jerry Winters, 1015 N. Princeton, combined Donna's 10th birthday and her confirmation at St. James Monday night with a dinner party to which they invited several relatives. Donna's sponsor at her confirmation was her sister, Mary.

Michael Buechner's ninth birthday was Sunday and to celebrate the occasion aunts, uncles, cousins and his grandmother joined the family for a dinner party in his honor. Michael is the son of the Robert Buechners, 1012 N. Fernandez.

Dorothy and Ted Goebbert, 817 N. Patton, drove to Morton Grove Sunday to pick up her 85-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Mathilda Dueball, and Dorothy's aunt, Mrs. Elmer Schnur, to take them to the German speaking service at St. Peter Lutheran church. Still a communicant of St. Peter's, Mrs. Dueball enjoys the German service. The ladies had dinner with the Goebberts afterward.

Centennial and Socials Combine for Breathless Weekend

Sidelights Of Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights, Scarsdale & Estates, Stonegate
Dorothy Meyer, CL 3-2298 Elsie Jedd, CL 3-5982

Although last weekend's weather had a spring-fever potency of 100 per cent, nobody had time to indulge. High school homecoming excitement overlapped with the grand climax of the centennial, with parades, queens and dances for both events. Somehow there was still time for birthday celebrations, out-of-town visiting and dinner parties. It sounds breathless, and it was.

Dave Armstrong, 907 S. Dunton, had a birthday Monday but because brides-to-be rate more attention than 10-year-old boys, his celebration this year was comparatively small. Two uncles, his Mom's brothers, are getting married soon and Dave's Mom, grandmother and other ladies in the family are much busier than usual.

There was time, however, for a Saturday night dinner-out occasion. Dave, his folks and Uncle Glen Meyer with his fiancee, Nancy Hopp of Wheeling, had fun celebrating Dave's October 10 birthday and the October 6 birthday of his almost-aunt, Nancy. The other getting-married uncle is Dale Meyer whose birthday is October 11 but his wedding is Saturday and he didn't have time to join the dinner party.

Dinner at home Monday was like another party for Dave because a buddy, Kurt Thomson, was there to help celebrate, and later in the evening some family members popped in for cake, coffee and congratulations.

EARLY LAST month Mrs. Armstrong and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Roger Meyer, began the round of pre-nuptial parties with a variety shower given in the Armstrong home for Miss Hoppe. Some invitations read "personal shower," some read "kitchen shower" and the rest "linen" so that the resulting shower of gifts was varied rather than miscellaneous. Twenty friends and neighbors of the bride-elect and the Meyer family helped to keep the shower a surprise.

September 28 another 23 friends and relatives managed to surprise both brides-elect at a double shower given by aunts of the grooms-to-be in the home of Mrs. Herman Meyer, 420 W. Wing. Glen's fiancee, Miss Hoppe, and Dale's fiancee, Miss Roberta Dawson of Mt. Prospect, were momentary twins as they registered identical and extreme degrees of happy shock. This shower, too, was the "variety" variety and most enthusiastically endorsed by everyone. Assisting Mrs. Meyer were two other aunts of the grooms, Mrs. Walter Kroeber of Arlington Heights and Mrs. Frank Witmer of Chicago; a cousin, Mrs. William Kline of Arlington Heights and Mrs. Armstrong.

Sunday the grooms' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Meyer, 123 S. Fernandez, hosted at the bridal dinner party for Dale and Miss Dawson. Twenty-five immediate family members and intimate friends were guests at the gala occasion in the Meyer home.

Glen and Miss Hoppe will be married November 11 in the Faith Lutheran Church of Arlington Heights. Saturday's nuptials will be in the Trinity Methodist church, Mt. Prospect.

BONNIE Clausing celebrated her 11th October 11 birthday Sunday at a family dinner party for 5 in her home, 913 S. Vail. Among Bonnie's well-wishers was her grandmother, Mrs. Martha Duensing of Chicago.

Mrs. A. Whitaker of Cleveland arrived here Friday for an extended visit with her daughter and family, the Robert Allens, 131 N. Gibbons.

The Richard Weidners and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Friedrichs, 1538 N. Evergreen, recently celebrated their mutual October 5 wedding anniversary and Mrs. Friedrichs' October 2 birthday, enjoying dinner out and an evening "on the town." It was the 21st anniversary of both weddings and Mrs. Friedrichs doesn't mind if, just to keep things simple, her birthday anniversary is also listed as the 21st.

Kathy Hawley, daughter of the Richard Hawleys, 721 N. Highland was among the confirmands Monday night in the St. James Catholic Church of Arlington Heights. The occasion was commemorated Sunday at a family dinner for Kathy in the Hawley home.

LAST MONTH Kathy's big sister, Peggy, was honor guest at a farewell open house where Peggy received over 100 school friends, relatives and neighbors. She left soon after for the Benedictine convent of St. Scholastica in Chicago, which Sunday celebrates its 100th anniversary. Peggy was graduated from St. Scholastica high school and took her first year of college work at Loyola university.

Sunday is also the convent's first visiting day and Mr. and Mrs. Hawley plan to visit their daughter, enjoying, too, the day-long anniversary celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Audet, 105 N. Forrest, were hosts Sunday evening at a dinner party for 10 in their home. Their delightful after-dinner fare was fine music which they enjoyed at the community concert in Arlington high school.

Local friends and neighbors extend profound sympathy to the James Smethurst family, 820 S. Highland, in their double loss last week. Mr. Smethurst's parents were fatally injured in an automobile accident Saturday night.

MR. AND MRS. James Hahn, 919 N. Ridge, were in Notre Dame Sunday enjoying the first visiting day of the Holy Cross seminary where their son, James, recently began his first year of study for the priesthood.

A dinner Sunday for 30 members and close friends honored Larry Andres, 1145 N. Belmont, on the eve of his confirmation in the St. James Catholic Church of Arlington Heights.

Weekend visitors in the Henry Taylor home, 1201 N. Dunton, were Mr. Taylor's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Mowry of Urbana. Mr. and Mrs. Warren Schwartz, 1021 N. Dunton, recently celebrated her September 24 birthday at a family dinner in her home. It was Barbara's first birthday party and of course she had fun; however the 18 dinner guests had even more fun just watching her excitement. Among her well-wishers was Barbara's grandmother, Mrs. George Schwartz of Arlington Heights.

Janet Eileen, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, 107 S. Dwyer, was christened Sunday in Faith Lutheran church and later honored at a festive breakfast in the Brown home. It was a 4-generation celebration and included the infant's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Sander and her great-grandmother, Mrs. Dora Meyer, all of Arlington Heights.

JOHN GREER of Dallas Saturday concluded a visit here with his daughter and family, the junior William Kopplins, 410 W. Wing, and began one with his son and family, the E. B. Greers of Detroit. Mrs. Kopplin drove her father to Detroit and enjoyed a 3-day stay with the Greers before returning.

When a weary businessman returns home on his birthday from a business trip he seldom needs or wants to be reminded that he's another year older. Good friends and crazy gifts make a difference, though, and that's the happy combination that awaited Bruce Ostermick, 126 N. Forrest, when he came home Saturday from Kansas City.

A dinner party with eight neighborhood friends and gifts designed for laughs rather than beauty, provided the host with a welcome light-hearted evening.

THE SENIOR Thomas Roberts, 506 S. Chestnut, answer to "Grandpa" and "Grandma" as of Sunday when a 9½ pound daughter was born to their son and daughter-in-law, the junior Tom Roberts of Lafayette, Ind. Father Tom attends Purdue university and he and his wife, the former Julie Marwedel of Mt. Prospect, make their home on the campus.

At this writing the baby's name had not been chosen and the senior Mrs. Roberts was planning to leave today for a few days in Lafayette.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Basak 132 N. Forrest, recently returned from a week in Winter Park, Fla. where Mr. Basak attended a Martin Co. seminar and Mrs. Basak admits to relaxing so hard that she lost weight. Her mother, Mrs. Jeannette Hinkfus of Cicero, was here with the children during Mr. and Mrs. Basak's absence.

Friends and neighbors of Mrs. Henry Boi, N. State rd., Arlington Heights, will be sorry to learn of the death of her brother, Walter J. VonBergen, of Chicago. He died September 25 in Resurrection hospital.

WARREN STAHNKE, 110 S. Brighton, is recuperating at home following an emergency appendectomy last week in Northwest Community hospital.

Ralph Paxton, former Stonegate resident, stopped in Arlington Heights for a brief visit with his old Brighton place neighbors over the weekend, while enroute from New York City to his home in Vancouver, British Columbia.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carey and their six children arrive Thursday from Charlevoix, Mich., for a visit with his brother and family, the Robert W. Careys, 102 S. Derbyshire. During their stay, they will attend the Northwestern-Minnesota game in Evanston and the game Sunday in Chicago between the Bears and the Baltimore Colts.

Mrs. J. J. Brooksbank, 407 S. Windsor, is home from Miami Beach, Fla., where she had gone for a short holiday and to recuperate from her recent bout with pneumonia. She was joined by Mr. Brooksbank, who had been in Florida on business, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Green who came down from Winston Salem for a surprise visit.

MR. AND MRS. George W. Rose, 1300 Mayfair, celebrated their 27th wedding anniversary last weekend. Friday evening, they were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Robinson at the Glenview Officers club, and Saturday, they joined friends from Glenview for dinner in town, after which they attended a performance of "Bye Bye Birdie."

The Roses received word from their daughter, Marilyn, who attends the University of Arizona in Tucson, that she has pledged Phi Mu sorority.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Fairchild, 1311 Woodford, went to Danville with a group of friends for the weekend. Saturday, they attended a reception for Mrs. Isla Sommers, who became worthy matron of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gow of Bronxville, N. Y., spent the weekend in Arlington Heights visiting their son and family, the George Gows, 348 S. Wilshire.

MRS. L. NORMAN Hawkey, 310 S. Windsor, will welcome two new neighbors, Mrs. Robert Pemberton and Mrs. Richard Root, at a coffee Thursday, Oct. 12.

Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Hawkey will give a "Sweet Sixteen" party for 30 guests in honor of their daughter, Barbara's, 16th birthday.

A group of Scarsdale friends met for the fifth consecutive year, to spend the first weekend in October at the Wagon Wheel in Rockton. They are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dunham, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ostmann, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Faner, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schulze and Mr. and Mrs. John Bowen.

They were joined by two former members of the group who now live in the east, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McFaddin of Chatham, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Husty of Baltimore.

Mrs. John J. Lee, 608 S. Pine, became a grandmother for the first time with the arrival of Robert John Lee, born September 30, to her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Lee of Arlington Heights in Northwest Community hospital. Maternal grandmother is Mrs. Evelyn Donnellan of Oak Park and paternal great-grandmother is Mrs. K. Swiontek of Chicago.

MISS MAUREEN Garrity, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Garrity, 615 E. Grove, has enrolled in St. Francis hospital school of nursing in Evanston.

Jim Clabaugh came home from Coe college for the weekend to attend the homecoming and anniversary festivities in Arlington Heights. Jim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clabaugh, 510 S. Beverly.

Recent out-of-town guest of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Glow, 603 S. Belmont, was her brother, Robert Linnan of Pasadena, Cal., who stopped here for a brief visit before flying to Frankfort, Germany for a vacation.

Mrs. Glow's nephew, Fr. John Linnan, who has been visiting in Arlington Heights and the midwest for the past three months, has returned to Belgium to continue with his studies at the University of Louvain.

LT. AND MRS. A. Q. Cooke and their infant daughter, Vicki, are in Arlington Heights visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Jones, 315 E. Park. The Cookes were returning from the east and a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cooke of Rawleigh, N. C., and will stay here another week before going to their home at the Minot air force base in Minot, N. D.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Black, 436 S. Belmont, were in Ann Arbor over the weekend to attend the Michigan-Army football game. During their stay in Ann Arbor, they were house guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kempf.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Lindstrom, 745 S. Beverly, are home from a 3-week visit with two of their daughters and their families. They went to Fort Wayne first to stay with Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Finlayson and then went on to Shaker Heights, Ohio, to visit Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Osmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Banks, 722 Mayfair, will have as their houseguest this weekend, William Eckman of Westfield, N. J., who will be here to attend the National Safety Congress at the Hilton hotel. (A

TUMBLING AND TRAMPOLINE, one of the Arlington Heights park district's most popular activities for children, still has some openings at both Pioneer and Recreation parks. Youngsters interested in enrolling in the classes may phone Pioneer park, CL 3-0620, or Recreation park, CL 5-8850, or stop in at either location. Students are being shown fundamentals by park instructor in above photo.

Notes from Arlington Acres

Marie Marshall CLearbrook 5-2936

Arlington Acres Civic association is coming back down to earth after its float won the grand award as well as first prize in civic group. Members of the float committee who devoted countless hours to the project attended a pre-grand ball cocktail party at the home of the chairman, Al May, 509 S. Prindle. Guests included the Roy Stoehrs, Stan Fletchers and the Frank Marshalls.

After the party the group proceeded to the race track where they were joined by the L. Q. Yowells, John Lynches and the Gust Hermansons.

Pamela, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kunz, 505 S. Forrest, was 9 October 5, but celebrated the event Sunday. Guests at the party were Marcia Longrie, Kathy Mallow, Pam Wiedl, Polly Pipkin, Susan Mader, Elizabeth Obuchowski, Greta Hermanson, Anitra Lindquist and Pam's sisters, Sandra and Deborah, as well as her brother, Mark.

MR. AND MRS. John Lynch, 433 S. Forrest, have as house guests for several days, Mr. and Mrs. DeFroe Tossey of Dayton. The Tosseys, old friends, are accompanied by their children, Stephen and Mary Lou.

Mark Hermanson's fourth birthday, Oct. 7, was celebrated at a party Monday. Mark requested green icing on his cake and chose pin-the-tail-on-the-donkey as one of the games. Prizes were awarded to all guests who were Mark Longrie, Lisa Swenson, David and Peter Schuck and Laura, Tommy and Kathy Niesen. Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Hermanson, 437 S. Forrest.

A visitor to the James Glynn home, 2123 E. Grove, last week was Mr. Glynn's father, James Glynn of Reno, Nev., who came here after spending a week with another son at Vienna, Va., and enjoyed all the events included in the town celebration.

Another Arlington Acres family entertaining parents is the Mark Roos family, 2124 E. Park. Mrs. Roos' mother and father, the Herbert Credes of Baltimore, are spending a few weeks here. Nothing specific is planned as both families are looking forward to catching up on family talk and just plain visiting.

MRS. LYNN LEMONS, 504 S. Prindle, had as a luncheon guest Tuesday, Miss Ethel Graff of Evanston, a consultant with D. C. Heath Text Book company and an associate of Mr. Lemons.

Sunday dinner guests at the Lemons home were Mr. and Mrs. Clint Parrott of Irving Park and the Wendell Swenson family of S. Forrest. After dinner the group took advantage of the perfect weather and drove to the forest preserve, where they climaxed the day with a weenie roast.

Miss Susan Marshall, daughter of the Frank Marshalls, 432 S. Forrest, a student at NU, spent the weekend at the home of a college friend, Miss Sue Hickman of Catlin, Ill. The girls attended the Northwestern-Illinois game and returned to Evanston Sunday evening after a busy weekend.

Another spectator at the game was Miss Jan May, coed daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al May, 509 S. Prindle, who drove to Champaign from Valparaiso.

40 Seniors Are Honored for National Merit Test Scores

Fourteen seniors at Arlington high school and 26 seniors at Prospect high school have been honored for their high performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying test given last spring.

Each of the students who is endorsed by his school will receive a formal letter of commendation signed by his principal and the president of the National Merit Scholarship corporation.

Five other students were actually semi-finalists in the qualifying exam as reported by the Herald in a previous story. These five students, two from Prospect high school and three from Arlington high school, will move on in the competition for 4-year scholarships.

DR. EUGENE Oliver, principal of Arlington high, and Mr. Alvin Kulieke, principal of Prospect, recently announced the names of the scholars.

The 40 scholars from the two schools are among 25,000 competitors throughout the United States who are being awarded letters of commendation.

John M. Stalnaker, president of the scholarship corporation explained that "while these bright students did not reach the status of semifinalists in the 1961-62 program, they are so capable that we wish to single them out for special attention."

The semifinalists and commended students together constitute less than two per cent of all high school seniors. The National Merit Scholarship corporation gives recognition to two groups of students who achieve high scores on the NMSQT.

The semifinalist group is composed of the highest scoring students in each state and in U.S. territories. Some 10,000 semifinalists will take a second examination in December to establish further their eligibility to receive Merit scholarships.

THE LETTERS of commendation provide tangible evidence of the commended students' high ability. The letters will also be sent to the two colleges of the students' choice.

The Merit program has several objectives. One is the selection of Merit scholars. However, it is also established for the fostering of excellence among all students whose high performance indicates great promise.

Stalnaker urged all commended students to make every effort to attend college, and to develop to its fullest their promise of achievement.

More than 15,000 high schools participated in the test administered in March of last year. The test is a three-hour long examination that covers five separate areas of educational development.

THE COMMENDED students and the semifinalists who do not win Merit scholarships are considered for certain other scholarships that are offered through the facilities of the National Merit Scholarship corporation.

Currently there are 3300 Merit scholars who are enrolled in the nation's colleges and universities. Almost 1200 scholars have been graduated since the program began seven years ago.

Scholarship awards are made from the resources of the corporation and through the sponsoring business corporations, foundations, associations, and individuals.

THE STUDENTS cited for commendation from Arlington high school are:

Kathleen A. Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker, 19 N. Pine, Arlington Heights; Robert L. Bohac, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Bohac, 2209 Heron ct., Rolling Meadows; and Beverly J. Bycroft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Bycroft, 2300 George st., Rolling Meadows.

Others are William Decherd, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Dechard, 1241 N. Mitchell, Arlington Heights; Peter L. Dougan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dougan, 1103 Euclid st., Arlington Heights; Georgene Marion Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hall, 837 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights; and James R. Hosek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hosek, 219 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights.

Also Mike Hruby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Hruby, 618 W. Campbell, Arlington Heights; Linda L. Krueger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Krueger, 735 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights; and Judith A. Kuhlman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Kuhlman, 747 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights.

INCLUDED ARE Robert B. Laughlin, son of the Rowland Laughlins, 635 S. Pine, Arlington Heights; Caroline V. Neas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Neas, 201 N. Brighton, Arlington Heights; and Robert B. Sauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sauer, 1215 Watling rd., Arlington Heights.

Also Robert L. Sielken Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Sielken, 621 E. Grove st., Arlington Heights; and Eric Vittinghoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Vittinghoff, 623 N. Douglas, Arlington Heights.

Commended students from Prospect high include Kathryn A. Blanks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Blanks, 701 W. Sunset st., Mt. Prospect; Barbara Baughman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Baughman, 15 N. Forrest ave., Arlington Heights; and Lynn C. Cooney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Cooney, 912 Country ln., Mt. Prospect.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

The Wah-Wah-Tay-See Camp Fire group spent an overnight at Camp Reinberg September 29 and 30 to fulfill a requirement for firemaker's rank. The group, headed by Mrs. David Whiteside, went in private cars to the camp to spend two days. They cooked all their meals and made taffy apples.

Hiking was a sport they enjoyed along with singing and playing games. During one of their meals even the animals on the farm joined them. Patrice Eisentraut had a donkey join her for lunch. Mrs. Carl Eisentraut, co-guardian, also joined the group which includes Patrice Eisentraut, Mary Beth Gustafson, Laura Heiden, Christine Oberlin, Bonnie Overton, Carol Samp, Cheryl White and Gail Whiteside.

THE DISTRICT committee reminds Blue Birds of the picnic scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 14, at Busse Woods. Chief White Eagle of TV's Totem club show will be on the program. The picnic will begin at 4 p.m., Chief White Eagle at 4:30, and following will be the candlelighting ceremony.

In case of rain the picnic will be held at Pioneer Park; the picnic itself will be canceled but the program will be held.

MT. PROSPECT

So far this fall, Mt. Prospect's Camp Fire organization has added two new groups of girls to its roster.

One, of Blue Birds, is composed of eight 7-year-old second graders from Fairview school. They are known as the Busy Blue Birds and meet every Tuesday after school hours at the home of their leader, Mrs. Leo Floros. Their coleader is Mrs. William Corotis.

October 19, the group is planning to visit the Sugar Bowl Sweet shop restaurant in Des Plaines. They hope to watch the creation of candies anl the whipping of ice cream.

BUSY BLUE BIRDS are: Jane Armenakis, Julie Baxter, Peggy Corotis, Terry Horwath, Jeri Sue Jacobsen, Carol Floros, Elaine Poczatek and Gail Spear.

The second group, of Camp Fire girls, is composed of 10 fifth graders who began their meetings September 14, at which time they selected their name, ToLeLoSo. At present the leaders are Mrs. Ruth Perkins and Mrs. Virginia Wallies and the girls are sponsored by Mrs. Elaine Busse.

September 21, the members, Marcia Bjornseth, Karen Burkhardt, Pamela Carlson, Diane King, Peggy Krettler, Patricia Perkins, Gail Plagge, Roberta Reithal, Becky Wallies and Kathy Wiener, met at the home of Mrs. Burkhardt where they went over memory books and set plans for a sponsor's party the following week. This party was held at Mrs. Busse's home in Barrington. (B9

Arlington's Zoning Law Under Study

A special committee is continuing its study of the Arlington Heights zoning ordinance this month, with an eye to possible revision of the ordinance.

The committee was appointed last month by Harold E. Carlson, chairman of the village plan commission. Chairman of the committee is Charles S. Catlin, a member of the plan commission and an architect.

OTHER MEMBERS of the specal committee are Matt Brost, plan commission member Leo Mueller, and Harold Klingner, president of the board of local improvements.

The committee is working closely with Eugene Baughman, village plan consultant, and in particular is studying an "area development" plan and the parking facilities problem.

The present zoning ordinance was adopted Dec. 1, 1959. (A

Scouts to Wash Cars Saturday

Boy Scout troop 159, Arlington Heights, is sponsoring a car wash Saturday from 1 to 5 p.m. in the parking lot at St. Simon Episcopal church, 717 W. Kirchoff rd.

The car wash is being conducted to raise camping funds for the newly reorganized troop. Any sized car will be washed for 99 cents. (A

The Lutherans
View the state as an order of creation and instituted by God.
This conviction grows out of St. Paul's statement, "The powers that be are ordained by God."
Hence, the state is a part of —or an order of—creation.
This does not make the state divine or perfect. Rather, just as man—who is created by God—falls short of perfection, so the state will fall short of perfection.
The state is sinful. Nevertheless, it is to administer justice for the sake of the individual.
Your nearby Lutheran church invites you to worship next Sunday.

A "GET-ACQUAINTED" MIXER for parents and students of St. Patrick academy, Des Plaines, has been planned by a parents committee for Tuesday, Oct. 17, at 8 p. m. at the school. A special program and refreshments are set for the evening. Helping their mothers with publicity for the event are Gloria Goleas and Suzy Rokos. The girls are busy putting up posters in the school to remind students to bring their parents out for the Tuesday event.

Arlington Acres

New Civic Group Cops Float Championship

When the Arlington Acres Civic association entered a float in the village's 125th anniversary celebration parade, its members said they were determined to capture the grand prize.

They did.

The association's float was judged top entry in the "civic" category, as well as grand award winner in the parade held last Saturday. As prizes, the association will receive a $100 check and an electric clock.

THE FLOAT depicted the life and costumes of 1836, centered around a log cabin, present day costumes and the Nike base, and space suit clad men of the future.

Arlington Market association, with a modernistic float adorned by the four winners of the Miss Arlington Heights contest, captured top prize in the "commercial" division, and placed second in the grand award judging.

A $50 savings bond went to the Arlington Heights Nurses club for placing second in the civic judging. The club's float depicted a big bed with a man lying on it, his leg in a cast and elevated in a traction splint.

THIRD PRIZE in the civic division, a $25 savings bond, went to St. Peter's Lutheran Laymen's league, which entered a replica of their new church.

Third place in the grand award judging went to Sylvia's flowers, which also captured second place in the commercial division. The float was a wedding scene, with real flowers used to decorate the float and fashion the scene.

Third place in the commercial division was won by Granny's Griddle Cakes with a horsedrawn wagon on which was depicted a scene in an oldtime kitchen with granny cooking cakes on an old stove, and children crowding around and gobbling them up.

IN THE MARCHING unit judging, the top award went to the Kilties, a Veterans of Foreign Wars unit from Wisconsin. Second place was awarded the St. Charles band, and third place winner was the Prospect high school band.

Water Plight Delays Completion of School

Water, water, everywhere — and how to get rid of it — has become the major stumbling block in the construction and opening of the new Forest View high school south of Arlington Heights.

After more than a year of seeking water, sanitary sewers and storm drainage for the school site, located in an unincorporated area without regular utilities available, the school board suddenly has several offers for cooperation in providing utility facilities.

Builder - developer Sal DiMucci has offered to provide water, storm drainage and sanitary sewers to the school site "with no strings attached." This proposal would run the lines through his projected subdivision development on the west side of Busse rd. between Algonquin and Golf rds.

IN A MEETING with Arlington Heights village representatives the high school building committee and administration discussed inclusion of the school area in the comprehensive drainage and sewer planning now under consideration by the village.

Arlington - Prospect high school district 214 is under contract with the village to provide water to the new school. A water line is being run from the new village well on State rd. south of Central at a cost to the village and the school district of $37,500 each. Village Manager L. A. Hanson reported at the joint meeting the water-line work was progressing well and should be completed within a month.

Village Engineer Norman Toberman estimated plans for the new school area storm drainage and sanitary sewers would be "roughed out" in ten days from the joint meeting held October 4. As soon as these plans are available a second meeting of the two groups is to be set. These plans will be brought to the full high school and village boards for consideration, and, if approved, work will be started.

SANITARY SEWER facilities for the school could be provided through a cooperative plan with property owners in the school area. Preliminary negotiations on this plan have been held with home owners by the school district.

Storm water drainage under these negotiations is still up in the air.

The DiMucci offer would run sanitary sewers to his proposed subdivision which lies along the main Chicago Metropolitan sanitary district trunk sewer line. Storm water drainage would run through the proposed subdivision, north of Golf rd. through additional property owned by DiMucci to connect to the storm drainage sewers of Colonial Heights. This drainage runs into Weller creek.

TO DATE, the county board has not approved the proposed DiMucci subdivision tract of 145 acres which includes small size lots of about 7,000 square feet. The county zoning board has recommended the rezoning be denied.

Both Mount Prospect and Elk Grove Village, as well as the Elk Ridge Home Owners association, are on record with the county as objecting to the proposed subdivision.

Whether the high school use of sewer and water would change the rezoning question is an unknown factor.

DiMucci indicated he is interested in the utility proposal only if it includes water, storm and sanitary drainage. DiMucci has offered to purchase the village - school water line, if necessary, to enable the school to purchase water from his utility company.

SCHOOL BOARD members were firm in their stand that entering into discussion with DiMucci would not commit the school to any action.

Members expressed opinions that the DiMucci proposal should be investigated. If it proved desirable from both a legal and practical view, a contract could be considered, they said.

General contractor for the Forest View school, E. W. Sproul Construction company, has indicated water will be needed by the middle of October at the school in order to maintain building schedules. The school is slated to open next September.

A shallow well for early building construction use and eventual sprinkling has been drilled on the school property. A pump is available for providing water to the building during construction, but this plan might present problems with freezing of hose lines during the winter. One school board member termed this well and pump for w their "ace in the hole."

ARLINGTON - Prospect high school district 214 is building Forest View high school as its school. The district includes the third school. The district includes the massive Wheeling - Elk Grove township area running from Lake county on the north to DuPage county on the south.

The school is located northeast of State and Algonquin rds. on Goebbert rd. (AF

Humorist To Entertain Woman's Guild

Lillian Brodahl Smith, humorist, will entertain members of St. James Catholic Woman's guild at their October 19 meeting. Miss Smith will present a group of original character sketches, including monologues in Norwegian dialect that portray women in everyday situations.

Miss Smith, a native of Chicago, studied voice and drama at the American Conservatory and Chicago Musical college. She has played in summer stock and has appeared throughout the mddle west as a mono dramatist.

Members and newcomers are invited to the meeting which will be held at 8:15 p.m. in the school hall, Arlington Heights. (A

Lutheran Teachers Parley Staged Here

An estimated 700 Lutheran teachers will attend a teachers conference today (Thursday) and tomorrow in Arlington Heights at St. Peter Lutheran church and school.

The two-day Northern Illinois District Teachers Conference of the Lutheran church—Missouri Synod, will be guided by Robet Greising, principal of St. Andrew Lutheran school, Park Ridge. Hosts are the Rev. R. O. Bartz and principal E. R. Spletzer of Arlington Heights.

CURRENT problems facing the educational world will be discussed by various pioneers and leaders in the educational field.

Alfred Schmieding, professor emeritus of Concordia teachers college, River Forest, will present "Meeting Children's Emotional Needs." Schmieding will present the theory of and offer specific proposals on a child's needs in relation to social pressure and the demands of his parents.

The Concordia educator is active currently in Dyslexia Institute and in writing and editing, and is the author of many texts widely used and consulted today.

"The Upgraded Primary School" will be presented by Florence Kelley, nationally famous pioneer in the study and development of this program. Her presentation will emphasize the objectives, structure and mechanics of the upgraded school, coupled with a progress report of its acceptance and its successors.

She has authored many articles on the subject and is a prime mover in the Milwaukee public school system, where she presently holds the position of director of the division of primary curriculum and instruction.

THE PRACTICAL problems of measurements, grading, and reporting will be projected by Arthur Oestreich in his talk "Evaluating Pupil Growth."

Oestreich is a Lutheran who has risen through the ranks in the public school system from teacher, to superintendent, to college professor. He recently was superintendent of schools in Northbrook, Ill., and early this year accepted appointment to the faculty of Indiana University as director of the division of university schools, Bloomington. He has served on the summer faculty of Northwestern university for the past 10 years.

Mrs. Lois Lohmann will discuss "Creativity in the Kindergarten," stressing the values of creative teaching from the religious and secular points of view. Her talk is designed to stimulate kindergarten teachers to new approaches, techniques and vistas.

Mrs. Lohmann is kindergarten teacher at St. John Lutheran school, Forest Park, and a contributor to "Lutheran Education," professional journal for schools of the Lutheran church.

THE PURPOSE and nature of the talk, "A Teacher Builds Attitudes," by the Rev. Dr. Addalbert R. Kretzmann, will be inspirational, and developed on the principles of the scriptures. The talk will concern the types of attitudes a student assumes because of his teacher—attitudes toward God, attitudes toward worship, attitudes toward peers, attitudes toward authority, and so on.

The Rev. Dr. Kretzmann is pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of St. Luke, Chicago, one of the oldest and largest churches in the Chicago area. He has distinguished himself as an educator in Lutheran colleges, and internationally in the arts. He is a prolific author for Lutheran periodicals in the fields of art and architecture.

A. H. Kramer, superintendent of Christian education for the Northern Illinois district, will present a critical analysis in "The Lutheran School in the Context of American Education."

KRAMER WAS a representative of the Illinois State Board of the 1961 Golden Anniversary Conference on Children and Youth, and is chairman of the conference of educational executives of the Lutheran church—Missouri synod.

The final paper will be "Contemporary Issues and Trends in Christian Education," by Victor Krause. The trend in American education has caused something of a sensation in recent years, and Krause will pursue some of the issues and reflect upon them, basing his comments on his own experience and reading.

Krause has served as both a teacher and administrator in Lutheran schools. His position as professor and chairman of the division of education and psychology at Concordia Teachers College, River Forest, together with his position on the Missouri synod's board of parish education, have kept his mind tuned to the pulse of the educational scene.

Krause also is psychological consultant and research director of the Dyslexia Memorial Institute of Chicago. He currently is completing work on a 1962 publication titled "Lutheran Elementary Schools in Action."

THE CONVENTION will begin today with an opening service at 9:30 a.m. which will have a double purpose of rendering an inspirational beginning to the conference and commemorating the 40 years that Kramer has devoted to Christian education.

The sermon, "Master—Say On!" will be given by the Rev. Theodore Nickel, D.D., president of the Northern Illinois district. The Rev. Robert O. Bartz will serve as liturgist for the service, and as preacher for the second day service.

Organist will be Donald Hermann, of St. Peter Lutheran church. The Luther high school choir will be under the direction of Gerhardt Schroth, school music director. (ACM

Dart Play Slated at Park Here

Playing baseball with darts can be fun and fascinating.

This is a new activity the Arlington Heights park district is organizing, Recreation Director Bill Appleby said this week.

Players may sign up a team or register as individuals by calling CL 3-0620. Leagues and teams will be formed as soon as sufficient interest has been shown, Appleby noted.

Play is scheduled at Recreation park fieldhouse on Mondays or Thursdays. (A

Arlington Is Lagging In Agencies' Support

Communities throughout the northwest suburbs are forging ahead in providing for a mental health clinic and in support of Northwest Family Service—with the exception of Arlington Heights.

An attempt is being made to reorganize the Arlington Heights chapter of the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health association following the resignation of four members, two of whom were officers.

MRS. JANET LINTNER, who will serve as temporary chairman of the Arlington Heights chapter, said a meeting has been called for Wednesday, Oct. 18, at the Pioneer Park fieldhouse to reorganize the chapter. "Any interested person is invited to attend," she pointed out.

Mrs. Lintner said the Arlington Heights Junior Woman's club has made the first donation to the proposed clinic. Mrs. Carol Allison of Hoffman Estates, president of the mental health association, expressed confidence that an Arlington Heights solicitation will still be successful.

She further reported that a donation has already been pledged from 84 families in the Sherwood subdivision of Arlington Heights.

Arlington Heights is also without the services of Northwest Family Service, the social counseling agency whose work complements that of a mental health clinic.

THE GRAND charity ball staged recently at the Arlington Park jockey club failed to net enough funds to permit extension of the family counseling agency's services for this year.

Palatine is also not serviced at present, but its residents will be extended this service again at the first of the year after the conducting of a combined appeal which will include provision for Family Service.

Mount Prospect and Des Plaines, the two other communities served by Family Service, both allowed for the agency in combined fund appeals.

In fact, Family Service is in the best financial health of its existence. All but 10 per cent has been allocated to provide for two social workers, a director, secretary and additional office space, with its budget twice what it has been in the past, amounting to approximately $24,000.

ARLINGTON Heights will be buoyed up somewhat, however, by the decision of the Arlington Heights Woman's club to assume Family Service as a project next year, but additional support will be needed.

Failure of the Arlington Heights mental health chapter to coordinate its fund appeal with the six other communities which will be served by the mental health clinic was due primarily to the resignation action.

Those who resigned include Mrs. Herbert C. Wood, president; Mrs. John Seestedt, vice-president, and her husband; and Lewis D. Gregg, who had expressed criticism over inadequate organization preceding the fund drive.

Mrs. Allison, however, said that Mrs. Wood was still willing to work for the chapter, and that her husband still serves on the public relations committee. Mrs. Allison blamed the partial dissolvement of the Arlington Heights chapter on its organization being "more of a neighborhood effort than community effort," noting that many of the members lived within walking distance of each other.

The association president reported that fund drives in other communities were being greeted with success. Hoffman Estates has collected $2,240; Elk Grove Village has raised $1,813 and has yet to appeal to local industries; Wheeling has secured over $1,700; Mount Prospect is conducting a tag day on Friday, Oct. 13, and a cocktail dance on Sunday, Oct. 15, in addition to being assured of some support from a contingency fund of a combined appeal. Rolling Meadows is conducting its solicitation drive now, and Palatine will complete its appeal by Oct. 21.

MRS. ALLISON said a presentation will be made by the association to the Illinois Department of Public Welfare Oct. 27. The state is being approached to secure two-thirds in finances over the total amount raised by the seven communities, as is the case in the establishment of state mental health clinics.

Rev. John P. Petersen, pastor of Our Saviors Lutheran church in Arlington Heights, who has been active in both Family Service and the mental health clinic work, commented: "We seem to give enough to the polio drive, Red Cross and other appeals. But for a need in our home town, there doesn't seem to be any awareness of this need.

"We face people every day who need professional help, but there are no resources to which to refer them." (ACM

Police Ban 'Smutty' Book

Suburb Chief Gives Order

by JIM DAVIES

Police Chief George Whittenberg of Mt. Prospect heard recently that Henry Miller's noval, "Tropic of Cancer," was smut, and decided he agreed.

As a result, the book in its paperback edition was banned this week from northwest suburbs.

In Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, Palatine, Des Plaines, Park Ridge, Lincolnwood, and most other northwest suburbs, the book has been taken from newsstands, or else not accepted when delivery by the distributor was attempted.

WHITTENBERG called the novel "pure smut," and said he had heard of it at an international convention of police chiefs in Montreal. Asked this week if police officials had been told it was smut, Whittenberg said, "No, we were just told what was in it."

When Whittenberg returned to Mt. Prospect, he watched for attempted distribution of the book and called police officials in neighboring communities to warn them against it.

In most cases, the book never reached the stands. Police called on retail outlets and the dealers cooperated in banning sale of the novel.

IN ARLINGTON Heights, however, the book already had reached the stands before police intervened. One concerned father of a teenage youth said his son came home with the book, which he had bought at a local newsstand.

He said his boy had heard about the book—and certain passages in it which the father "hesitated to describe"—from other students at school.

Situations such as this are what police say they are trying to prevent by keeping the book off the stands.

Chief Whittenberg said he and other departments are enforcing the villages' anti-smut ordinances. When asked who decides what is smut, Chief Whittenberg said, "I do."

He also said he has other books on his list, and will act to prevent their sale in Mt. Prospect. He declined to cite them, even in confidence, and did not say whether he had read any of them.

ONE SUBURBAN officer who had acted to prevent distribution of the book admitted he had not read it, but carried a copy inside his shirt and could point out particularly "filthy" passages.

"This isn't the type of stuff we want kids reading," he said.

Most people would agree.

The much-publicized book is a lengthy and sometimes weary account of the author's awakening at the age of 39 to the disturbing thought that he had accomplished, seen, and done nothing with his life.

As a result, he breaks all ties, journeys to Paris, and engages in all the pleasures of the flesh and of the mind. Many of these pleasures are concerned with sexual relationships described in detail. One critic has said "There are so many four-letter words that they become tedious."

Other pleasures described, however, concern such things as his inner feeling when attending a concert. These, probably, are not the passages most widely read by teenagers.

In Arlington Heights, Lt. Thomas Vidrick said the book definitely is smutty and should not be allowed to fall in the hands of youths. In contrast to Whittenberg's opinion, Vidrick said that probably adults could read the book without ill effects. Whittenberg said nobody should read it.

IN PALATINE, Police Chief Donald Foxworthy said he was able to prevent distribution of the novel in his community. He said he takes similar action on any book on which he "gets the word."

In this case, the word came from Whittenberg. In other instances it comes from volunteer citizen groups. (AF

ARLINGTON HIGH'S MARCHING BAND led the school's Homecoming parade which drew a large crowd of spectators Friday afternoon. Defeat of LaGrange, 14-13, capped the celebration.

Anglers Busy Trying Luck

Arlington Heights youngsters, and adults too, have been flocking to Recreation park to try their luck at catching some of the trout lurking in the unfamiliar depths of the park swimming pool.

It's all part of the unique program of the Arlington Heights Park District in which the pool is stocked with fish at the conclusion of the swimming season.

The "fishing season" at the pool began last weekend and will continue through October 29. During the first three days it was in operation—Saturday, Sunday and Monday night, 342 youngsters paid the 25-cent admission fee, and 61 adults the 50-cent admission fee. They caught 123 fish, averaging about three-fourths pound.

THE BIGGEST catch was a two-pound trout, but there's a three-pounder known to be in the pool, which will be restocked before this weekend.

The pool is open to the public for fishing Monday thru Friday, 7 to 9 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. The nominal fee charged entitles the angler to a half-hour of fishing, or one catch.

During weekday afternoons, a special program is in effect. Adults may fish between 1 and 5 p.m. without paying any admission charge. They will pay only for the fish they catch, assessed at the rate of $1.40 per pound.

On regular hours, no fly casting is allowed. It is permitted, however, during the special "adult only" weekday program.

Poles and bait are available at the park, or anglers may bring their own. (ACM

Little Dog Lost

Plight of Peppy Stirs Community

Somewhere in the Arlington Heights area there is a lost, bewildered and very frightened little white poodle.

Almost three weeks have passed and Peppy is still wandering aimlessly in search of his home with the Walter Bowman family at 908 S. Evergreen. But the odds are against Peppy for he never had a chance to become acquainted with the Bowmans. He disappeared the same day he came to live with them.

IN HIS SEARCH for food and water and shelter from the cold autumn nights, Peppy has been seen by many, but in his fright and confusion, he unwittingly evades those who are trying to help him. In his little puppy mind he can't understand how life has suddenly become so cruel.

Residents of S. Dunton st. have left bowls of food and water for him. Construction workers at Sigwalt and Dunton have reported seeing him. A "posse" nearly caught him near the police station. Cold, hungry and dirty, he has also been seen foraging for food near the National Tea store. Motorists have reported seeing him trotting in S. State rd. near Scarsdale and on Campbell ave. toward Wilke.

And Peppy recognizes the uniform of Arlington's animal welfare officer, Gene Korn, who must now enlist the aid of children in trying to catch the elusive toy poodle.

THE BOWMANS, who have just moved to their new home on S. Evergreen, are, of course, offering a reward for Peppy's return. "He's not used to roughing it," said Mrs. Bowman, "and he must be tired and getting very thin. He's really still a pup and he needs us."

Other dog lovers, worried about Peppy's well-being, have "upped" the reward money offered by the Bowmans.

During the days, the Bowmans will gratefully accept any information on Peppy's whereabouts at CL 3-9660. Evenings, they can be reached at 259-1174.

Officer Korn will also appreciate information on Peppy's whereabouts. Said Korn, "Next time we get a call, we have a 'secret weapon' we are going to use to try and catch him.

The dog is most distrustful of people, but it would be very helpful if someone could corner him in a garage or other enclosure by using meat or other food," added Korn. (AK

Study Cites Need For Restaurants

"MAYBE WE CAN CATCH HIM, MOMMY," hopes 7-year-old Shelley Sutton of Arlington Heights as she places bowl of food outdoors for little lost poodle. Shelley is one of many residents who have been placing bowls of food and water to "trap" Peppy, the bewildered and frightened little dog that, for weeks, has been searching vainly for his home. Peppy's owner, who is offering a reward, hopes that someone will be able to corner the wary little dog in a garage or other enclosure.

Need for more restaurants in the village was a preliminary finding of an Arlington Heights Jaycee survey of residents which now is in its final phase of processing.

The community development survey was distributed by the Jaycees to village residents to determine what they believe are the key needs of the village.

EARLY THIS wek, Jaycee members began key-punching individual responses to the questions. When this process is completed, the results will be published, according to Jan Behrens, Jaycee spokesman.

From numerous responses, it appears people feel the need for more restaurants in Arlington Heights.

Response to another question indicates that virtually everyone feels the present parks should remain parks, even though, prior to the survey, decisions had been made to eliminate some.

BY USING the results of the survey to establish long term goals and projects, the Jaycees believe they will best be able to contribute to the betterment of the community, Behrens said.

Community development is the prime project of the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce. Completion of the survey is the first step toward this goal.

Similar surveys have been conducted in thousands of communities throughout the country, and numerous projects have been completed by the Jaycees as a result.

3 Teens Injured

Itasca Couple Killed In Two-Car Collision

Two northwest suburbanites were killed and three teen girls injured in a two-car crash on Illinois 58 at Bartlett road.

The accident, which occurred a mile east of Illinois 59 at 6:15 p.m. on Oct. 6, happened, according to state police, because a motorist disobeyed a stop sign.

Donald H. Smethurst, 65, of 320 N. Linden, Itasca, was traveling north at the time of the mishap. Traveling east on Illinois 58 was Marilyn M. Nelson, 16, of Elgin.

WHEN Smethurst disobeyed the stop sign, police said the Nelson car struck his. Both the first motorist and a passenger, his wife, Adeline Smethurst, 56, were taken to Sherman hospital, where they were pronounced dead.

In the second vehicle, the driver and Marilynne J. Sorn, 16, and Kay V. Fish, also of Elgin, were injured and taken to the Sherman hospital.

Damage to the left side of the first car was listed as $1500, and the front of the second car was demolished, with damage estimated at $2000.

In a second accident at 8:15 p.m. on Oct. 3, Joyce D. Anzolone, 26, of 429 S. Plum Grove, Palatine, was injured.

STATE police said her car swerved off the roadway, and, in attempting to get back on the road she lost control of the wheel, her car crossed the road, struck a boulder, a telephone pole and rolled over.

The injured woman was taken to Northwest Community hospital. Damage to her car was total, to the telephone pole, $300, and to the lawn and shrubbery of John Slisz, Route 3, Box 221, Palatine, $100.

In a third accident, on Illinois 19, a mile west of U. S. 45 at 11:15 p.m. on Oct. 3, William Heideman, 26, of 25W170 Argyle, Roselle, attempted to cross the center of the road.

In so doing, his car met the vehicle driven by Howard E. Laun, 38, of 2321 Barry, sideswiping it and Heideman's car was spun around facing the opposite direction.

BOTH injured men were taken to Elmhurst hospital. Damage to both cars was listed as $1000 each. Heideman was charged with driving on the wrong side of the highway.

"Following too closely" was the charge leveled by state police in a two-car accident on Illinois 62 at Barrington, about two miles east of Illinois 59.

The accident occurred at 11:20 p.m. on Oct. 7.

Orville Senne, 41, of 108 S. Highland, Arlington Heights, stopped for a stop sign, and the car, driven by Emery Vozdecky, 38, of 516 Hickory, Algonquin, following too closely, struck Senne's car in the rear.

VOZDECKY was injured. Also injured was a passenger in the first car, Lillian Senne, 41. Both were taken to Sherman hospital. Not injured in the first car were: Dixie Lee Senne, 11, and her sister, Bonnie Lou, 6, and Viola Kahler, 49.

Damage to the first car was $300; to the second, $400. Vozdecky was charged with the complaint. (A -14

Area Motorists Face Penalties

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier announced recently the revocation of 264 and the suspension of 699 drivers licenses, chauffeurs' licenses and driving privileges based on local court convictions and police reports.

In addition, 253 persons whose licenses were suspended earlier and who did not have more than a total point accumulation of 62 points have been granted probationary permits to operate a motor vehicle.

AMONG AREA residents receiving revocations was Guillermo Lozano, 2400 Busse rd., Arlington Heights, for permitting the fraudulent use of his license.

William J. Hankley, 724 N. Hickory, Arlington Heights, had his privileges suspended when he was convicted of his third moving offense.

Also receiving suspensions for like reasons were Kyle E. Hultz, 720 Eastman dr., Mount Prospect; Lawrence W. Huening, 270 Woodland drive, Mount Prospect; Fred Malachowski, 310 Meadow ln., Mount Prospect; William R. McMillan, 409 S. Main st., Mount Prospect; Edward J. Sindles, 788 Hicks rd., Palatine; James H. Giordano, 115 W. Lake st., Bloomingdale; and Erwin R. Schirmer Jr., 414 York rd., Bensenville.

Nick Vianakos, 15 W. 536 rd., Oak, Bensenville; Robert Taylor, Country Club, Itasca; and Roy J. Benway, 5335 rte. 83, Elmhurst.

PROBATIONARY permits were issued to Wallace T. Adams, 1221 N. Walnut st., Arlington Heights; Thomas H. Haase, E. Columbine, Palatine; Ronald L. Isaacson, 50 E. Hintz rd., Wheeling; Dorothy H. Peterson, 642 E. Golf rd., Arlington Heights; James D. Van Hoosier, 52 N. Plum Grove, Palatine; George G. Ward, 1536 N. Kaspar ave., Arlington Heights; Sam Lee, 434 S. Sen. Graham for Equitable Remap

State Sen. John A. Graham (R., Barrington) this week told Paddock Publications he will continue to maintain his position for "fair and equitable" reapportionment of Illinois' 25 congressional districts.

Graham, chairman of the Senate committee on reapportionment, said: "I want to assure all citizens of the suburbs that we—elected Republican legislators—are not about to buckle under to the demands of Chicago's mayor."

He repeated his interest in remapping the state, but emphasized it cannot be done without state Democratic leaders first conceding to the consolidation of two districts in Chicago and to the establishment of a district composed of Lake, McHenry and Boone counties.

Because the state's population has not grown proportionately with other states, Illinois' congressional districts must be cut from 25 to 24.

If a reapportionment agreement cannot be worked out in the current special session of the legislature, an at-large (running state-wide) election will be held in April, 1962.

Graham, of the 3rd senatorial district, last week was elected chairman of the state prisons and paroles commission, a sub-committee of the Institutional Visitations committee. (B8

Mt. Prospect Home Bureau Opens Season

Mt. Prospect Home Bureau started its fall program with a meeting on September 20 at the home of Mrs. Walter Hottes, who was assisted by Mrs. Mildred Anderson. This was a double feature lesson given by Mrs. Claradehl Upham on "You and Heredity" followed by "You and Your Future." Visitors included Caroline Wolfarth, Anna Schaffert, Dean Drake, Dee Skaar and Sylvia Houston.

The October meeting will be held at Lions Park field house at 10 a.m., consisting of Christmas craft items for gifts, holiday garments and other ideas. Hostesses will be Martha Maxwell and Selma Sporleder.

THERE WILL BE a beehive on October 25 for additional or unfinished work at the home of Mrs. Maxwell.

August was vacation month. In July Mrs. Dorothy Lockhart invited the group to her country home in Wauconda for a potluck luncheon. The lesson, given ably by Lois Longwell and Ruth Henneberg, was "When the Family Faces a Crisis." Welcomed as guests were Mrs. Carmen Lopez, Nora Anderson, Gertrude Bowen and Mildred Holzrichter. Simon Leads Editor Poll For Primary

Legislator Is Choice To Contest Dirksen

State Rep. Paul Simon (D-Troy) continues to be an overwhelming choice to win his party's nomination to oppose Sen. Everett M. Dirksen in the 1962 general election, according to Paddock Publications survey of Illinois editors.

Final tabulation of the poll was completed last week, and the official totals were announced Monday by Charles E. Hayes, executive editor of Paddock Publications' 14 suburban newspapers.

Preliminary results were released August 23. Since then, Simon increased his lead over his closest opponent, State Rep. Paul Powell of Vienna, by more than 2 per cent. Simon is the choice of 46.4 per cent of the editors, compared with 25 per cent for Powell.

RANKING THIRD in the survey poll is former newspaperman Irving Dilliard of Collinsville, who polled a total of 13 per cent. Also mentioned in the survey were U. S. Rep. Kenneth Gray of West Frankfort and U. S. Rep. Melvin Price of East St. Louis.

Replying to the survey were 40.2 per cent of the state's editors, representing 148 weekly, 13 semi-weekly, and 20 daily newspapers.

Shortly after announcement of the survey's early balloting, Simon declared his candidacy in the April primary. (A-14

by THOMAS COLLINS

"My wife's income from Social Security is hers alone to do with as she pleases. It does not go toward our cost of living.

"After all these years of hard work with no wages, is it not time for her to enjoy an income she can spend as she pleases?"

Such is the philosophy of a New England retired man who believes the Golden Years are easy to come by . . . that about all you've got to do is be unselfish.

"Not once among the people I have read about in your column," he says, "have I noted one who was interested in other retired people, or who was spending any of his leisure time to make life a little easier for others . . ."

The man, Morris Jacobsen (371 Boston St., Guilford, Conn.), has been retired since 1953. He was a telephone company man.

"I knew a long time in advance that I would have to retire when I was 65," he says. "My wife and I made plans accordingly. We had raised seven sons, all of whom served in the armed forces as volunteers, and as you probably realize, there was little left for savings while they were growing up.

"In the last few years before retirement my wife and I were able to save enough for the down payment of an old farmhouse with about four acres of land, some of it tillable. I planned to raise enough market crops to have a vegetable stand. I had two purposes in mind. One was to get a little extra income; the other was to keep in touch with people.

"The idea worked fairly well, and I operated the stand while doing restoration work on the old house. By 1955 our sons were all on their feet and two of them had built their own homes. I felt I could do as well.

"I built a small house which is easier for my wife to take care of and, in fact, more comfortable. It took me two years and I did everything myself except for digging the cellar. These were enjoyable years. I had no time for the vegetable stand.

"We sold the old farmhouse and all of the land except that needed for our house and a good garden . . ."

During all that time Mr. Jacobsen did this: served as chairman of his company's Retired Members Club for a year; served on the executive committee of the club for three years; took time to visit retired fellow workers seeking to make life more pleasant for them; became a member of the local board of tax assessors; attended sessions of an assessor school at a state college four days a week for four years to learn more about the job.

"All these activities were enjoyable," he continues, "and it is a pleasure to me now to walk around town and have almost everyone I meet pass the time of day with me, some calling me Pop, some Jake, some Morris, some Mr. . . . all my friends. (A14

Tickets Are Available For Party

Tickets are still available for "The Sound of Music" theatre party planned for Dec. 8 to raise $250,000 to open the Brain Research Foundation's center in the former Chicago Memorial hospital.

Northwest suburban residents who wish to attend the benefit may obtain tickets by calling Mrs. Ray Haltenhoff, 708 Lynden, Arlington Heights, at CL 5-1565.

THE FUND drive will include the sale of "trick or treat" candy by volunteers the last week in October. Junior Woman's clubs in the area have conducted these appeals in the past.

The campaign will also feature mail solicitation and personal solicitation of corporations, foundations and private citizens. The national Senior Women's club has taken on the project as its number one task this year, according to Mrs. Haltenhoff. (A-14

BUCKS AND DOES

Elk Grove club urges all dance enthusiasts to join the membership at Saturday night's dance in Higgins school, Higgins and Touhy in Elk Grove. Guests are always welcome and this year a token is given each dance night to the guest couple coming from the greatest distance to join the club's do-ci-doings. Dancers from Red Wing, Minn. received the first token of the year and the second one went home with a Moline couple.

Club caller Bob Lewis will square 'em up at 8 p.m. and at intermission time Carl and Marie Peterson will teach a round dance. The Peterson contribution to the program will be a special feature at all second Saturday dances.

The fourth Saturday dance, October 28, will be a hard times party and amateur night. All amateur callers are invited to give the Bucks and Does gang a sample of their talent that night. They are asked to bring their own records.

The Bucks and Does dance the second and fourth Saturday nights of every month, Bob Lewis calling, and guests who love to dance are always welcome.

ARLINGTON SQUARES

This Arlington Heights club's schedule comes up with a Friday the 13th dance date this month and all square dancers in the area are invited to help upset the jinx tomorrow night. The club's perpetual good luck charm, caller Bill Clarke, will chase the evil spirits beginning at 8:30 in the Miner junior high school, Arlington Heights. Refreshments, fortunate cookies, maybe?, will be served when the dancing's over at 11:30.

Guest de-jinxers are asked to announce their intention to attend tomorrow night's dance by calling the Simans, Ki 5-9315; the Edelblutes, Cl 3-0291 or the Lichtenhelds, Ma 7-4187.

Army Recalls Him

Roselle's Language Instructor Is Lost

Roselle public school's foreign language program lost its talented leader to the national defense effort this week!

Dale Whiteside, interpreter and translator, has been recalled to duty in the Army Security Agency, Fort Devens, Mass.

Whiteside was recalled to active duty from inactive status to serve in the same program which he participated in from 1956 through 1958.

IN AN EFFORT to preserve the system's foreign language program, Superintendent of schools Thomas Mayhew called on several federal officials, including President Kennedy, for a deferment of Whiteside.

Mayhew and Whiteside were resigned to their roles after a final refusal of the deferment by Lt. General Emerson Cummings, commanding general, Fifth Army, last Thursday, Oct. 5, but averted a catastrophe with the timely hiring of a replacement in Sam Russenberger.

A native of Schaffhausen, Switzerland, and a graduate of the University of Illinois, Russenberger speaks French, German, and Italian fluently, possessing a proficient knowledge of Spanish besides.

Mayhew explains that the objective of the Roselle foreign language program is to teach students to speak one of three foreign languages adeptly, after eight years of instruction.

CLASSROOM television is an important integral part of the program. Russenberger plans to employ programs broadcast from the air by Midwest Airborne Television Institute.

In his letter to President Kennedy, Mayhew wrote: "If our country is so imperiled that it needs the service of one enlisted man more than it needs the fruits of his teaching, the country is then so imperiled that the American public must be told of this peril and all schools closed so that boys and girls can devote their efforts to the immediate construction of fallout shelters." Apartment Argument Two-Sided Story

Problem Calls For Analysis

by TOM EDWARDS

(This is the third in a series of four articles dealing with construction of apartments, duplexes and row houses in the northwest suburbs. The first reported on the past and present situations. The second compared regulations of villages concerning mutiple dwellings and regulations governing other types of development.)

Desirability of multiple dwellings and the residents they bring is being questioned in northwest suburban villages as more and more apartments and town houses are being proposed by builders.

The questioning and protests from homeowners are only beginning. Reverberations will be much louder in the future, no doubt.

Generally, area residents are against large numbers of apartment buildings in their towns — although they are sometimes rather late in protesting.

That there are questions being asked is probably a good healthy sign of community interest. For building regulations and planning and zoning will to a very great extent determine the future environment of a community.

But what the feelings are against multiple dwellings, and why they are there, needs to be analyzed—with a look at both sides of the coin.

Many now-staid home owners sometimes forget days when they set out on their own in the world, living in a small apartment, room or even a house trailer.

BUT NOW they own their own home and are justly protective of it. Also, they probably took pains to select a community with the kind of environment that they would enjoy living in and that would be good for their children. They would justly want to maintain this, too.

Moreover, they are perhaps justly fearful and suspicious of any new development because they have seen many projects which are destined to become future slums. Builders are not noted for their magnanimity.

But perhaps more provisions should be made for renters than now exist, and changes in systems to include them as a working part of communities.

"Rents in the northwest suburbs are preposterous," commented one resident who took a job in Arlington Heights he thought would mean an economic advancement for his family of one baby and an expectant wife.

But when he finally found a place to live he could afford, the outlay for rent was still so great that the "advancement" was almost negated. And the residence was right on a main highway. His child could not be let out into the yard without constant supervision.

He was paying so large a proportion of his salary for rent that he couldn't pay off the few debts he had accrued in the first two years of his marriage —let alone get enough together for a down payment on a home.

Very simply, exorbitant costs had him "strapped."

He is a college graduate, and the nature of his work is such that he is among the most influential residents of the area.

Yet many feel as one local official who commented at a board of trustees' meeting that high rent apartments would bring in a more desirable group of people.

This could be more or less true—and maybe they would also tend to create or maintain a "lower class" of people.

Many people seem to think that high rents and high priced buildings are synonymous with "upper class development."

Yet, as is the American custom, they will also usually hypocritically assert that money is not a criteria of ability and desirability, both in the same breath.

A COMPLAINT against apartment dwellers that appears legitimate is that they do not take an active, interested part in a community. They are more transitory in nature, have a "here today, gone tomorrow" attitude whether they actually are that way or not, it seems to be believed.

Could it be that the apparent truth in this statement is caused by northwest suburban communities regulating people out of their affairs who come from a low economic strata or don't have a vested ownership in the community?

Or could it be that people of this economic strata exclude themselves from community affairs? Are they too busy trying to get ahead—or are they succumbing to the oft asserted (and just as often ridiculed and denied) concept that material gain and wealth is our criteria of measurement?

ONE CRITICISM of multiple family dwellings does appear to contain much truth: The sale of row houses (town houses) on an individual basis seems to have a degenerative effect on the development. Why, has not been very well shown.

In the Chicago area, owners of individual row house units have had difficulty in reselling them. Perhaps allowing them to be sold rather than just rented is asking for a future slum.

There is much to support the premise that people rarely take the pride in rented residences —especially apartments and row houses — that they would in homes they owned.

And this seems to extend to row houses whether they are owned by the occupant or not. However, this does not seem to be nearly as true of duplexes.

Individual home owners are probably more desirable, a more basic and substantial core of a community. Single family subdivision development invariably precedes multiple family development.

But every faction of society has its place and needs a place to live. Many of the most creative people are restless and roving, it seems.

One very big complaint against multiple dwellings is that they will flood school systems with children while producing very little tax income to support the education of those children.

This has not been very well determined yet. One resident pointed out that very few families with school children live in apartments, and if they do, they only have one or two children.

On the other hand, a local architect says, "It is absurd thinking that limiting the number of bedrooms in an apartment limits the size of a family." He was referring to poor families that crowd large numbers into small spaces because of necessity. (In addition, few homes are being erected today with more than three bedrooms, and most apartments going up have two and three bedrooms.)

Evidently, only time will tell which is to be true here.

BUT THE very system of taxation on the basis of real estate is probably the real culprit behind the feared apartment-school problem. Should another basis of taxation be worked out rather than continuing to use one devised when almost all of Illinois was in farms?

Another consideration that perhaps should be taken into account is land use, the continued sprawling spread away from the city centropolis, resulting in hours of travel between home and work.

Just because we in the United States have large amounts of land, should we chop and burn it up just because it is there? Or should we conserve as much open space as possible?

Rather than low, long sprawling ranch-type homes and schools, might it be better to think also of higher buildings, using air space rather than land space?

PERHAPS LOT sizes are not too important at all if open playground areas and parks are dotted throughout a community. Even though lots are of fair size throughout the northwest area, many children still have to head for the streets to play ball, to run and throw, and parents to the forest preserve to picnic.

Also, location of apartments is important, such as the case of the apartment on a main highway as in the above example.

A visitor to Sweden remarked on towering multiple family dwellings far away from any other building and right in the middle of forested areas. That way many people have the pleasure of living with space to roam, and to enjoy nature, not just the rich.

But in the United States the pattern seems to be to simply bulldoze nature aside when developing land.

The main consideration in weighing all development, multiple dwellings or otherwise, seems to be its reasonableness, the rationality behind it and the forethought given to the future.

It would be better, maybe, to decide each building proposition on its individual merits — with the burden of proof resting upon the builder.

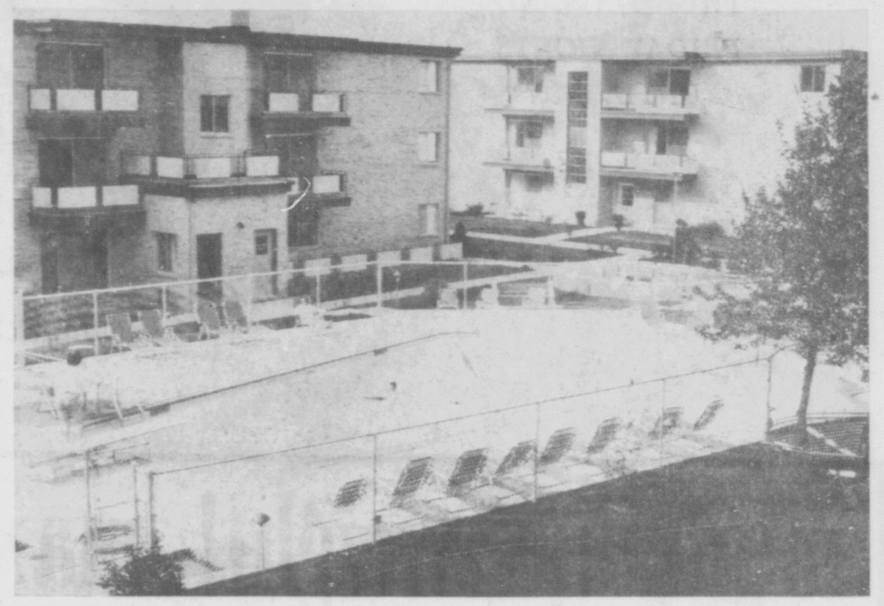
This would take an alert, active public and competent elected and appointed officials!

If multiple dwellings are needed, then they should be had — and provided in such a way to be a constructive asset to the community.

Rather than forbidding multiple dwellings because of undesirable aspects, wouldn't it be better to find out what the undesirable aspects and their causes are and eliminate them?

(B8

MARCY apartments in Arlington Heights appears to be one of the better looking multiple dwellings constructed in the northwest suburbs, at least from the outside. However, exterior balcony entrances are sometimes frowned upon if they are the only means of egress. Wheeling plans to require that all stairways be included within the masonry construction of multiple dwellings.



THE BUILDER of Salem Apartments in Arlington Heights proudly called attention to his project just south of Euclid Ave. "Take a look at them," he said after observing the Paddock Publications series on multiple dwelling construction in the Northwest Suburbs. Six such buildings as the two shown above ring the pool provided for residents. The units include one and two bedroom, and most require a two-year lease, it was reported.

100 Persons Attend

First Session Held To Map CD Strategy

Nearly 100 persons jammed the Arlington Heights' village hall last Thursday night as local Civil Defense Director Wallace B. Daughtry opened the first indoctrination session of the village's volunteer warden organization.

Daughtry, Deputy Director Lester H. Ploetz, and Chief Warden Bernard T. Clark discussed the roles the zone, area, and neighborhood wardens would play in the village's overall Civil Defense effort if the Chicago area were to come under a nuclear attack or suffer a serious disaster. Later the group was shown a movie of the first hydrogen bomb blast at Eniwetok atoll.

CLARK, IN outlining the warden program, said he hoped to have the entire village organized down to the block level shortly. The wardens will follow a military-type chain of command with the neighborhood wardens, responsible for a small group of homes, reporting to the area wardens. These in turn will report to the zone wardens who will be responsible to Clark.

A training program for all civil defense workers, especially wardens, will start within a month. Plans call for a course in basic civil defense first, followed by specialized training courses in such things as first aid and home fire prevention.

Clark said earlier this week the first project the warden organization would undertake would be the distribution of a booklet, "The Family Fallout Shelter," prepared by the national office of Civil Defense. The booklet gives a brief outline of the dangers of fallout, and diagrams various federally-approved shelters with cost approximations running from $150 to $1,500.

CLARK SAID the booklets would be distributed starting this weekend.

They will go to all homes in the village that are represented by neighborhood wardens. Those homes that do not receive the booklet over the weekend will be covered as soon as an appointment is made for the neighborhood.

Clark said his zone and area wardens all are looking for volunteers to fill out their organization charts.

Following is a list of positions that were filled as of Monday.

Tell Background Of Village Name

Arlington Heights' 125th anniversary is over, but there is still some confusion about how and when changes were made in the suburb's name.

Accurate information was obtained this week from the records of the Arlington Heights Historical Society.

The town which is called Arlington Heights has only borne that name since 1874.

The first settlement was called West Wheeling from 1836 to the coming of the railroad in 1854. Then the Illinois and Wisconsin railroad gave the station the name of Elk Grove, since that settlement, although three miles south, was the larger community.

That same year, 1854, William H. Dunton laid out in streets and building lots an area eight blocks long and four blocks wide.

THE MAP he drew up gave the town the name of Bradley. However, this original plat in the possession of the Historical Society shows a line drawn through the name Bradley and the name Dunton written in below, in Mr. Dunton's handwriting.

From the Bradley descendants, it was learned that Mr. Dunton found there was another town of Bradley in Illinois and therefore substituted Dunton.

The railroad was forced to change the name of its station to Dunton as the U. S. government called the post office by that name.

In 1874, certain real estate men, rivals of Mr. Dunton, persuaded the voters of the village that Arlington was a better name. Again it was found that Illinois already had an Arlington, and thus Heights was added to Arlington, finally establishing the community's name as Arlington Heights. (A

Arlington Greens

Arlington Greens Community Association presents Wallace Daughtry, civil defense director, who will speak at 8:30 p.m. on the local program for civil defense at the Savings and Loan clubroom, 25 E. Campbell Thursday, Oct. 12. Members and their friends are invited. A general business meeting at 8 p.m. will precede the program.

The Greens round robin bridge tournament began the new season with the first games played last Friday evening. Hosting for October were the Don Helblings, John Mundells, Robert McLeans, Ray Thorsens, Pete Johnsons and the Amos Kalkhoffs. The top three scores were earned by Howard and Margery Schick, 4960; Howard and Ann Wolfmeyer, 4010; and Pete and Bette Bunnell, 3960.

House guest of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Coleman, 1170 N. Beverly lane, last week was grandmother Mrs. Harold Yetter from Rochelle.

Mrs. Stan Saflarski, 647 E. Clarendon, returned home last week after a 5-day stay in Holy Family hospital, Des Plaines.

Mrs. Harold Warman, 1115 N. State rd., hosted the October meeting of their canasta club last Tuesday evening. Prize winners for the evening's efforts were Dorothy Swoboda and Lil Woehlck.

The James Spore family who made their home at 616 E. Oakton for several weeks ended their temporary residence in the Greens last week when they moved to Virginia Terrace.

SUSAN JOHNSON, 709 E. Olive, celebrated her 13th birthday Saturday with a supper party and scavenger hunt. Guests were Susan Patterson, Kathy Millay, Nancy Murdock, Madonna Killian, Pamela Bosian and Susan's cousin, Nancy Press of LaGrange, who was also a weekend guest.

Scott Warman, 1115 N. State rd., celebrated his 12th birthday October 5. Joining him for bowling and the dinner party at home were his brother, Bruce, Steve Hedberg and Paul Brosseit.

Also observing her 12th birthday was Nancy Shannon, 1161 N. Hickory, who celebrated at a family party Sunday evening.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stew Sage, 700 E. Oakton, were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Sage, and aunt, Mrs. Frank Van Luven, of Grand Rapids, Mich. A birthday dinner party for the senior Mr. Sage on Saturday evening was attended by the James Gomans of Arlington Heights and their guest, Mrs. Diehl Von der Maar of Minneapolis, Mrs. Goman's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mensch, 720 E. Oakton, hosted a dinner party Sunday observing the 79th birthday of grandmother Mrs. Elizabeth Mensch of Chicago. Twenty-two relatives from Chicago and the suburbs attended the affair.

Newcomers to Hickory Meadows are Edna and Wilfred Caron, 703 E. Thomas, and their daughters, Daune, 15, Laura, 12, and Tammy, 4. Former residents of Columbus, Ohio, the family moved to Arlington Heights a month ago. Mr. Caron is employed by Hallicrafters in Chicago. (A

Hasbrook Happenings

Hazel Peck — CLearbrook 9-0688

In this second week of "October's bright, blue weather," a lot of birthday candles are shedding a pleasant glow over the Hasbrook area.

Carol McCullagh started off a new week and a new year with a birthday on Monday. Then neighbor Mary Grant, Tuesday's child, celebrated her birthday with a trip into Chicago to see her mother and lunch with her twin sister. Monday, too, was young Jeffrey Thut's red letter day—a second birthday and lots of celebrants, since his dad and mother, Carlos and Nellie, are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ward, Nellie's sister and her husband from New York City, and their children, Karin, Susan and Arian. They will be guests of the Thuts for a couple of weeks before leaving for a stay in Hawaii.

The Heisers feted daughter Regina, whose birthday was Monday also at a family dinner last Saturday when 14 relatives shared her birthday cake. On Monday Mr. and Mrs. Allen Maxwell, Regina's maternal grandparents of Round Lake, were Heiser helpers in further celebrating for their 10-year-old.

Bruce, Dick and Gail Bullard's son, was the center of interest at a party Saturday evening in honor of his second birthday. His guests were sister Lynn, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hartung and their boys, Dick, Bob and Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Kullburg, his maternal grandparents from Des Plaines, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Bullard from Evanston.

MR. AND MRS. Ralph Whisler of Buffalo, N.Y., arrived last Friday for a 5-day visit with their son and daughter-in-law, the Jack Whislers.

Another visitor, this time from Washington, Pa., has been Mrs. John Talbot who arrived September 25 for a short visit with her daughter, Edie, and son-in-law, Bob Jolly. One special reason for the trip was a meeting with her new grandson, James Robert, born to the Jollys September 22.

Four-year-old Brad Russell recently joined same-ager Bill Mellor and his 2-year-old brother, Jackie, in consuming 1½ bottles of aspirin. Result — a trip to the hospital and three stomach pumpings. Modern Etiquette

Q. Just what is the correct way to eat an olive? Does one put the whole olive into the mouth at once, or does one take only small bites out of it while holding it in the fingers?

A. A very small stuffed olive may be put into the mouth whole. Larger stuffed ones should be eaten in two bites. A plain olive is held in the fingers and pieces bitten off around the stone.

Wheeling Township

Voters Can Register At Polls on Friday

The 40 per cent of Wheeling township's eligible voters who did not re-register last month have another chance to preserve their right to vote by going to their polling places Friday.

The second re-registration day will begin at 8 a.m. and continue until 9 p.m. Friday, Oct. 13.

An estimated 60 per cent of the township's eligible voters turned out at the first re-registration day last month. Re-registration was made necessary by an act of the Illinois legislature cancelling Cook county permanent registration records in order to permit revision of voting lists.

If you do not re-register at the polling place in your precinct, you can not vote in the next election.

E. P. Steinbrinck, assistant chief of the Cook county election department, said that 18,173 township residents renewed their voting rights Sept. 13.

Both political parties and several non-partisan and bi-partisan groups engaged in active campaigns to urge residents to re-register.

RAYMOND Stevenson of Mt. Prospect, chairman of the Wheeling Township Re-Registration Coordinating committee, a bi-partisan group, said residents should be aware of two major points:

1. You do not declare your political party affiliation when registering.

2. You do not have to meet residency and age requirements at the time of registration. If the requirements will have been met by the time of the next election (April, 1962) you should register or re-register Friday.

RESIDENCY requirements are: One year in Illinois; 90 days in Cook county; 30 days in your precinct.

In the wake of charges that one political party attempted to minimize re-registration by having block workers take around party file cards immediately prior to Sept. 13, thus possibly confusing some people and making them think they had re-registered, residents are reminded they must go to the polling place to re-register.

Cards filled out in the home are solely for the use of the political parties and do not constitute re-registration.

A MAP OF Wheeling township, showing precinct boundaries and indicating the polling places, will be found on an inside page of this issue of the Herald.

Veteran Carrier Has Never Missed Rounds

Neither rain nor hail nor sleet nor et cetera has kept Ralph Stippick from his appointed rounds during the past 35 years—proving his strict adherence to the much quoted code of the postman.

Stippick, of 126 S. Walnut in Arlington Heights, began his 36th year in the postal service last week.

THE VETERAN carrier began serving Arlington Heights residents back in 1926 when the village was much smaller than it is today and the load in his mailbag much lighter.

"I can remember when the Paddock paper was only 12 pages, for instance," Stippick says, "and not 126 pages like it was the other day."

Stippick for 30 years was a letter carrier, a familiar figure in the downtown area which he serviced. For the past five years he has worked as a parcel post deliveryman.

WHEN HE first joined the on with his job for another two postal service, the post office was where Kindler's confectionery store is now. Later it was moved to the site of the Mueller stationery store on E. Campbell, then to where the news agency is now on W. Campbell, and finally to the present building.

In all his 35 years with the post office department, Stippick has never been late for work, a record most of us would find hard to match.

EVEN THOUGH he's 60 years old and eligible for retirement, Stippick plans to keep or three years at least. When he does retire, he and his wife, the former Marie Meyer of Arlington Heights, probably will go up to his son-in-law's farm near Lake Geneva, Wis.

Even now he spends many weekends there, and the others usually are spent on the banks of a river or shores of a lake, where he can be found engaging in his favorite and only hobby—fishing. (A

Laymen to Oversee Methodist Service

A member of the Winnetka Congregational church has been chosen to give the sermon at the Arlington Heights Methodist church this Sunday when the laymen "take over" the worship services.

Both the 9 and 11 a.m. services will be conducted entirely by laymen, with the sermon to be delivered by Lester C. Rogers, whose topic will be, "And You Shall Be My Witnesses."

ROGERS IS chairman of Bates and Rogers construction corporation of Chicago, and authority in his field, and president of the 80-year-old Chicago City Missionary society. He is a past president of the Village of Winnetka.

Marvin Prellberg, lay leader of the Arlington Heights Methodist church, said it is nothing new for laymen to assume responsibilities for church services, pointing out that frontier towns often would organize class meetings with laymen presiding.

Working through the Methodist Men's club, church leaders have assigned various men to read the scripture lesson, the call to worship, and the responsive reading, and to take up the offering and lead the congregation in prayer.

THE ANNUAL event is taking place in accord with the National Board of Lay Activities of the Methodist church. (A

Members Are Reminded of Club Meet

Something new in entertainment will be presented to the men's club of the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church Monday, Oct. 16, members were reminded this week.

It's "An Evening with Mark Twain," starring George - William Smith, professor of speech, radio and television at McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago.

At the men's club "couple's night," Smith will present a two-hour show taken from Mark Twain's writings. (A

Coordinators Are Appointed

The recently organized Unity Center, meeting at the Masonic Temple, Arlington Heights, has appointed Mrs. Harold Youngberg, 500 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights, and Mrs. Ivan Zuelsdorf, 745 E. Chicago ave., Palatine, as coordinators of the Sunday school program.

Classes, held at the same time as the regular 11 a.m. devotional services, will begin under the leadership of Mrs. Dorothea Fowler, minister. (A

JOHN R. DOWNS, C.L.U., NOW MANAGER FOR NEW ENGLAND LIFE IN MOUNT PROSPECT

Many will remember Johnny Downs as Chairman of the Social Studies Department of Maine Township High during the 40's. Since entering the business in Chicago with New England Life in 1949, he has become an outstanding life insurance specialist, achieving highest recognition for competence (Chartered Life Underwriter), and for sales achievement as member of the Million Dollar Round Table. His assumption of sales development responsibilities here is the result of his plan to return to the Northwestern suburbs.

Mr. Downs will continue to serve his large personal clientele of business and professional men with increased emphasis in this area. He also looks forward to working with insurance brokers. He will continue his close association with the general agency office in Chicago and the staff services available to him there. Mr. Downs is a member of the Chicago Life Insurance and Trust Council.

Child Welfare, Topic For Faith Ladies

Mrs. W. Jackson, first vice president and mission chairman of Faith Ladies, Arlington Heights, has announced that the executive secretary of the Lutheran Church Charities, Albert Krause will speak to the ladies of Faith church Wednesday, Oct. 18, at 8 p.m. in Faith parish hall. Mr. Krause will feature Lutheran Child Welfare, although he will touch upon the six other agencies which make up the charities.

"THERE IS much hustle and bustle these days at Faith, what with everyone preparing for the bazaar November 15," said Mrs. R. Spinks, bazaar chairman. Workshops planned this month will be conducted by: Mrs. H. Reinwaldt on pillows; Mrs. M. Bublitz on miscellaneous items; Mrs. Ray Wilke on candles; Mrs. Marvin Brand on felt santas; Mrs. W. Ellertson on doll beds; Mrs. R. Spinks on sugar molds; and Mrs. Edgar Behrens on aprons and mosaic tile.

Mrs. W. Ellertson, workshop chairman stated, "All ladies are invited and if they will call me at Clearbrook 3-6030 I will give them the date, time and place."

MRS. WILLIAM Edgerton, bible study chairman announced that since the next study will be on a day when many of the children will not be in school, she has p... for a baby sitter. A continuation of the study of church symbolism with emphasis on the six Apostles, Bartholomew, Philip, James Minor, Matthew, Jude and St. Paul replacing Judas Iscariot will be led by Mrs. W. Ellertson.

This month's group will meet again in the ladies lounge, at 9 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 25, for coffee. (A

Amend Plans for 2 Schools Here

New bids on construction of Olive and Patton elementary schools in Arlington Heights will be considered at the October 18 meeting of the district 25 school board, when the school architect will present his recommendations.

The new bids were called for when the original bids were found to be far over the original estimates. They were opened at the last meeting of the school board and turned over to the architect for study.

THE NEW BIDS are based on revised specifications involving a number of alternate construction details.

Included in these are replacement of glazed tile with cement blocks, elimination of the walls around the Patton school ground, substitution of wood doors for aluminum, and other similar changes.

The architect will study the new bids and the various alternates, then recommend to the board which alternates should be accepted.

ROGER J BURKE, board president, said several of the alternate bids, if acceptable to the architect and the board, are well within the funds available.

Olive school will be constructed on Olive st. just east of State rd.; Patton school at the corner of Patton and Maude sts. A third school is scheduled for construction at State rd. and Thomas st., and the board is now in the process of selecting an architect for the project. (A

Rep. Simmons Says:

Run 'Clean' Campaign And You're a Winner

State Rep. Arthur E. Simmons (R., Skokie) last week observed the best way to conduct a political campaign is to tell the truth and never attack the character of an opponent.

"I've never had to resort to telling lies or to indulge in name-calling contests," Rep. Simmons told an audience of 75 in Wheeling Thursday at the first anniversary meeting of the Wheeling Township Young Republican club.

Rep. Simmons said he will seek a third term to the state legislature as representative of the 6th district in April, 1962, and expects to win by running a "clean campaign."

In answer to a question posed by Thomas J. Houser, club president, Rep. Simmons opined the best defense against campaign slander is to ignore the accusation or to refute it intelligibly through the public media.

The veteran legislator participated in a panel discussion which included Max Kolin, vice president of the Palatine Township Republicans; Thomas Hanlon, independent candidate for justice of the peace last April; and George Coker, moderator and former candidate for Arlington Heights trustee.

CONCLUSIONS of the panelists are as follows:

—it doesn't pay to announce candidacies too early, but it's best to get an early start on organization;

—campaign funds can be raised through public subscription, from fellow candidates, fund raising activities, donations, political parties and personal contributions;

—personal contact is the best way for a candidate to get votes, and —keep the opposition guessing as much as possible.

WHEELING township Republicans who joined club members in anniversary cake after the meeting were Henry Busse, GOP committeeman; Mrs. Florence Hendrickson, committeewoman; A. R. McIntyre, village president of Wheeling, and many others.

According to Houser, the meeting marked a milestone in the club's young history. "The Republican Party in Wheeling township is on the threshold of a prosperous future," he said.

Red Threat Topic For Church Talk

Arthur Voobus, professor of New Testament interpretation at Chicago Lutheran Seminary in Maywood, will speak at a meeting of church laymen at 8 p.m. Friday, Oct. 13, at Our Savior Lutheran church.

His topic will be, "The Menace of Communism to Protestant Christianity." Voobus is a former professor of ecclesiastical history at the University of Tartu in Estonia.

He has been in this country since 1947 when he fled Estonia after the Communists confiscated his possessions. Ever since he has been a student of communism and its effect upon our political and religious life.

MEN OF all the protestant churches throughout the northwest suburban area are invited to attend.

Sunday, Oct. 15, there will be a special congregational meeting called by the church council as a result of completion of preliminary studies by the building committee. This group has been working on plans for a new educational wing for the church and will have three recommendations to put forth.

It will recommend the congregation adopt a building program, a financing schedule, and hire an architect. (ACM

Millinery Class Is Expanded

Arlington Heights' park district announced recently that because of the increasing interest in Pioneer park's millinery classes, additional periods of instruction have been introduced.

Although the Monday morning beginner classes are filled to capacity, openings still exist in Wednesday beginners, 1-3 p.m., Thursday beginners, 1-3 p.m., and Monday advanced classes, 1-3 p.m.

THE PROGRAM offers the student the opportunity to learn the art of creating stylish hats, and the satisfaction of designing personal creations.

Classes will start at the scheduled times Oct. 16 through Dec. 7.

Those interested may register by phoning the park district at Pioneer park, CL 3-0620, or Recreation park, CL 5-8850. (A

Episcopal Bishop To Meet Parishes

The Right Reverend Gerald Francis Burrill, Bishop of the Chicago diocese for the Protestant Episcopal church, has invited members from 23 surrounding parishes to meet and confer with him at St. Simon's Episcopal church, 717 W. Kirchoff rd., Arlington Heights, Tuesday, Oct. 17, 7 p.m.

The featured highlight of the evening will be a message delivered by the Right Reverend Daniel Corrigan, director of the home department of the National Council of the Protestant Episcopal church.

ACCORDING to the Reverend Samuel N. Keys, rector of St. Simon's church, other dignitaries present will be the Venerable Ralph Deppen, archdeacon of the Diocese of Chicago, and the Reverend Cannon Francis Tyndall, cannon missioner of the Chicago diocese.

Mrs. Clifford S. Ott, Arlington Heights, who is hospitality chairman for St. Simon's, will be assisted by a committee of fellow churchwomen in serving a turkey dinner to the guests.

Turkey Dinner

Family cooks can be treated to a day off Sunday, Oct. 15, for that is the date set by the Dorcas Aid society of St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, for its turkey dinner. The dinners, complete with all the "trimmings," will be served from 12:30 to 3 p.m. in the cafeteria of the school, 111 W. Olive.

Tickets for adults are $2 and for children, $1 and may be purchased from Dorcas Aid members or at the door. (A

Ordinance No. 784

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING AND SUPPLEMENTING THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF MOUNT PROSPECT AND CREATING A SPECIAL USE PROVISION THEREIN

WHEREAS, the Board of Appeals of the Village of Mount Prospect, sitting as a zoning commission at a public meeting duly held according to law (Appeal No. 61-26), considered the question of amending and supplementing the Zoning Ordinance of Mount Prospect, including the establishment of a special use provision therein, and

WHEREAS, a tentative ordinance was duly published in the Mount Prospect Herald on the 10th day of August, 1961, preceding the meeting and in full accordance with the law, and

WHEREAS, the President and Board of Trustees, of the Village of Mount Prospect, having considered the recommendation of said Board of Appeals acting as a zoning commission, find and believe that the adoption of said ordinance amending and supplementing the Zoning Ordinance of Mount Prospect so as to provide for a special use is desirable and to the best interests of said Village.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Mount Prospect, Cook County, Illinois:

Section 1. That an ordinance entitled "An ordinance classifying, regulating and restricting the location of trades and industries and the location of buildings designed for specified uses; regulating and limiting the height and bulk of buildings hereafter erected or altered, regulating and limiting the intensity of the use of lot areas and regulating and determining the area of yards, courts and other open spaces within and surrounding such buildings; establishing the boundaries of districts for the said purposes; and prescribing penalties for the violation of its provisions" passed and approved December 4, 1923, and amendments thereto, and known as Ordinance No. 52, as amended by an ordinance known and cited as the Zoning Ordinance of Mount Prospect, passed and approved May 2, 1944, and as subsequently amended and supplemented as follows:

To add thereto Section 3.02 SPECIAL USES:

(a) Purpose. The development and execution of a zoning ordinance is based upon the division of the Village into districts, within which districts the use of land and buildings and the bulk and location of buildings and structures in relation to the land are substantially uniform. It is recognized, however, that there are special uses which, because of their unique characteristics, cannot be properly classified in any particular district or districts without consideration, in each case of the impact of those uses upon neighboring land and of the public need for the particular use at the particular location. Such special uses fall into two categories:

(1) Uses publicly operated or traditionally affected with a public interest;

(2) Uses entirely private in character but of such an unusual nature that their operation may give rise to unique problems with respect to their impact upon neighboring property or public facilities.

(b) Initiation of Special Use. Any person, firm or corporation owning or having an interest in the subject property may file an application to use such land for one or more of the special uses provided for in this ordinance in the zoning district in which the land is situated.

(c) Application for Special Use. An application for a special use or expansion of a special use shall be filed with the Village Clerk on a form prescribed by the Village Manager. The application shall be accompanied by such plans and/or data prescribed by the Village Manager and shall include a statement in writing by the applicant and adequate evidence showing that the proposed special use will conform to the standards set forth in paragraph (f) of this Section 3.02.

(d) Hearing on Application. Upon receipt in proper form of the application and statement referred to in paragraph (c) of this Section, the Board of Appeals shall hold at least one public hearing after notice as provided in Section 16 (c) (5) hereof.

(e) Authorization. For each application for a special use the Board of Appeals shall report to the President and Board of Trustees its findings and recommendation, including the stipulations of additional conditions, and guarantees that such conditions will be complied with when they are deemed necessary for the protection of the public interest. The Board of Trustees, subject to the requirements of this Section and the Statutes of the State of Illinois, may grant or deny any application for a special use. Special uses shall only become effective by an ordinance duly passed by the President and Board of Trustees.

(f) Standards. No special use shall be adopted by the Board unless the following standards are found to exist:

(1) That the establishment, maintenance or operation of the special use will not be detrimental to or endanger the public health, safety, morals, comfort or general welfare.

(2) That the special use will not be injurious to the use and enjoyment of other property in the immediate vicinity for the purposes already permitted, nor substantially diminish and impair property values within the neighborhood.

(3) That the establishment of the special use will not impede the normal and orderly development and improvement of surrounding property for uses permitted in the district.

(4) That adequate utilities, access roads, drainage, and/or other necessary facilities have been or are being provided.

(5) That adequate measures have been or will be taken to provide ingress and egress so designed as to minimize traffic congestion in the public streets.

(6) That the special use shall in all other respects conform to the applicable regulations of the district in which it is located, except as such regulations may in each instance be modified by the Board of Trustees pursuant to the recommendation of the Board of Appeals.

(g) Conditions and Guaranties. Prior to the granting of any special use the Board of Appeals may recommend, and the Board of Trustees shall stipulate, such conditions and restrictions upon the establishment, location, construction, maintenance and operation of the special use as deemed necessary for the protection of the public interest and to secure compliance with the standards and requirements specified in paragraph (f) of this Section. In all cases in which special uses are granted the Board of Trustees shall require such evidence and guaranties as it may deem necessary as proof that the conditions stipulated in connection therewith are being, and will be, complied with.

(h) Requirements for Authorized Special Uses. Each special use hereafter authorized shall be required to adhere to the off-street parking, heights and set-back regulations of this ordinance applicable to the particular use district in which the special use is authorized.

(i) Revocation. In any case where a special use has not been established within one year after the date of the granting thereof, then without further action by the Board of Appeals or Board of Trustees, the special use authorization shall be null and void.

Section 2. To amend Section 8, I—1 District, paragraph (a) of the Zoning Ordinance of the Village of Mount Prospect by adding the following: "14. Truck and bus terminals and the garaging and parking of said vehicles as a special use only."

Section 3. To amend Section 9, I—2 District of the Zoning Ordinance of the Village of Mount Prospect by adding the following: "15. Truck and bus terminals and the garaging and parking of said vehicles as a special use only."

Section 4. To amend Section 16, Board of Appeals, paragraph B, Jurisdiction of the Zoning Ordinances of Mount Prospect, by adding the following: "It shall hold a hearing and submit recommendations to the President and Board of Trustees concerning applications for special uses in accordance with Section 3.02 of the Zoning Ordinances of the Village of Mount Prospect."

Section 5. Penalty. This ordinance shall be administered and enforced by the Superintendent of Building Construction, who is hereby designated as the enforcing officer. The Superintendent of Building Construction may institute, in the name of the Village of Mount Prospect, any appropriate action or proceedings against a violator as provided by statute. Any person, firm or corporation, or agents, employees or contractors of such, who violate, disobey, omit, neglect, or refuse to comply with, or who resist enforcement of any of the provisions of this ordinance, shall be subjected to a fine of not less than $10.00 nor more than $100.00 for each offense; each day that a violation is permitted to exist shall constitute a separate offense.

Section 6. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication, according to law.

PASSED this 5th day of September, 1961.

APPROVED this 5th day of September, 1961.

EVERYBODY

My "retirement years" are just what I always hoped they would be. I knew that complete idleness would not bring contentment for me and I hit on the idea of making a paying proposition out of my hobby. I ran a small Want Ad in Paddock Publications announcing my skills at woodworking. Thanks to that ad I have all the jobs I can handle. My wife keeps reminding me that I'm supposed to be retired, and I tell her I am enjoying life and that is what retirement is supposed to mean. It is true "Want Ads Are For Everybody."

Local Elevens Tackle Glenbard Squads

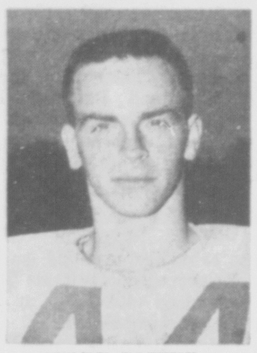
KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB FRISK

THE FOOTBALL COACHING STAFF at Arlington high school will take special interest in the forthcoming Illinois High School Association legislative session slated for Monday, Oct. 23, in Chicago.

This meeting could directly affect the services of one of the Cardinals' highly-regarded halfbacks in the 1962 football campaign.

Under consideration by the IHSA will be the 19-year-old rule that has been a controversial subject since its introduction last year. The present rule states that when a boy becomes 19 years old he is automatically ineligible for further competition in high school athletics.



JERRY TOTZKE

It came to a head when Peoria Manual achieved the finals of the state basketball tournament in Champaign, then had to play without its star center, Eddie Jackson, who turned 19 the day after the Super-Sectional. Manual no longer was what could be termed a true representative of the area in which it had won its way to the state.

In 1960 Galesburg lost its star center "Bumpy" Nixon at a crucial time in the season and never was able to recover from the loss. Although they had a creditable team, the Silver Streaks eventually dropped out of the running for the state title.

With this in mind and if the rule stays unchanged Arlington will lose the services of fleet halfback Jerry Totzke prior to the sixth game of the '62 season. The squad's leading ground-gainer as a sophomore and effective ball carrier this fall, Jerry turns 19 on Oct. 16, 1962. He would not be available for the West Suburban conference games with Glenbard West, Riverside-Brookfield, and York.

However, it seems likely that the legislative commission will amend the present rule. The IHSA has heard any number of different suggestions and they will be proposed to the legislative commission Oct. 23. The commission will screen the various proposals, and if it feels an amendment should be made, it would offer them in referendum to the various schools.

Among suggestions deemed most likely to be accepted by the commission are plans which offer a mid-year date, such as Dec. 1, or which split the school year into sessions.

If a boy has not reached his 19th birthday before Dec. 1, he may be eligible for the entire school year. Or, if he becomes 19 during a season he may finish that out and not be eligible for later sports.

Arlington's Totzke, under those considerations, would be able to complete the football season but would be ineligible for basketball, wrestling, track, or any other post-football season sports.

We hope that the amendment is made and that Jerry will be able to complete his final year of football eligibility. Something should be done about the problems arising from that rule and the mid-year date could be the most logical solution.

THIS 'N THAT IN SPORTS:

Wondering where the Collinsville high school state basketball champs went to college? . . . Bogie Redmon and Bob Meadows are at the University of Illinois and Fred Riddle went to Iowa . . . Bob Basala is at Rice and Bobby Simpson went to Kirksville State, Mo. . . . Some idea of Michigan State's sophomore strength in football this fall can be gleaned from the fact Duffy Daugherty left five lettermen home when he took the Spartans to Wisconsin two weeks ago . . . Jim Hedges and Bob Prouty of Arlington Heights are playing soccer for Northern Illinois University . . . Suburban sports writers and broadcasters will select an exclusive All-Suburban high school football team this year for the first time . . . Selection of the All-Suburban squad will be made by members of the Suburban Press and Radio association . . . We're going to meet Thursday, Nov. 2 in Berwyn to select the squad . . . Each player on the honor team will receive a suitable award . . . The IHSA is looking into an extended pre-season practice period for high school football squads, possibly 18 practice days before the first allowed game . . . Jeff Whiteman, an Arlington high school grad, is one of five sophomores on the 1961 Colgate University cross country squad . . . In Northern Illinois' first three grid games this fall Arlington high grad George Bork completed 25 of 40 passes for 274 yards and punted 18 times for a 34.5 average . . . Another AHS grad, Rich Bader, picked off 16 aerials for 310 yards and two touchdowns.

You may doubt it if you've ever watched a pro football aerial show, but it isn't true that the pros throw more than they run. Last year National Football League units ran the ball on 58 per cent of all plays.

Toppers To Host Arlington

Arlington high's Cardinals, fresh from a successful Homecoming, will try to spoil Glenbard West's festivities Saturday afternoon when they journey to Glen Ellyn for a West Suburban league encounter with the Hilltoppers.

Exhibiting an all-out team effort and capitalizing on the breaks, the varsity Cards of "Bus" Ormsbee treated a packed house to a thrilling 14-13 victory last Friday and will be out to rise above the .500 mark for the season when they tackle Glenbard.

The Cardinals stand 2-2 for the campaign although they are 1-2 in West Suburban competition. A victory Saturday could boost Arlington into a tie for fourth place in the WSC.

GLENBARD is 0-4 for the season but showed some signs of life in a 26-14 loss to York after dropping its first three games by shutouts. And the Bards will have that Homecoming incentive that helped the Cardinals against LaGrange.

Game time will be 2 p.m. Saturday with a frosh-soph preliminary at 12 noon. Arlington's sophs will be looking for their first league victory of 1961 in the opener.

Ormsbee was pleased with the way the Cardinals picked themselves up Friday after a 32-0 trouncing from Downers Grove. It was Arlington's second win in history over the Lions of LaGrange.

THE VETERAN coach praised the entire team in the 14-13 decision, including senior Roy Woodruff who scored one touchdown on a 53-yard scamper and picked up 76 yards in just seven carries and junior Joe Wertheimer whose accurate kicking proved to be the difference.

Woodruff will get a starting shot off his play against the Lions, and there will be one other change in the offensive alignment. Junior Jerry Totzke, the squad's leading ground gainer as a soph, will get first call at the left halfback slot manned by junior Ken Layden most of the season.

VINCE FURLONG and Mike McDonald also came in for some post-game plaudits after the

Arlington Cards Cop Homecoming Contest

by BOB FRISK

Arlington high school will remember that 1961 Homecoming for a long time.

The varsity football Cardinals treated a capacity crowd to a stunning 14-13 victory over a visiting LaGrange eleven that had been considered an odds-on favorite before the firing began at 8 o'clock.

In ten previous meetings between the two West Suburban schools Arlington had managed to win only one game. The Lions were fresh from a convincing league decision while the Cards were still reeling from a 32-0 trouncing.

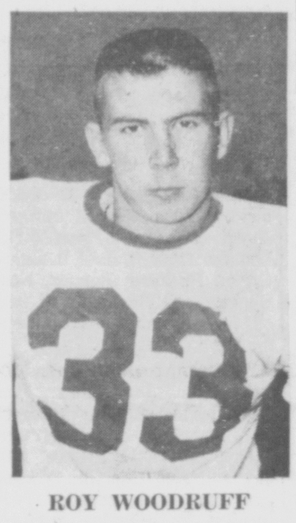
However, Coach "Bus" Ormsbee's eleven was ready for LaGrange Friday and although it lost the battle of statistics, it took advantage of the breaks to come out on top in the important column.

THE VICTORY added a memorable chapter to a week-long festivities in a village that was celebrating its 125th Anniversary. And it gave the Cardinals their first West Suburban conference decision since November of 1959.

Junior Joe Wertheimer's accurate toe provided the difference in the exciting contest with both place kicks splitting the uprights, the latter coming with just 6:41 remaining in the game. A 160-pound halfback, Joe has connected on five conversions in five actual attempts this fall.

The winning touchdown was set up midway in the final stanza when Arlington recovered a LaGrange fumble on the Lions' nine-yard line.

JOE WERTHEIMER



ROY WOODRUFF

TRAILING 13-7, the Cardinals took over and counted in three plays. Roy Woodruff, who dazzled the fans with a long scoring dash in the second period, drove to the LaGrange six, then hit again to the four.

On a third down play junior Ken Layden skirted right end and carried in with the tieing touchdown with 6:41 remaining in the contest. Wertheimer then broke the tie with his second successful place kick.

Arlington initiated the game's scoring at the outset of the second period after returning a punt to its own 32. Layden picked up a first down with a 13-yard scamper to the 45 and Rog Lindstrom bolted to the 47.

ON THE FIRST play of the second period Woodruff took a pitch out from quarterback Ross Retterer, skirted his own right end, and with Hal Selleck and Vince Furlong tossing key blocks raced 53 yards for Arlington's first touchdown.

Wertheimer's kick gave the Cards a 7-0 lead with 11:50 remaining before halftime.

LaGrange bounced back after recovering an Arlington fumble midway in this same second stanza. Billy Moore sprinted to the Arlington 18 yard line and added six more to the 12.

SSCOND STRING quarterback John Iverson then hit for seven to the five-yard line and with 3:58 remaining before halftime Jon Brown crashed through for the touchdown. The extra point attempt was low and Arlington held a slim one-point lead at the intermission.

Coach Tony Juska's visiting Lions waited until the outset of the final quarter to push over their second touchdown. LaGrange opened the series on its own 37 yard line and penetrated 63 yards in 11 plays.

ON A THIRD and 18 situation highly-regarded Fred Barofsky, who didn't experience too successful an evening with his passes, did connect with Moore to push the ball to the Arlington 36. Fred Dix got the first down with a two-yarder and in five plays the Lions counted, Dix doing the honors from the one.

Barofsky booted the extra point to give LaGrange its brief six-point margin.

Arlington couldn't get moving on its ensuing series of downs and Woodruff punted to the LaGrange 11. On the first play from scrimmage the Lions fumbled, Selleck recovered, and the Cards had new life. They took advantage of the break thanks to Layden's four-yard jaunt and Wertheimer's place kick.

IN A CLOSING bid LaGrange's Barofsky saw one of his aerials picked off by Arlington's Dan Meyer and returned to the LT 47.

East's Rams Host Knights

Prospect's title-conscious Knights, halfway through the 1961 football campaign, will shoot for their 17th straight varsity victory Saturday afternoon when they invade Lombard for an Interim league test with dangerous Glenbard East.

Exploding for 32 points in a rout of East Leyden last Friday, the Foundry rd. Knights of Bill Beckman eased into undisputed possession of first place in the Interim thanks to Maine West's 13-6 victory over previously unbeaten Niles West.

Prospect owns a 3-0 standard heading into the weekend action with Proviso West the only other unbeaten club in the 12-team alignment. The Panthers have a 0-0 tie marring their record but boast two victories.

SATURDAY'S Interim league tussle in Lombard, marking Homecoming for the Glenbard East Rams, will be preceded by a junior-varsity encounter at 12 noon.

Prospect had little trouble disposing of East Leyden last Friday in a game marred by penalties. The two clubs were penalized 180 yards with the Eagles drawing 105.

Senior Bruce Andrise, the Knights' reliable fullback, enjoyed his biggest day on offense with three touchdowns and 141 yards rushing in only 10 carries. For the season Bruce now has carried 50 times for 418 yards, a nifty 8.4 per carry average.

THE 185-POUNDER holds a comfortable lead in the Interim league scoring derby thanks to his three-touchdown outburst against East Leyden. He has 37 markers in three loop games and a 13-point lead over Dick Kee of Wheaton and Logan Dugaw of Proviso West.

Beckman also was high on the play of Tommy Thomas, Ron Aukamp, and Jim Hogarty in the 32-0 victory. Thomas posted an 8.4 average on five carries and scored one touchdown.

Lineman Bill Wright, who has been on the sidelines with torn ligaments, has been ruled out for the season and it's questionable if halfback Dan Johnson will be able to return to action. Johnson incurred a back injury in practice last week and the fleet junior is on the doubtful list now.

IN A POSITION switch Jim Anderson, 185-pound senior, has been switched from end to halfback and may get a starting call Saturday. Either Anderson or Dan Prekel will open at right half.

Prospect can't afford to lose any game now particularly with big clashes against Proviso West and Maine West set to close out the season. The Proviso West game has been set aside as Dads Day for the Knights.

In Glenbard East's Rams the Foundry rd. powerhouse will be meeting a squad that has good size, fair speed, and some hard runners. Dave Smith, a 195-pound senior, and Dave Ek, 190-pounder, are the top ball carriers for Coach Don Smith with the former earning "Back of the Week" honors for his three touchdown performance against West Leyden.

QUARTERBACK Jon Hart is a smooth engineer of the Rams' attack and 165-pound Tom Gardiner rounds out the offensive backfield. Tackles Bob Gordon and Art Lipske and guard Craig Ankeney, all 190-pounders, are the biggest men in the Rams' forward wall.

Dash man Larry Bretsnyder, who placed in the conference 440-yard run last spring, mans one of the end slots for Glenbard and will be a boy to watch Saturday.

Glenbard East will be up for the clash with Prospect. The Rams boast some excellent personnel as evidenced by their 7-0 win over Maine West. It should be a real Donnybrook in Lombard.

Dundy Moves To 1st Team On Defense

Mike Dundy, University of Illinois sophomore from Prospect Heights, was elevated to a first string defensive halfback role Monday as the Illini varsity prepared for the weekend clash with Ohio State's Buckeyes.

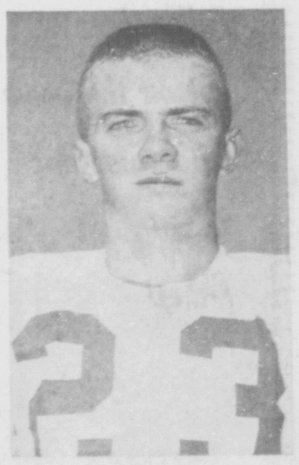
Dundy, a prep All-Stater at Arlington high school in 1959, moved up in ranks after his impressive showing last Saturday against Northwestern.

The 5-10, 160-pounder intercepted one Northwestern pass, recovered a fumble in the end zone, caught one Illinois aerial for 18 yards, carried seven times for 27 yards on offense, and was the second leading tackler behind guard Tony Parrilli.

IT WAS Dundy's first extensive role with the varsity and the hard-working soph responded with an impressive performance. In the Illini's opener with Washington Dundy saw action on three plays but did find time to intercept one pass.

According to Champaign-Urbana sportswriters, Mike is a bright spot in a deep defense that has been a painful spot in two defeats, and he also has shown as much as any healthy offensive back.

Twenty-three of Dundy's yards rushing Saturday were on three pressure carries, deep in Illinois territory. He launched the team from the shadow of its goal post by ramming the ball out to the 11 in two rushes.



MIKE DUNDY

BY THE TIME Dundy gets to Columbus Saturday he'll have second star on his helmet. Coach Pete Elliott awards a star for every interception.

Mike Dundy is one of the best all-around backs ever produced at Arlington high school and certainly one of the finest competitors to don the Cardinal and White.

He carried 84 times for 549 yards as a senior, scored 10 touchdowns and one extra point, and caught 21 passes for 270 yards.

In track Mike was a member of Paddock Publication's All-State squad, conference 440-yard dash champion, and runnerup in the state quarter-mile in Champaign.

Prospect's Frosh B's Rock Leyden

Prospect's frosh football teams had a field day against East Leyden Saturday.

The "A" squad rolled to a 38-0 victory.

And those 'Bs" racked up an impressive 49-0 conquest of the young Eagles.

Prospect used its first offensive and defensive units only in the first half of the "B" game.

THE KNIGHTS drove 60 yards for their first touchdown with Richard Lytle counting. East Leyden fumbled the kickoff and the Knights were home again in three plays with Mike Dalucca doing the honors.

Prospect scored again on Dalucca's six yard run and Lytle and Marty Ryan added the PAT after the second and third touchdowns.

Ryan picked off an East Leyden pass and rambled 40 yards for the fourth touchdown.

THE SECOND and third teams scored the remainder of the points with touchdowns coming from Ron McNulty, Steve Carponelli, and Ira Goldstein. McNulty counted the extra points.

Standing out for the 'Bs" in the offensive line were Bill Woodward, Anderson, Mark Spreitzer, Bruce Fiedler, Mike Zadel, and Mike Spencer. These same boys along with Ron Sessions, Carponelli, George Pantelis, Goldstein, and Paul Boult sparked the defensive alignment.

Prospect's frosh "Bs," now 3-0 for the season, will host Glenbard East this Saturday morning, Oct. 14, at 9:30.

G. A. McELROY

WITH BARRINGTON'S LOSS to Libertyville the North Suburban Conference is narrowed to a five team race with only one game separating McHenry with two wins and a tie from Libertyville with a win, a loss, and a tie. In between tied for second are Palatine, Barrington, and Zion-Benton with two wins and a loss. Right now Zion looks like the most potent team in the league from the standpoint of scoring as they ran up a 41-12 victory at Woodstock after a 33-7 victory at Crystal Lake.

This week Palatine at Zion is the headliner. Zion has a home field and season record edge on the Pirates who gain tremendous yardage but score few touchdowns. McHenry will easily keep first place against winless Woodstock in a breather before coming to Palatine's homecoming the following Saturday. Barrington is rated the edge on Dundee and Libertyville should stop Crystal Lake, a team which has shown little the past two weeks.

Around the suburbs the top teams continue to be Evanston and Hinsdale. Last week one press association rated Hinsdale first in the state and another Evanston. On results the past weekend it would be hard to choose as Hinsdale walloped a good Maine team 41-7 and Evanston swamped Oak Park 42-0. Joliet is going great guns and is the only undefeated team in the South Suburban. Their coach attributes the team success to a challenge system where players not on the first team challenge regulars and play directly opposite them in practice drills to try to win their positions on a point system. University of Illinois uses this system. It is felt that this weekly competition in the squad brings improvement through an incentive to move up on the basis of performance rather than coaches judgment. Wrestling coaches use this system all the time but it is more difficult to adapt to a team sport.

PALATINE'S UNBEATEN SOPHOMORE TEAM may continue in that class until they meet Woodstock in the final game of the season. The word comes to us that Woodstock sophs are the class of the North Suburban. Certainly the results of their games indicate considerable strength. With a poor varsity team coming up this year there was thought at Woodstock of moving up sophomores but they wisely kept a good soph group together and are laying the foundation for good varsity teams in 1962 and 1963. Palatine's soph team got a real boost this year by the transfer from Texas of a pair of good boys in Brooks and Lang. Brooks is a fast shifty 165 pound boy who ran for three touchdowns last Friday from 30 to 75 yards. Lang is a six foot 210 pound tackle. Palatine's football future looks bright as soph and frosh teams are both unbeaten after 4 games.

The Maine West district in cross country is tougher than ever this year with the addition of St. Mel, St. Patrick, and St. George from the Catholic League of Chicago who have joined the Illinois High School Association. Along with these teams are the two Maine Township high schools, the two Leyden schools, the two Niles schools, New Trier, Highland Park, Deerfield, Evanston, Elmwood Park, Ridgewood, Glenbrook, Barrington, Arlington, Prospect, and Palatine. This district will have at least 150 boys, as many as in the state meet. Other districts of the 10 outside Chicago include Bradley, LaGrange, and Crystal Lake of the Chicago suburban area.

20 YEARS AGO

Arlington lost in the mud at Leyden 6-0. Palatine took 5 of the first 6 places to defeat Arlington and Niles in a cross country run. Neimeyer of Arlington got second. Palatine had Langhoff, first; Anderson, third; Field, fourth; Timmerhaus, fifth; Vogt, sixth; and Hooson, eighth. Palatine meets tough competition in York, Maine, and Evanston in the next 10 days . . . Bob O'Hagen of Arlington Heights scored a touchdown for Marquette as they beat Wisconsin 28-7.

Midget Football

Senior League Race Up for Grabs Again

They're at it again in the Senior league of the Arlington Heights Midget Football program.

After the firing last week the four teams are back in a first place deadlock, each owning identical 2-2 standards.

The Lions scored two touchdowns in the final period and racked up an impressive 20-6 victory over the Browns. Charlie Ewart's club exploded with two six-pointers in the final two minutes.

WITH TWO minutes to play and the score tied Theroux ran 45 yards to the Browns' three-yard line and then bucked over for the TD. Buddy Bencic counted the extra point on a line smash.

With one minute to play John Gregory of the Lions ran 45 yards for a touchdown and Theroux collected the extra point.

The Lions opened the scoring in the second quarter when Bencic turned in a sparkling 75-yard dash, and Bill Gunnison's Browns knotted the count in the third stanza as Mark Frase raced 25 yards for the six points.

Score by quarters:

Browns	0	0	6	0— 6
Lions	0	6	0	14—20

THE 49ERS tallied in the second and third quarters and wrapped up a 13-0 victory over the Rams. Mike Grant grabbed a 35-yard pass from LeStarge for the first score and then LeStarge tallied the second on a 15-yard rollout.

Wadzita ran for the extra point.

The Rams fumbled 10 times, five of which were recovered by the victors. Bill Sayre turned in a remarkable punting exhibition for the 49ers with one boot traveling 45 yards. LeStarge and Wadzita also turned in solid performances for Merv Fink's 49ers.

Score by quarters:

49ers	0	6	7	0—13

IN THE JUNIOR league the Packers registered a tight, 2-0 victory over the Giants with only a first period safety deciding the encounter.

Recording solid performances for the Packers were quarterback Paul Douglas along with linemen Sklencar, Theroux, Knorr, and Buttenob. Backs Leighton and Thomson and lineman Meachem were outstanding for the Giants.

Score by quarters:

In another exciting game the Eagles edged the Colts 7-0 and remained undefeated in Junior league competition.

AN 11-YARD pass from Dave Sauter to Roger Schuler picked up the only touchdown. Sauter added the extra point.

Turning in outstanding defensive play for the Eagles were Loeffel, Soduski, and Peal. Schmelzer was the offensive star for the Colts with one 45-yard run.

Score by quarters:

Eagles	0	7	0	0—7

The Bears scored a pair of touchdowns in the second quarter and fashioned a 14-6 win over the Cardinals.

The Cards had taken a 6-0 lead in the first period when Jim Gumz raced 90 yards for a touchdown.

Early in the second quarter Bruce Boult took the ball over from the 10 for the Bears and also tallied the extra point. Later in the same period Boult took a Cardinal punt in his own 45 and threaded his way for the score. Once again he carried for the PAT.

JEFF PRICE'S line play stood out for the Bears and Kevin Coulter and Dave Glantz played fine games in the Bears' backfield.

McNamara recorded an impressive game for the Cardinals on defense and Adkins and Tully were backfield standouts.

Lincoln Seniors Top Central Unit, 20-18

The Lincoln Seniors edged Central 20-18 last Sunday to take over undisputed first place in the Mt. Prospect Midget Football league. It was their third straight victory and previously unbeaten Fairview was tagged with its first loss.

Rick Henderson tallied two touchdowns and Robby Payne added another on a 32-yard run. Pete Smith accounted for the extra points.

Topping the backfield play were Gary Guerin, Bob Arnold, and Tom Marshall. Heading the linemen were Fred Wesley, Darryl VanKampin, Bill Garlock, and Payne.

CENTRAL'S BRUCE Cassel scored on a 65-yard run and 40-yarder. Jerry Packard tallied the third. Cassel, Leonard, Green, Packard, Render, Koze, Barker, and Bertoglio all turned in creditable performances for the Central unit.

Emerson trounced Owens 20-0 with Pete Jay tallying two touchdowns an Jim Geocaris one. Backfield standouts were Terry Jones, Jay, Doug Murray and Ken Cherwin. The entire line was credited with turning in effective performances.

Prospect upset Fairview 12-6 and knocked the latter from the unbeaten ranks. Meyer swept left end for 20 yards and as he crossed the goal line he fumbled, Hartis falling on the ball to complete the score. Cowan also scored on a 15-yard end sweep. Blocking standout was Bosenberg with Krysian and Chudik turning in solid line play.

DAVE KASPARI passed to Dennis Wilkinson and Jack Helmar for a pair of touchdowns as Sunset rolled past Lions 18-6. Outstanding on offensive and defense was Phil Eaton with Bobby Holmberg a defensive leader.

Bob Grady counted the Lions' only touchdown on a tremendous 70 yard run. Paul Accurso and Bob McDonough were backfield standouts with Tim Beck, Nick Rutigliano, and Rick Farley heading the linemen.

In the Junior Division Central and Prospect are tied for first place with identical 3-0 standards.

CENTRAL ROUTED Lincoln 31-0 with R. Ayers contributing two touchdowns. Other TDs were scored by D. Klingberg, T. Lehrke, and Teichert.

Klingberg, Lehrke, and Nemsow stood out in the line while Jeff Ruehrdanz, Tom Anderson, and Ken Sophie headed the backfield for Lincoln. Kent Peterson was given post-game plaudits for his line work.

Prospect slapped Fairview 21-7 with Glover racing 60 yards for a score on the first play of the game. Peeler recovered a fumble on the third play and then Carroll took off and raced 55 yards on a reverse for another tally.

IN THE SECOND half Carroll counted Prospect's score off left end with Tuller and St. Dennis throwing key blocks. Outstanding line players were Newman, Krysiak, Strauch, Lenzen, and Mottwhieler. Heading the backs were Glover, St. Dennis, Carroll, and Johnson.

Fairview's outstanding pass receiver was Bob Snyder and Mike Herod and Ray Clow stood out on offense. Clow went 25 yards off left guard for Fairview's touchdown. Niles Daly went over on a pitch out for the extra point. Tom Irman and Hal Durgin were outstanding linemen.

Emerson walloped Owens 38-6 with touchdowns scored by Del Kotowski, Rick Burger, Steve DeHaven, Jack Behrens, and John Eder.

HEADING THE winners in the line were George Adams, Mike Stull, Jeff Boyle, John Sennett, Mike Sennett, Steve Bruck, Joe Waldo, and Ron Hammer.

Owens' only touchdown was scored by Jim White on a three-yard end run.

Lions downed Sunset 12-9 with Croke counting on a 12-yard run and Crawford on a 20-yarder. Standout defensive line play was turned in by Ed Handson, Bob Youle, and Gary Munt.

It was erroneously d[illegible] Lincoln 28-6. It was the other way around with Lincoln claiming the easy triumph. Our apologies to the Lincoln gridders.

Homecoming triumph with McDonald the steadiest man up front for Arlington this season.

Senior Bob Laughlin, who played his finest high school game against Downers then had to sit out the LaGrange clash because of an injury, also will be on the sidelines Saturday. Bob has a badly pulled groin muscle and it's questionable when the 160-pounder will be able to return to action.

Rog Freise, a 165-pound senior, will fill in for Laughlin at the right end slot.

TWO POSITIONS were in doubt at the outset of the week with either Hal Selleck or Denny Buren opening at right guard and Dan Jennings or Ken Wessling at right tackle.

Glenbard West's Bill Ducchon, in his first year at the Hilltopper helm, has been having his troubles but the Bards can't be taken lightly. They out-gained a good York team last Saturday and picked up more first downs than the highly-regarded Dukes.

Plagued with injuries on his squad this year, Ducchon had to use a patch-work alignment against York but that group of determined youngsters may be the solution to his problems.

GLENBARD West boasts five lettermen this fall and four will be in the starting alignment Saturday: tackles Dan Guenther and Jim Unrath, quarterback Dave Palmer, and fullback Johnny Reichart.

Halfback Gary Anderson, a 158-pound junior has been one of the sparkplugs in a limited Glenbard offensive attack.

LaGrange Frosh Blank Cardinals

LaGrange scored a pair of touchdowns in the final half Monday afternoon and handed Arlington high school's frosh "A" football team its second loss in four outings this fall, 14-0.

The hosts counted on a one-yard plunge and four-yard reverse in dumping Coach Julius Fliehler's young Cards. A long runback of a punt and intercepted pass set up the two touchdowns.

Arlington played good football in the first half but had drives stopped at the LaGrange six and 10-yard lines.

Dale Chapman caught several passes for the Cardinals and Chuck Hood and John Edie ran well. Fliehler indicated that the plebes still need a lot of work on their blocking if they're going to make an improved showing in the final three games.

Score by quarters:

Arlington	0	0	0	0— 9
LaGrange	0	0	7	7—14

Prospect Sophs Bump East Leyden

Prospect rebounded after a slow start and fashioned an impressive 19-6 frosh-soph football victory over East Leyden last Saturday morning.

Coach Ted Wissen's Knights scored a pair of touchdowns in the second period and added one in the fourth stanza after falling behind early in the game.

The victory was Prospect's first in three outings this fall. The locals dropped their opener at North Chicago, then tied Glenbrook.

RON KUNZ counted the first touchdown on a 40-yard pass from Mike Phillips and Ralph Kaspari scampered 35 yards for the second. Dan Sherman kicked the extra point and Prospect held a 13-6 halftime lead.

The young Knights terminated their scoring on a three-yard quarterback sneak by Phillips in the fourth quarter.

East Leyden had scored on a 30-yard pass play in the first quarter but never came close to scoring after that.

Prospect's frosh - sophs will host Glenbard East this Saturday morning, Oct. 14, at 9:30.

Score by quarters:

Prospect	0	13	0	6—19
East Leyden	6	0	0	0— 6

Kuklinski Sparks Frosh to Victory

Wayne Kuklinski scored three touchdowns Saturday to lead Prospect high school's frosh "A" football team to an effortless 38-0 victory over East Leyden.

The Knights scored almost at will against the outmanned Eagles and had five touchdowns called back on penalties.

Kuklinski's second score was on a 75-yard scamper. Also tallying for Prospect were Anderson on a 25-yard run, Werkaw and Dick McMahon. Jim LaRocco and Bill Henry claimed the extra points and Henry had a 35-yard run that set up the first touchdown.

Prospect high's frosh "A" football squad, now boasting an impressive 3-1 standard, will host Glenbard East this Saturday morning, Oct. 14, at 9:30.

Prospect High's Harriers Roll Past Niles West

Exhibiting surprising power with three of their standouts on the sidelines, Prospect high school's varsity cross country team handled Niles West last Saturday morning 23-38 in Interim league competition.

Coach Ken Arneson's Knights landed eight of the top ten slots against a team that had given highly-touted Glenbard East a stiff battle in a recent dual.

On the frosh-soph level Prospect also came in with a decisive victory, pasting the young Indians 21-40.

ROG LUEDKE was the top varsity finisher for Prospect with a second as a Niles runner took individual honors. Luedke came home in 10:33, twenty-three seconds better than his previous best on the Prospect course.

Backing Luedke for Prospect were Don Coey with a third, Gary Marks with an encouraging fifth, George Renner with a sixth, Dan Murray with a seventh, Jim Forbes with an eighth, Kent Nelson with a ninth, and Dick Gay with a tenth.

In the frosh-soph ranks Dave Thomas came through with another first for Dick Kinneman's squad. Other scorers for the Knights were Carlson with a third, Carr with a fourth, Bob Gewecke with a sixth, and Tom McClellan with a seventh.

Prospect's varsity and frosh-soph harriers will host East Leyden this Saturday, Oct. 14, at 9:30 a.m. and will entertain Glenbrook next Tuesday afternoon.

Dons Bump Fenton Harriers

Capturing the top eight places, Notre Dame coasted to an easy 15-40 victory over Fenton in a varsity cross country meet run at Niles Tuesday afternoon.

Vail set the pace in 9:42 for the 1.9 miles contest followed by teammates Kaye, Rosengren, Anthony, Schrader, McClellan, Erbach and McAulliff.

Fenton's Frank Tegel placed ninth while Bison Freshman Rich Hebel ran 15th.

The loss was Fenton's sixth of the season in as many starts. Coach Lee Thompson's boys will host Elmwood Park Friday and Immaculate Conception Tuesday in preparation for their big match with Lake ark Oct. 20.

Big Time Ahead

The 30th annual convention of the Bowlng Proprietors' Association of America will be held from June 25-30, 1962 at the Hilton Hawaiian Village, Honolulu.

Grace's Speech Cut Short by TD

Wally Grace, Arlington's Athletic Director, is still chuckling over an incident at last Friday's Homecoming game with LaGrange.

As the teams were changing sides for the start of the second period, Grace was welcoming back H. J. Carr, a team physician for many years, over the public address system. Carr was working the game from the Arlington bench.

Grace had reached the last sentence of his speech and was ready to ask Dr. Carr to stand, face the stands, and receive the applause he deserved. In addition, Wally and Fred Schmoyer, director of the high school band, had planned a strain of "Auld Lang Syne" as Dr. Carr faced the Homecoming fans.

JUST AS GRACE reached that last sentence, play began on the field and Arlington's Roy Woodruff took a pitchout and set sail on a pretty 53-yard scoring effort. Don Fyfe, announcer at the games, told Wally "you may as well stop. Woodruff is on his way for a touchdown."

Grace was kidded on his way down from the press box and told he should give more speeches as they might bring some more touchdowns.

Wally added as a closing thought, "I'd trade my speech down."

HALTED BY LaGrange's Fred Dix (32) after a six-yard pick-up is Arlington high's Roy Woodruff (33). Roy gained 76 yards in seven carries, averaged 38.3 yards on six punts, and scored one touchdown to play a major role in the Cardinals' exciting 14-13 victory over the visiting Lions last Friday evening.

Arlington's Frosh-Sophs Tie LaGrange

Arlington's frosh-soph football Cardinals, dangerously close to suffering their third straight shutout, exploded at the outset of the fourth quarter Friday evening and marched 76 yards for a touchdown that salvaged a 6-6 deadlock with visiting LaGrange.

Coach Bill Daletski's Cardinals had a chance to break the tie with an extra point but a run was checked short of the end zone with less than two minutes remaining.

The deadlock was Arlington's second in West Suburban competition with a loss to Downers Grove also on the record. The young Cardinals will travel to Glenbard West Saturday for a game at 12 noon.

PRIOR TO THAT fourth period touchdown Friday, Arlington played most of the game in its own territory, unable to get any sustained drive moving. But when they started to roll, they were hard to stop.

Initiating the drive on their own 14 yard line. the Cards picked up a quick first down thanks to Bob Splitberger's 10-yard scamper to the 24. Mike Fitzpatrick hit for one and then Jim Ewart carried for 12 more and another first down.

Joe Mueller rocked through for nine to the Arlington 46 yard line and Splitberger, the squad's speedster, showed this speed with an 18-yard dash to the LaGrange 36. Then it was Mueller for 14 and Splitberger for one more to the 21.

MUELLER slammed down to the visitor's 16 and Mel Van Sky slanted through for a first down on the 11. Van Sky was nailed for a one yard loss but Fitzpatrick got that yard back, setting up a third and ten on the 11 yard line.

With 1:46 remaining in the game Ewart, who turned in an effective role in engineering that one long drive, took off around right end and carried in with the Cards' first touchdown since the opening victory over East Leyden.

Arlington tried to run for the extra point but Mueller stumbled and was stopped short of paydirt.

The Cards had one last chance to break the deadlock but couldn't get anywhere in three closing plays.

LAGRANGE scored its only touchdown toward the end of the first period, terminating a drive of 64 yards. Key play in the attack was a 38-yard scamper by Livingston to the Arlington 13. Wintermute eventually carried in from the one yard line with 36 seconds remaining in the opening stanza.

Prior to its fourth period march, Arlington had picked up just two first downs.

Prospect High JVs Roll Past Leyden Eagles

Prospect high school's junior varsity footballers scored once in the first quarter and twice in the fourth Friday night to post their first win of the 1961 season, a 19-0 thumping of East Leyden's Eagles.

Coach Bob Hoese's Knights, paced by three hard-running halfbacks, scored first with 1:41 left in the first period. Halfback Tom Cross set the score up with a 25-yard sweep of left end to the Eagle 10. Cross' running mate, Rick Glass, punched over from the seven two plays later. The point attempt failed, and Prospect carried the 6-0 lead through a seesaw second period to halftime.

THE THIRD period proved uneventful until, with 1:44 left, Dan Price intercepted a Leyden pass and returned the ball to the Eagle 42. The Knights moved the ball on the ground to the 35, then took to the air. Quarterback Bill Mutert heaved a 25-yarder to End Kent Taylor as the quarter ended.

Seven seconds into the final period a Jack Gehl to Wayne Deeke touchdown pass was called back. With 9:08 left in the game the Knights lost the ball on downs, then got it back on the next play when East Leyden fumbled. The next play saw Chuck Halverson break over center to paydirt from the 19. Halverson then added the point on a pass from Mutert, making it 13-0.

PROSPECT'S final touchdown came with 5:41 left in the game on the same play that Halverson ran. This time it was Dave Leekley up the middle from 30 yards out to make it 19-0.

The win was the first for the Knight JVs in their Interim association race. This Saturday Hoese's team will visit Glenbard East in another conference match. Game time will be 12 noon.

Rule Clarified

The announcement last week that midget football players in Arlington Heights must be accompanied by an adult at the high school games to use their passes was NOT just for the Homecoming clash with LaGrange. It also holds true for the two remaining Arlington high school home contests.

The Shirley Garms Story

Palatine Bowler Recognized As Leader in Women's Ranks

by DICK GOTTSEGEN

In the span of but a few short years, bowling has become one of our nation's most popular, if not its most popular, form of recreation.

Virtually millions of adults and youngsters alike pack the several thousand bowling establishments that have sprung up across the land.

Yet, of this vast throng of keglers, how many can boast of rolling a 200-game the very first time he or she lifted a bowling ball.

ONE PERSON that can (although with tongue in cheek) is Shirley Garms of Palatine, who was recently voted Queen of American Bowling by the Bowling Writers of America.

That's right, the first time Shirley ever touched the hard hunk of rubber, she accomplished that feat although she will readily admit that "the pinboy was more than just a little co-operative."

From that auspicious (but somewhat shady) debut, Shirley Garms has risen to the top of her profession and has earned for herself a place among the female bowling greats of all-time.

BUT LET US now turn back the pages of the past and trace the development of a champion. A life-long resident of the Northwest Suburban area, Shirley was born in Des Plaines in 1924.

It was during her years at Maine township high school that she first developed an interest in bowling. While watching her father bowl one evening, Shirley was coaxed into trying her luck.

Thanks to that co-operative pinboy, she had taken that first step along the arduous trail to success.

THAT WAS back in 1940 and now Mrs. Garms reigns supreme among women bowlers.

Many probably will wonder what a person must accomplish to gain such widely-acclaimed recognition. Well, here is a partial list of Shirley's antics during the past season:

1. Captain of championship teams in the Women's Traveling Classic and Bowling Lanes Classic leagues of Chicago.
2. Chicago Singles champion.
3. Fort Wayne News Sentinel singles and All-Events champion.
4. Co-holder of the Poelking Doubles championship.
5. Central Illinois Doubles and All-Events champion.
6. Northern Illinois All-events champion.
7. Lemont All-Events champion.
8. Friendly Tournament (Milwaukee, Wisc.,) All-Events champion.
9. Captain of the BPAA National team champion.
10. Captain of the Chicago City team champion.
11. Chicago All-Events champion.
12. Illinois Doubles champion.
13. Tournament of Champions champion (Madison Square Garden).
14. Professional Women's Bowling Assn. North American champion.
15. Queen of Chicago bowlers.

SHIRLEY'S newly - acquired honor will entail a considerably increased amount of travel for personal appearances in addition to the regular demanding tournament schedule.

During the past year, she performed 42 separate exhibitions for the Brunswick Bowling co., with whom she is employed in an advisory capacity, and competed in 20 out-of-town tournaments.

Mrs. Garms and her husband, Mel, live at 57 W. Washington st., Palatine. The couple has jointly managed a 264-unit housing project at Glenview Naval Air Station for the past four years.

MEL AND SHIRLEY have shared many activities including sports as boating, fishing and water-skiing.

NATION'S BEST — SHIRLEY GARMS

An ardent all-around sports enthusiast, Shirley's love for water-skiing almost led to serious consequences. Three days prior to the Women's Professional championships at Cleveland, she took an extremely painful tumble while trying out a new pair of skis.

Racked with pain and the all-important tournament rapidly approaching, she sought relief from her physician, Dr. B. H. Peskis of Lake Zurich.

AFTER TWO - and - one-half hours of treatment for severe muscle injuries in her legs and arms, Shirley was patched up sufficiently to compete in the Cleveland meet but not before faithfully promising to give up her water-skiing.

Muscle-braces and all, Shirley went on to capture top honors at Cleveland.

When asked who were some of the persons who have improved her bowling down through the years, Mrs. Garms promptly offered the name of husband Mel, who, she complained, was also her severest critic.

ANOTHER PERSON who occupies a warm spot in Shirley's heart is Charley Covetti, manager of Strike 'N Spare Lanes in Northbrook.

"Charley has placed his alleys at my disposal and maintains them according to my preference," beamed the personable Mrs. Garms.

Shirley's teammates, Mary Scull, Pat Senning, Joyce Rosenbom and Joan Holm, also have done their share in boosting her to the top.

"IN ALL OF our many years of bowling together we've never once had an argument," boasted Mrs. Garms, "and that's unusual for any five women."

Shirley's top game? Well she never quite hit that magic 300 but she does own six 279's. Her top three-game series is a 718 rolled in an exhibition at Tuscola, Ill., last March.

And that's pretty fair bowling, even for a woman!

Prospect Rolls On

Andrise Sparks 32-0 Rout of East Leyden

by TOM McSHANE

Prospect's Knights ruined East Leyden's Homecoming celebration Friday night by beating the charged-up Eagles 32-0 to post their 16th straight victory and remain on top of the Interim association footblal race.

The Knights had little trouble with the Eagles despite some very aggressive play that resulted in the ejection of one player and a total of 180 penalty yards. East Leyden was "up" for the Eagles couldn't cope with Prospect's tough all-conference fullback, Bruce Andrise, and the Knight's strong offensive line, sparked by 158-lb. Guard Frank Prekel.

Andrise accounted for three touchdowns on sparkling runs of 70, 16, and 26 yards. The 185-pound fullback carried the ball seven other times, and ran up 141 yards for an average of 14.1.

THE FIRST Prospect score came on the Knights' third play from scrimmage with 7:59 left in the opening quarter. Andrise took a hand-off from Quarterback Ken Groh, broke through the center of the line on his own 30, dodged three men in the Eagle secondary, side - stepped into the clear at midfield, and out-raced the safety man to the end zone. The try for point failed and Prospect carried a 6-0 lead into the second quarter.

With 11:07 left in the half, Andrise was dancing in the end zone again, this time on a 16-yard power sweep of right end. The score capped a short drive that started five plays earlier when Tackle Dennis Hogy covered a Leyden fumble on the Eagle 23. John Krupa kicked the point to make it 13-0.

It was Andrise again five minutes later. The rugged fullback made it three for the night with another sweep, this one around the left side from 26 yards out. And once again the strong fullback shook several tacklers on his way in. This score ended a six-play, 64-yard drive. Krupa's point try failed.

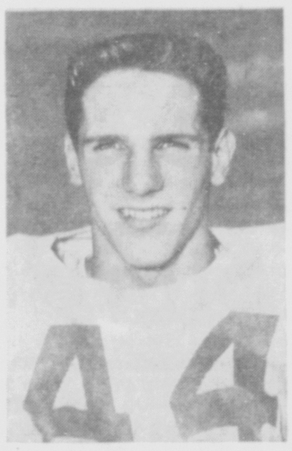
THE REMAINDER of the second quarter and the first nine minutes of the third were marred with fumbles, penalties, and generally sloppy play on the part of both squads. The Prospect attack slowed noticeably, and East Leyden never could get started.

The Knights came to life, however, with about three minutes to go in the third period, to push across two more touchdowns.

Linebacker Mike Dawson started the Knights' recovery by intercepting an Eagle pass on the Prospect 48. Andrise moved over center to the Leyden 43. Quarterback Bob Gerrard made a first down on the 40, then followed up with a toss to End Jim Hogarty who reached the Eagle 17 before he was stopped. Gerrard threw incomplete, then handed off to Halfback Tommy Thomas who knifed over left guard for the score. Krupa's boot made it 26-0.

HOGARTY recovered the ensuing kickoff on the East Leyden 23. Four plays later Fullback John Davis tried Andrise's favorite path around right end and wound up in the end zone. There were 45 seconds left in the period.

The fourth quarter added nothing to the ball game. Leyden Halfback Jim Asta managed to draw two consecutive 15-yard penalties and a one - way ticket to the sidelines for unsportsmanlike conduct. The officials became quite confused as the penalty yards rolled up against both squads, and at one point looked as though the men in the striped shirts had lost control.



TOMMY THOMAS

The game ended with the Eagles breaking up another Knight scoring thrust on their nine yard line.

This Saturday the Knights, sporting a 3-0 conference record, journey to Glenbard East for another Interim battle. The varsity game will start at 2 p.m., with the JV prelim getting under way at noon.

St. Viator Splits Two Grid Tests

St. Viator rcovered from a West Leyden explosion on Friday and handled Barrington's frosh-soph football Bronchos 12-7 Monday afternoon.

The young Lions of Frank Mariani and Ron Feiereisel, routed 33-7 by a highly-regarded West Leyden eleven, scored in the first and fourth periods in dumping host Barrington.

Rick Hawley's 12-yard burst through the middle terminated a long drive in the initial stanza, but the Lions missed the extra point

BARRINGTON fought back to pull ahead at the end of the third quarter thanks to a successful PAT but the Viator unit wasn't through yet.

Tim Walinski's one - yard plunge terminated a 70-yard drive with two minutes to play and gave St. Viator its second victory in four outings this fall.

Walinski led the ground attack of the Lions with 68 yards rushing. Engineering the Viator offensive game were Joe Heitz and Jeff Haiduke who shared the signal-calling duties.

In addition to Walinski, Jim Murray also registered some impressive runs for the Arlington Heights school.

Score by quarters:

St. Viator	6	0	0	6	—12
Barrington	0	0	7	0	— 7

IN LAST Friday's encounter at West Leyden the Lions ran into a powerful crew of Knights that scored on the first play from scrimmage and never trailed.

The hosts counted from 60 yards out on that initial play and following the kickoff, recovered a St. Viator fumble and struck again. From then on there was no catching the West Leyden eleven.

Hawley scored the Lions' only touchdown at the outset of the fourth quarter.

St. Viator, standing 2-2 for the campaign, will travel to Marian Central in Woodstock next Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 17, for a game at 4:30.

Schilling Paces Notre Dame Dons To 33-7 Victory

by TOM TREBAT

On the strength of four touchdowns by Halfback Greg Schilling, the Notre Dame Dons coasted to a 33-7 win over St. Procopius last Friday at Notre Dame.

Schilling and Fullback Al Loboy provided the offensive punch in the Dons' fourth straight win. Notre Dame will continue its fight for an undefeated season tomorrow night when they travel to Aurora to take on Marmion. The Cadets fell victim to the Dons last year 26-13.

The convincing victory over the Redwings of St. Procopius was a step in the right direction for the Dons in the Suburban Catholic Conference. Notre Dame received the opening kick-off and immediately went to work. Schilling and Loboy continually ripped the Redwing line for sizeable gains. Schilling finally smashed over for the score from nine yards out. Quarterback Dick Gorzynski's boot for the extra point went wide and the Dons had to settle for 6 points.

ST. PROCOPIUS jumped right back into the game late in the first quarter. Quarterback Herb Hrebic swept end for six yards and the touchdown which tied the game. The Redwings took the lead as Hrebic passed to Glenn McKay for the extra point.

The Dons' offense picked up momentum in the second quarter. Again the running of Schilling, Loboy, and Halfback Jim Prasch moved the ball steadily to the Redwing 10 yard line. From that point, Schilling powered over for his second touchdown of the night. Gorzynski's placement kick was good giving Notre Dame a 13-7 halftime advantage.

The game ceased to be a contest in the third quarter. Notre Dame piled up 20 points in those 12 minutes as the Dons rolled to three touchdowns. Actually, the Dons tallied six times in the second half but three of these scores were nullified by penalties.

SCHILLING started the fireworks off with a 26 yard run that was good for his third touchdown. Moments later, the Don rushing attack was again in high gear. This time, Schilling recorded his fourth touchdown from 29 yards away. Midway in the third quarter, the scoreboard read Notre Dame 25, St. Procopius 7.

A defensive play a few minutes later brought the Dons two more points. With the Redwings lodged deep in their own territory, Guard Tom Francisco led the hard-charging Don line that trapped Proco Quarterback Hrebic in his own end zone for a safety.

Al Loboy climaxed the scoring late in the third period. The Dons took over from Proco on the Notre Dame 42 yard line. Loboy ran wide left for 58 yards to make the final count Notre Dame 33, St. Procopius 7.

Lions' Harriers Hand Cards First League Reversal

LaGrange's varsity cross country team, sparked by Craig Boydston, handed Arlington its first West Suburban conference setback last Friday afternoon on the Pioneer Park course.

Boydston edged the Cardinals' Jim Hendricks for individual honors as the visiting Lions recorded a 22-43 decision. It was Arlington's first WSC loss after two victories.

Boydston covered the course in 10:41 for a new record and topped Hendricks by two seconds. LaGrange's Ted Harrille and Norm Witek finished third and fourth with Arlington's Ralph Law claiming a fifth. Junior Gary Brodnan came in seventh for the Cardinals.

IT WAS A different story on the frosh-soph level as Coach Frank Bohac's youngsters posted an impressive 25-31 decision for their second West Suburban victory in three outings.

LaGrange took individual honors but Arlington copped a second, thanks to Greg Buczynski. George Sladek was third, Ray Schmeiser fifth, Gary Fouty sixth, Dale LeFevre ninth, and Bill Moore tenth.

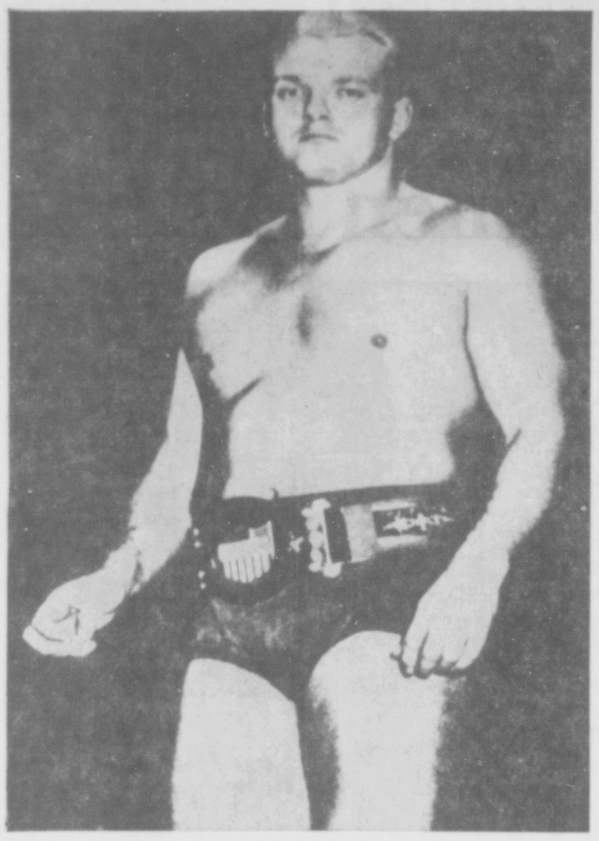
Arlington has its work cut out this week as it will travel to Glenbard West Saturday afternoon to run against the defending state champions. Indicative of Glenbard's strength this year is the fact that the Hilltoppers bumped LaGrange 23-33 in a recent dual.

Heading the Glen Ellyn school is junior Jim Isaacson who finished 18th in the state meet as a soph. Jim was sixth in the West Suburban run last fall.

The meets will be staged at 12:30 p.m.

Day to Remember

Dick Barker, assistant Michigan State athletic trainer and former Spartan football fullback, became the father of his first son the day he scored his first college touchdown.



COLORFUL JOHNNY VALENTINE

Grapplers At Palatine Gym Friday

Several of professional wrestling's top personalities invade Palatine Friday evening in conjunction with an all-star mat program to be held in the high school gymnasium.

The program, which is sponsored by the Square and Compass Club of the Palatine Masonic Lodge, is scheduled to begin at 8:30 p.m.

Four top - notch exhibitions will be presented by Promoter Fred Kohler including an Australian Tag match and a ladies' contest.

IN THE FEATURE bout of the evening, Johnny Valentine, one of the most popular grapplers in these parts and a top challenger for World Heavyweight championship honors, will battle The Crusher from Milwaukee.

Valentine, who hails from Hollywood, Cal., has been a recent sensation in the midwest. He drew capacity gates of $35,000 each in Chicago's Amphitheatre and also was a headliner on Kohler's shows at Comiskey Park.

Johnny's greatest asset is a punishing elbow smash that is used to pound on the base of the skull of an opponent. This type of blow can seriously injure a foe and many prefer to concede the fall.

THE CRUSHER prides himself on his rough and unruly actions and should prove to be considerable trouble for Valentine.

In another top-ranking bout, "Big Moose" Cholak will tangle with the clever Luis Martinez of Mexico City. Cholak, who weighs 365 pounds, will enter the ring attired in a huge moosehead.

Lalo Rodriguez and Lee Henning will team up in a tag match against Jack Owens and Tony Shepard. Fans additionally will be treated to a female bout pitting beautiful Babe Bittner of Green Bay, Wis., against Barbara Kopplin of Ripon, Wis.

TICKETX FOR the all-star show still may be purchased in advance at Paul's Barber Shop, C. Neal's Realty and the Village Inn Restaurant, all located in Palatine. Tickets also will go on sale at the door.

Price of ringside seats is $2.50 each; general admission seats also will be sold at $1.50 apiece.

Proceeds from Friday's show will be used by the Square & Compass Club to further its youth development program in the Northwest Suburban area.

LaGrange JVs Rout Arlington

LaGrange racked up eight touchdowns and five extra points and ran over an outmanned Arlington junior-varsity football team Monday afternoon, 53-0.

The loss was the fourth straight for the Cards who will travel to Glenbard West next Monday afternoon, Oct. 16, for a 4 o'clock contest.

Paddock Classic League

Pro Sport Center's Bowlers Advance into 1st Place Tie

Fast-challenging Martinetti's Restaurant of Crystal Lake was stopped at every turn Saturday night in the Paddock Classic Traveling League and league-leading Wheeling Furniture managed to win one game during battle at Country Lanes in Lake Zurich.

Therein lies the story why Wheeling Furniture is now tied for first place with Pro Sport Center of Mt. Prospect, victor over Martinetti's Restaurant, and S. M. Kahn Electrical Contractors of Chicago and Jeffery Lanes of Wheeling are tied for third, one point behind the leaders.

With the race as tight as it is, Paddock Classic bowlers will rest until a week from Saturday. So many of the suburbs' best traveling league's bowlers have entered the Northwest Suburban Bowling Proprietors Association's eliminations for the BPAA All-Star that the league has suspended play for one week.

PRO SPORT Center, bowling out of Gunnell's in Mt. Prospect, found Country Lanes to its liking as anchor man Al Walter of Arlington Heights rolled 627 and Captain John Ribando of Mt. Prospect had three pins less.

Martinetti's Restaurant, representing Ten Pin in Barrington, came close twice, but Pro Sport Center rolled so evenly, 956, 959, and 973, that the Crystal Lake team just couldn't quite get over the hump. In the opener, Ribando's 222 and a 209 by Paul Zubak of Elk Grove Village gave the Mt. Prospectors a 28-pin win, offsetting a 206 by Dan Pulos of Crystal Lake and a 201 by Ed Dudek of Barrington.

Pro Sport Center's margin of victory was reduced to 10 pins in the second game as Walter with 212 and Ribando with 209 matched a 216 by Chris Pulos, also of Crystal Lake, and a 202 by brother Dan. The last game was all Pro Sport Center, Walter recording a 223 game and Al Valentino of Rolling Meadows 205.

MEANWHILE, Jeffery Lanes was posting the night's high series, 2928, to win three points from fellow townsmen, Wheeling Furniture, which won only the opening game, 989-911. This was due to a pair of Palatine men, where Wheeling Furniture is based at Hi-Way Recreation. Irv Hahnfeldt shot 244 and Ron Fogarett 216.

Then a pair of North Shore men, Hec Healey of Northbrook and George Stone of Deerfield, waxed hot. Healey bowled 216 but was outdone by teammates Bill Harris of Wheeling with 219 and by Stone with 229. Despite a 209 by Fogarett, 207 by Ken Zimmerman of Des Plaines and 205 by Hahnfeldt, Wheeling Furniture fell, 1006-980.

In the final, Healey bowled the best game in the Paddock Classic this year, 266, and Stone posted 223, Jeffery winning easily and picking up another point with high series.

NELSON REALTY recorded the Paddock Classic's high team game this season, 1050, and thus earned a tie by also picking up a point for high series in its match against Moyle Construction of Carpentersville, which captured the two final games.

LeRoy Papineau of Algonquin recorded a 235 effort, Buck Perkins of Barrington Woods 220, and Casper DeWitz of Barrington 214 for Nelson Realty, which bowls out of Bowlway in Elgin, in its 1050 game, offsetting a 216 by Don Schumaker of Barrington and a 200 by George Radke of Mundelein.

Although Perkins continued hot with a 204 and a 202 for a 626 series, Moyle Construction, rolling on its home Country Lanes, took command. Frank Graff of Palatine, Herb Lohman of Lake Zurich and John Taylor of Waukegan had 214, 201, and 200, respectively, to pace Moyle Construction in the second game. Then Taylor bowled 212 and Schumaker and Graff 200 each to rack up another victory.

A SPONSOR seems to be the answer for the River-Rand based S. M. Kahn Electrical Contractor five, as it captured three points in its match against cellar dwelling Beverly Lanes of Arlington Heights.

The Des Plaines team was paced by one of its own residents, Mike Wagner, who had the night's high individual series, 668. He had a 227 opener, and when coupled with a 223 by Bob Rogers of Des Plaines and a 201 by Don Christensen of Arlington Heights, it produced a 1027 team game and a victory. Wagner then stepped up his pace to 245 and Rogers added a 208 as Kahn won, 957-869.

Beverly's opening came in the final game, Warren Walter of Arlington Heights racking up a 216 game and the Arlington Heights team winning by 24 pins.

Women's Action

Who's Going to Stop Steve's in Classic?

Steve's Restaurant of Wheeling continued on its merry way in the Paddock Women's Classic traveling league, stretching its winning streak to nine and its league lead to three games.

Second place Morton Pontiac of Arlington Heights once again was able to win only two games and slipped further back Saturday night during play at Sims Bowl in Des Plaines.

The other teams seem out of contention as of now, third place Moyle Construction of Carpentersville and Ridge Motors of Des Plaines being six games behind and below .500 at 7-8.

Steve's Restaurant, paced by a 577 series by Captain Delores Harris of Wheeling, bowled the night's high team series, 2,638. The Jeffery Lanes of Wheeling based team had one close scrape, winning the middle game by 23 pins as no one hit 200. In the opener, Delores had 227 and in the closer Ann Neumann of Highland had 204 and Sis Jennings of Deerfield 202.

MORTON PONTIAC, representing Beverly Lanes in Arlington Heights, after winning the first two, fell in the final to Northfield Bowl, rolling 100 pins under either of the first two games. Shirley Nutschnig of Prospect Heights rolled 215 to lead the first game win and Pat Proebstle of Arlington Heights had 207 to pace the second game. Then Northfield Bowl turned around, and thanks to a 204 by Gloria Luccheski of Winnetka, won the last game with a 915 total. Pat Proebstle was high for Morton Pontiac with a 572 series followed by Joan Lindahl with 555. Ceil Borre of Wilmette was high for Northfield Bowl with 510.

Moyle Construction, bowling out of Country Lanes in Lake Zurich, had its troubles, losing two games to Ridge Motors of Des Plaines although it out-totaled its opponent. Ridge Motors, rolling on its home Sims Bowl lanes, took the opener by 28 pins behind a 201 by Doris Taylor of Waukegan. Then Doris hit 214 for an 18-pin win in the middle game.

THEN MOYLE Construction came alive. Vi Douglas of Palatine rolled 252, just one pin under the league's high game she rolled a week ago, and teammate Bonnie Kuhn bowled 199 to pace Moyle to a 926 game, high for the Paddock Women's Classic Saturday, and its lone victory.

Saturday, when play resumes at 6:30 p.m. at River-Rand Bowl in Des Plaines, the league's two leading teams, Steve's Restaurant and Morton Pontiac, square off. Morton must win two or else Steve's will have a wide open road toward the first half championship.

By WALLY SCHWALLER

Christy Mathewson won three World Series games for the New York Giants in 1905 without yielding a single run to the opposing Philadelphia Athletics.

The Giants won 3-0, 9-0, 1-0, and 2-0. The one game they dropped to Philadelphia was 3-0.

Mathewson had a perfect record of five "shut-out" games in one World Series.

The Christian Way

By Rev. Don L. Jones, Pastor, The Christian Church of Arlington Heights

A person often gets the feeling that there is a richer fulfillment of life than he has yet attained. This is a crucial feeling, for if it is followed by a search for deeper meanings and higher ideals in daily living, it can lead to a change of personality so profound as to be miraculous.

This personal renewal is more likely to take place in a fellowship where other persons are engaged in it too. Hence placing oneself in a church where the atmosphere is charged with aspiration for a better life is vitally important. It gives the individual needed support in his own search for enrichment, and links him with the invaluable spiritual resources to be found in the worship of God. Why not seek such a fellowship now?

Join us this Sunday at Miner Junior High School, Miner & Dryden. Church school 9:45 a.m., Worship 10:45 a.m. Phone CLearbrook 9-4155.

Church Here Commissions Architect

The Congregational Church of Arlington Heights announced this week that Walter Kroeber has been commissioned as architect for the congregation's planned worship, fellowship and educational facilities on Kirchoff rd.

Kroeber, a resident of Arlington Heights since 1924, specializes in church architecture. In the last 10 years he has designed 75 Chicago area churches, including the Church of the Good Shepherd in Elk Grove Village and Faith Lutheran church in Arlington Heights.

ONE OF HIS best known contributions to Arlington Heights' architecture is the Arlington Heights Savings and Loan building.

First designs are expected to be completed by December, with ground breaking planned for next spring.

Pastor of the congregation is the Rev. W. Rowland Koch, 1710 West Grove, Arlington Heights. The congregation now meets at South junior high school. (A

OFTEN MISUSED

The word MAD properly means insane. Its use to mean "angry" is colloquial, and should be avoided.
The preposition "of" should not follow "all," unless the next word is a pronoun. Thus: "ALL THE men were present," and, "ALL OF us were absent." (M

ARE YOU FEARFUL OF DEATH?

You began to die the moment you drew your first breath. Much of life is spent prolonging it.

Christ assured us of life AFTER death. John 14:1-2. Our Church has a message of life everlasting.

Dear Sue

A TEENAGER'S POINT OF VIEW
BY SUE McDONALD

(Paddock Publications this week launches a new feature column written expressly for teenagers from a teenager's point of view. Our teen readers are invited to write "Dear Sue" at Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights, Ill.)

Teenage elopments seem to get more frequent every year. I get may letters from advice-seeking teens who are considering run-away marriages.

They give many of the same reasons for wanting early secret marriages. In some cases, they are unhappy at home and marriage is an escape. Others have had a happy home life, but their parents oppose the young marriage. Still others plan to run away with a boy or girl who is unhappy at home and has persuaded them to elope.

There are dangers in all of these situations. Marriage should not be just an escape from an unhappy home. It is obviously one of the most important steps in a person's life and should be made rationally.

Parents often have very good reasons for being against young marriages. First of all, a teenager is not fully mature and his taste may change. Remember last year when you were madly in love with that boy who is only a good friend now?

Young marriages may prevent finishing education or professional training. And young married couples definitely miss out on a lot of the fun of growing up and social life.

Parents can provide an atmosphere which will prevent the teen's desire to elope. In happy homes where independence and free choice of dates is allowed and where the parents don't matchmake, the majority of teens will confide in their parents and will respect them too much to want to hurt them by eloping.

The following letters are from typical teens who are considering a runaway marriage.

Dear Sue,

My problem may sound unbelievable, but it is real. I am a 17-year-old girl and am engaged to a 21-year-old boy. My mother is against my fiance, not because she doesn't like him, but because his name sounds "foreign." She has no other objections to my marriage. I don't want to elope, but that seems to be the only solution.

San Francisco, Calif.
Jan

Dear Jan,

If your mother's only objection is your fiance's name, then she is being ridiculous. Seventeen is young for marriage, however; perhaps that is her real objection. Have a serious talk with your mother and explain how you feel. If she still refuses to change her mind, you have two choices. Elope or postpone your wedding. At your age I would advise the latter.

Sue

Dear Sue,

My parents have never allowed me to date anyone except the sons of their friends. I'm now 16 and have fallen in love with a boy that they don't even know I've dated. He has graduated from high school and we want to get married. Should I tell them or just elope?

Betty
Trenton, N. J.

Dear Betty,

I think you should talk with your parents and tell them that you have dated this boy and plan to continue doing so. Don't spring marriage plans on them this soon!

Just Around the Corner from Patty McArdle

Teacher for a Day

Dear Peg:

I was a kindergarten teacher for one day and believe me I have a brand new respect for all kindergarten teachers. Anyone who thinks this isn't one of the most demanding, taxing and sometimes frustrating jobs there is should try it! It so happened that our kindergarten teacher had to attend a funeral, so the principal asked me to pinch hit for the day. It wasn't as if I were going in cold, since for the past two years I've been teaching music in the kindergarten and will again this year. However, there's a great deal of difference between a couple of hours a day and a full day.

Fortunately, Mrs. Joyce had left a complete schedule of the day. The children started arriving in little groups (some with mothers) and I met them at the door. They were a little shy at first, but having been told the day before that I would be there, they soon warmed up.

As soon as they all arrived, we said our morning prayer then sat down to get better acquainted. The first job was to learn to pronounce my name. With a few exceptions, no amount of practice would change "Miss Skardle" to "Mrs. McArdle." We gave up that task and concentrated on my pronunciation of their names. I wasn't much better and roll call was accompanied by a good deal of giggling.

This brought us to the short period of religious instruction. We talked about Adam and Eve and the garden of Paradise and particularily how happy they were living there with all the friendly animals and birds. We also touched briefly on their banishment because of their disobedience. The children were fascinated by the story especially when we discussed the lions and tigers who would come right up and eat out of Adam's hand or lie down at his feet, because all the living creatures loved God and each other.

When this was over, the monitors brought crayons and paper to the tables for drawing. I asked that they draw a picture of the garden for Mrs. Joyce to see the next day. Now of all the things in this beautiful garden that we discussed would be nice to draw, what do you suppose most of them chose to depict? You guessed it — the lions and tigers!

Children love to sing. I think we became fast friends when I sat down at the piano and we all sang the songs that were familiar to them and ended up by learning a new one to surprise Mrs. Joyce with. It was soon time for the milk and cookie break and along with it the choosing of a "milkman" and a "cookie girl." We decided that the way to choose these people was to give the jobs to the quietest ones. To ask kindergartners to be quiet is like asking baby chicks to stop peeping, so the field of contenders narrowed down rather quickly and among the three or four who were left, I had to shut my eyes, turn around and point to a winner.

You know how children love games, so in order to keep them quiet as we walked down the hall to the cafeteria, I suggested that we all lock up our mouths with little keys (not a new idea, but effective) and tip toe as quietly as little mice. I'm happy to say that we only had one broken bottle of milk out of a possible 38 — so kindergarten teacher also becomes clean-up girl with mop, broom and dust pan.

The weather was warm and sunny so we went out for recess. Kindergarten teachers also becomes nurse, taking care of small abrasions and sending the more serious ones to professional help. A kindergarten teacher has to be a wonderful mixture of mother, teacher, friend and leader and perhaps even the one most responsible for creating in a child a like or dislike for school, which could be the lasting impression throughout their school years.

My love,
Patty

Vance L. Folkman Claims Bunny Bessemer as Bride

(Community Camera—(S

A reception at the Country Squire, Grayslake, was the setting for 23 guests, following the October 7 marriage of Bunny Bessemer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gottlieb Bessemer of Palatine, and Vance L. Folkman, son of the August Folkmans of Mt. Prospect.

The wedding took place in St. Raymonds Catholic Church, Mt. Prospect and was performed by Father Coughlin. Organist for the eleven-thirty a. m. service was Mrs. Hazel Voorhees, whose selections were, "Jubilate Deo Gloria In Excelsis" and "Pastorale Chorale." Two baskets of white mums and chrysanthemums decorated the church.

COMING DOWN the aisle on the arm of her father, the bride wore a rust-brown, textured wool suit and matching velvet pillbox hat with veiling. She wore a corsage of tan cymbidiums.

Mrs. Maynie Tobler, of Mt. Prospect, sister of the groom, was matron of honor. She wore a pale pink cymbidium corsage on her textured wool, teal blue suit and a veiled gray fur coif.

John Maloney, of Des Plaines, was best man. Ushers were the bride's three brothers, Ronald, Eric and Roy Bessemer, Palatine and Wilbur Tobler, Mt. Prospect.

For the ceremony and reception the bride's mother wore a pale green brocade sheath dress with matching jacket and dark green accessories. Mrs. Folkman also chose a pale green brocade sheath dress and matching jacket, with beige accessories. Both mothers wore a corsage of light pink roses.

AMONG SPECIAL guests at the wedding and reception were the groom's three children, Patti, Danny and Gordon Folkman and their grandmother, Mrs. Marie Rizzi.

After a three week wedding trip in the Southwestern states the bridal pair will be at home at 900 Meyer rd., Mt. Prospect.

The new Mrs. Folkman graduated from Palatine high school and is now employed at Leath & Co., Lincolnwood. Mr. Folkman, a graduate of Arlington Heights high school, is employed by Illinois Bell Telephone Co., Chicago.

Arlington Heights Man Takes Glen Ellyn Bride

St. Petronille church in Glen Ellyn was decorated with white chrysanthemums and glads for the wedding of Miss Diane Rose McHugh, daughter of the M. D. McHughs of Glen Ellyn and an Arlington Heights man, Jan Van Deusen, son of Mrs. Harry Van Deusen of Arlington Heights.

The early afternoon service took place September 9 with Msgr. Eugene Luke officiating.

The bride, wearing a white nylon chiffon gown embroidered in pearls and sequins, came down the aisle on the arm of her father. Her dress was fashioned with a sabrina neckline, three-quarter sleeves and a full skirt with chapel train.

Her 3-tiered fingertip illusion veil fell from a high crown of crystals and pearls and she carried a cascade of stephanotis and a white orchid.

MISS MARILYN Gaul of Maywood was maid of honor and bridesmaid was Miss Janice Jacobson of Wheaton. Their gowns were of romance blue satin and they wore veils attached to satin crowns of the same shade of blue. White pompons and sweetheart roses made up their cascades.

The bride's 9-year-old cousin, Mary Pat Froio of Midlothian, was flower girl and also was in romance blue. Instead of a veiled crown, Mary Pat wore a wreath of flowers encircling her ponytail.

Robert Peterson of Arlington Heights, a school friend of the groom, was best man and ushers were Robert's brother, Donald, and John Luk of Milwaukee.

THE SERVICE was followed by a reception and dinner in St. Andrews country club where the bride's mother received in a mauve silk organza sheath with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage. Mrs. Van Deusen chose a slate blue peau de soie dress with matching accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses.

The couple honeymooned in New York and Washington, D.C. and are now making their home at 506 Westmore ave., Lombard.

The new Mrs. Van Deusen was graduated from Glenbard West high school and her bridegroom was graduated from Arlington high school, after which he spent four years in the navy.

Joyce Quarnstrom Is Jim Schilling's Bride

(Community Camera

A seed pearl crown with veil was Miss Joyce Quarnstrom's "something borrowed" when she became the bride of James Schilling in a double ring ceremony September 9 in First Methodist Church of Palatine. The bride is the daughter of the Martin Quarnstroms, 539 W. Chicago, Palatine, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Helen Schilling, 100 S. Brockway, Palatine.

Officiating at the 5 o'clock service was Wilbur M. Childress, pastor of the church. Organist was Miss Mercie Heise and soloist was George Palmer. Mr. Palmer's selections were "I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's gown was of silk organza over taffeta fashioned with three-quarter sleeves and a sweetheart neckline. Her veil and crown was borrowd from a close friend. White carnations, stephanotis and ivy made up her bridal bouquet.

Mr. Quarnstrom gave his daughter in marriage.

MISS LOLA Quarnstrom was her sister's maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Andrea Mack of Madison and Miss Carol Schaefer of Palatine. Their gowns were of copen blue silk organza lined in taffeta and fashioned with V necklines while their bouquets were of white and copen blue carnations with green ferns.

Mrs. Quarnstrom chose a beige silk organza dress with brown accessories and Mrs. Schilling a cocoa brown lace with brown accessories. Both mothers wore pink carnation corsages to complement their ensembles.

Robert Davis of Palatine was best man to the groom and ushers were the bride's uncle, Harold Smith of Elgin, and Roger Harman of Palatine.

A DINNER reception in the church for 175 guests followed the service, after which Mr. Schilling took his bride on a 10-day wedding trip to the Wisconsin Dells. They are now at home at 2406 Grouse lane, Rolling Meadows.

The new Mrs. Schilling was graduated from Palatine high school and is now employed by the personnel department of the Pure Oil Co., Palatine. The bridegroom was graduated from Niles high school and is parts manager of Doyno Motors.

Engagements

Carol Glaeser

The engagement of Miss Carol Glaeser to Gert-Ullrick Schongart, son of Mrs. Marta Schongart of Frankfort, Germany is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Glaeser of Sleepy Hollow. The Glaesers resided in Mt. Prospect for 24 years before moving from the area a year ago.

Miss Glaeser was graduated from Arlington high school and MacMurray college and also did graduate work in political science at Rutgers. For the last two years she was director of recreatiional activities for the Fifth Army in Kassel, Germany. She returned in August and is now teaching in Park Ridge.

Mr. Schongart studied interior design in Germany and Sweden and for the last year has been employed by Swain-Myers in Decatur.

The couple plans an October 21 wedding in South Church, Mt. Prospect with a reception to follow in the home of the bride's parents.

Judith Makinson

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Makinson, 11 S. Parkway, Prospect Heights, announce the engagement of their daughter, Judith Kay, to Ted Tonneman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Tonneman of Chicago.

The couple met at Northern Illinois university, from which Mr. Tonneman was graduated. Mr. Tonneman was a member of Pi Kappa Phi fraternity and Miss Makinson was a Kappa Delta.

Mr. Tonneman is now attending officer candidate school in Newport, R. I. and will graduate November 17. The couple is planning a November 25 wedding and a honeymoon in California. (Community Camera (S

Arlington Juniors Plan Fashion Show

Arlington Heights Junior Woman's club will hold one of its main fund raising projects of the season at 11:30 a.m., Wednesday, Nov. 8, at the Villa Venice in Northbrook.

This event, "Autumn Leaves," will be a fashion show and luncheon to be presented in conjunction with Doris Kirkeby of Mt. Prospect. Marge Kirbey of New York, will do the commentary on the fall and winter fashions worn by both professional models and a few of the club members. Everything from lingerie to formal attire will be shown. Organ music will be provided by the Roy Baumann studios of Arlington Heights.

A COCKTAIL hour will precede the 12:30 p.m. luncheon. Highlighting the menu will be pink champagne and breast of chicken with wild rice.

This annual event earns much of the money needed for the club's many local philanthropies, plus state projects supported jointly with the Illinois Federation of Womens Clubs.

Reservations for this gala event may be made with chairman of the fashion show, Mrs. Elmore Lechelt, CL 5-0811; or ways and means chairman, Mrs. Bruce Kelly, CL 9-0854. (S

Chuck Wagon Dance Is Saturday

Square dancing, with instructions for beginners, regular ballroom dancing, a grand march, group singing, a hokey pokey, a bunny hop, audience participation events, a Virginia reel and mixers are slated for the chuck wagon square dance to be held October 14 at the Plum Grove club house in Plum Grove Estates.

Leading the festivities will be the Kenosha Corn Huskers, old-time square dance string ensemble, reported to be experts at showing beginners how to square dance.

Plaid shirts, jeans and loafers will be the uniform of the evening. (S

Rx for Speedy Youngsters

Are your children moving too fast? Do they dart hither and thither with such speed as to make you dizzy? I have the sure cure for slowing them down. It is sort of a reverse psychology.

Around our house all I have to do to slow the young down to a walk is tell them to hurry. The other day the small one was buzzing around in his usual fashion when I snagged him and told him that we were going to get dressed up and go somewhere. I happened to tell him also that we had to hurry. That was the mistake.

First he had to put his toys away. This is almost unheard of. It has been my observation that his toys could jolly well stay any which way until he was ready to marry and leave home. Then he insisted that he was going to wear his beach boy pants. These are the love of his life but lots of wear on these white, or once white, britches has left them more of a tattle-tale gray.

Having talked him into something more conservative but cleaner he decided that he had to have a bath. Into the bath he had to take a full fleet of ships and a brace of ducks. All this time I am controlling myself and saying yes dear but let's hurry, huh? Finally he wandered out of the tub and I poured him into his underwear.

As I turned my back to find his shoes, we always have to find his shoes as they lose more easily than anything I have ever encountered, he disappeared completely. I finally found him in a closet happily playing with his Lincoln Logs. As he has evinced absolutely no interest in Lincoln Logs in his short and merry life, I felt that this was carrying dilly dallying too far. I am sorry to report that my reins on my temper snapped with a clatter. Which actually did nothing to help the situation, but I felt better.

We arrived at our destination with him looking like an angel and me looking as though I had been put together with safety pins. He had a very nice time, I am pleased to say. It took me an hour before my hands stopped shaking. The next time we go out together, I shall start getting him ready yesterday.

Wayne Wegren Takes Elgin Bride In Sept. 9 Nuptials

Amid candlelight glow, 200 guests witnessed the September 9 marriage of Miss Sandra Lee Nagel and Wayne Wegren in the Good Shepherd Lutheran church in Elgin.

The double ring service united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Nagel of Elgin and the son of Mrs. Elmer Wegren, 712 N. Chestnut, Arlington Heights.

ESCORTED TO the altar on the arm of her father, Miss Nagel wore an imported chantilly lace gown, combined with sheer nylon tulle over satin, featuring a scalloped neckline.

She carried a bouquet of white snowdrift pompons and glamelias, centered with a single orchid. Accenting her ensemble was an aurora borealis crown and two-strand crystal necklace.

SERVING HER sister as maid of honor was Sherry Nagel; bridesmaids were Nancy Nagel, Dundee, Phyllis Landers and Karen Schmidt, both of Elgin. Their peacock blue and aqua gowns of silk organza were waltz-length, styled with fitted bodices and cap sleeves.

Flowers for attendants were cascades of yellow mums. The bride's other sister, Susie, was flower girl and the groom's nephew, Steven Wegren, was ringbearer.

BEST MAN was William Wegren of Wichita, brother of the groom. Ushers were Frank Schiebe of Chicago, Dennis Sandelin, Broadview and Kent Molenkamp, Mount Prospect.

Following the nuptials a reception was held in the VFW hall in West Dundee. The new Mrs. Wegren is a '59 graduate of Elgin high school and her groom completed studies at Arlington high school in '52.

MR. WEGREN is employed at Clayton Motors in Oak Park. Honeymoon destination was a trip to Florida and they are now at home in Addison. (S

Palatine Newlyweds Move To Round Lake

Two former Palatine Township high school students, Miss Donna Lea Ebert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman A. Ebert, 48 S. Ash st., Palatine, and Kenneth W. Martin, son of the Chester W. Martins, 918 W. Old Northwest hwy., Palatine, were married on September 23.

For their home town rites St. Paul United Church of Christ was decorated with candelabra, white gladioli and mums. Rev. Glenn G. Gumm performed the double ring ceremony at 6 p.m. while soloist, Harold Berg, offered several musical renditions.

Carrying a bouquet of white roses centered with a single orchid, Miss Ebert was escorted to the altar on the arm of her father. Her white chantilly lace ballerina-length gown was styled with long sleeves and scalloped neckline, trimmed with pearls and sequins.

An aurora borealis crown was fastened to her fingertip veil of silk illusion. Headpiece of the matron of honor, Mrs. Jane Bridges of Venetian Village, Lake Villa, was an orchid bow band with silk veil, matching the entire ensemble.

FASHIONED with silk organza, the attendant's ballerina-length gown had ¾-length sleeves, and was high-lighted with lace inserts. Flowers were in crescent shape, consisting of orchid painted mums.

Both mothers wore pink rosebud corsages. Mrs. Ebert's beige silk sheath with embroidered overskirt was accented with brown accessories. Choice of the groom's mother was a gray lace dress over dusty rose taffeta.

THREE PALATINE men served the groom. They were Ronald Wegner, best man; and Norman E. Ebert and Wesley Martin as ushers, all present at a buffet dinner attended by 160 guests in the local American Legion hall following the ceremony.

Graduated from Palatine high school in '59, Mr. Martin is now employed as a civilian technician at the nearby nike site. He and the bride honeymooned at Long Lake for a week and are now at home at 1315 W. Lake Shore dr., Round Lake. (S

Here's HAUGH to Plan a Party

Barbie Doll Birthday Party

By DOLORES HAUGH

It seems that all the rage this fall is the Barbie doll. Remember when it was the Patsy doll, the Ginny doll? Anyway, why not have a birthday doll party?

INVITATIONS

Have the little hostess make the invitations and she can draw a picture of the doll she wants to share her birthday spotlight. Write the time, place and instructions such as "Please bring your Barbie doll" or one like it. Have RSVP so you know how many dolls you will have to plan for.

PREPARATIONS

Main event of the birthday, outside of opening the presents and eating, of course, will be making some clothes for the dolls. This will be pre-planned so that every one can be assured of at least one outfit to take home.

Felt is excellent for this as no rough edges have to be sewn. Simple circle skirts and double fold tunics with fancy braid, ribbon or flower trim make colorful, attractive, inexpensive and easily-assembled apparel for these dolls.

Of course the accessories are fun too. Make doll hats from bits of plastic, straw, net, flowers and the like. Also purses and stoles but let the children design their own; just supply plenty of materials.

DECORATIONS

The table for working on the costumes should be ample for elbow room and supplied with a box for flowers, laces and other decorations, a box for scraps, a box of thread, enough scissors and then the pre-cut costumes. Also have glue that will adhere to felt for appliques. Pins, buttons and bows, too, have a box of their own for easy sorting later and clean up too. The girls can do the cleaning when their doll is dressed, thus making it easier on mother.

THE TABLE should be set for the children in a different room, if possible, or if space is limited use a buffet serving which makes the girls feel ever so grown up. Serve tiny sandwiches, hot cocoa and the birthday cake which can be baked in a form tin which gives a high cake with a hole in the center.

Frost the cake and then insert a Barbie doll in the hole and dress her from the waist up. Frost as close to the doll as possible and place a wide ruffle on elastic thread on the doll to overlap so that the doll will not touch the frosting. Fancy net and flowers for the head dress may be made in duplicate to surround each small candle placed in individual holders. These candle holders will march down the center of the table.

Napkins and paper plates, cups and tablecloth should correspond in color to the dress of the cake-doll in pink or whatever happens to be the hostess' favorite color.

FOR THE dolls, have tiny plastic cups and saucers and plates, these may be purchased very inexpensively in sets at the dime stores. Have them set at a tiny table using a napkin for the tablecloth and tiny birthday candles for the table decoration. A gumdrop makes an excellent holder.

For favors, tiny accessories such as a new pair of shoes, handbag or beach bag, can be wrapped in a tube, rewrapped in a contrasting or corresponding colored crepe paper, tied at each end with a ribbon, and the ends fringed. Fasten on a tiny flower and the child's name thus giving you placecards and a favor combined as well as a decoration.

Any little girl would be pleased, I'm sure, with a birthday party including her friends and all their beloved dolls. (S

Patricia Molumby Bride Of High School Teacher

A Mount Prospect girl, the former Patricia Ann Molumby, who has been teaching grade school in Milwaukee, Wis., was married to a Milwaukee high school teacher on July 22 in St. Raymond church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Molumby, 405 S. Main st., Mount Prospect. The bridegroom is John Charles Gosling of the Wisconsin city.

Following the wedding festivities and a month's honeymoon to the west coast, the bridal pair are back to their teaching jobs. Mr. Molumby teaches science in Pius XI high school, Milwaukee.

THE BRIDE, escorted to the church altar by her father, chose a wedding gown of ivory silk peau de soie, fashioned with a scoop neckline, elbow length sleeves and full skirt ending in a chapel train. A Dior bow to match the gown was her headpiece and held a fingertip veil in place. The bridal bouquet was of white glamellias, and the bride's only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Rev. T. J. O'Brien united the couple before an altar decorated with bouquets of white gladioli, mums and carnations. He was assisted by Rev. J. J. Doyle. Organist was Mrs. Hazel Voorhees, who accompanied soloists John Griffin, David Jamieson, Mrs. Dorothy O'Brien and Mrs. Isabel Rowland.

Two attendants served the bride for the double ring rites. Miss Rosalie Hajostek of Milwaukee was maid of honor, and Miss Mary Jo Sutter of Madison was bridesmaid. Both girls were gowned alike in turquoise silk dresses styled similarly to the bride's gown, and each wore matching shoes and small hat. Their flowers were a cascade of white mums.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Thomas Gosling of Milwaukee, and ushers were Robert Molumby of Mount Prospect, Kenneth Olson of Minneapolis and Donald Kohlbeck of Milwaukee.

A wedding breakfast following the ceremony was served to 100 guests in the Pantry, Park Ridge. The bride's mother was attired in a rose linen sheath dress with pink accessories for the nuptials. She wore a corsage of garnet roses with a center of pink carnations.

The new Mrs. Gosling is a graduate of Arlington high school and St. Mary college, where she received her degree in 1959. Mr. Gosling received his bachelor degree at St. Norbert college and master degree from Marquette university.

Donald Kroeber Takes Bride in Switzerland

A chapel in Basel, Switzerland was the scene Tuesday, Oct. 10, of the marriage of Miss Jamie Sue White of Dora, Ala. and 1st Lt. Donald W. Kroeber, son of the Walter Kroebers, 709 S. Walnut, Arlington Heights.

The couple, who met in Giessen, Germany, where the bride is a special service librarian with the army and Lt. Kroeber is an officer with a firing battery of the 3rd missile battalion, 79th artillery, will spend their wedding trip on a European tour.

THEIR engagement was announced in April, when the groom's parents visited Giessen while touring Germany, Italy, France and England.

Attending the couple were Lt. and Mrs. William Walz of France. Lt. Walz, a fraternity brother of the groom, is stationed with the air force.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. John L. Raggett of Dora, studied library science at the University of Alabama in Tuscaloosa. The groom studied foreign affairs and political science at Northwestern university and Iowa State college. He was commissioned in April 1958 at Ft. Sill, Okla.

A shower, by proxy, was given for the bride last month by the groom's aunt, Mrs. Edwin H. Meyer of Arlington Heights. (S

'Gunsmoke Gaieties' Set For Friday at Elmhurst

"Gunsmoke Gaieties" a western party to be held at the Elmhurst country club Friday, Oct. 13, will be the fall project of the Mt. Prospect center of the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago. The club will be decorated in a Dodge City theme reminiscent of the old west and members of the center and their guests will be dressed in western costumes.

There will be dancing in the ballroom, games in the saloon and a chuck wagon served from 11 to 1. Proceeds will help pay some of the expenses in running an Infant Welfare station.

THE WOMEN'S auxiliary of the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago is in its 50th year as a philanthropic organization for the Chicago needy, with its main purpose to help raise money to support the 17 clinics and stations. Each of these stations, located in the poorest and most over-crowded sections of the city, are staffed with a doctor and two nurses where regular medical supervision is given to expectant mothers, infants and children up to the age of 6.

Between these conferences the nurses make home visits to teach the mothers how to keep their children well.

Members of the Mt. Prospect center do volunteer work each month at the Armitage station and also contribute toys and clothing to be distributed at the station. (S

Sorority Activities

DELTA GAMMA

Two meetings have marked the opening of the 1961-62 year for the northwest suburban Delta Gamma alumnae.

A series of countryside coffees was conducted during September. New Arlington Heights Delta Gammas were feted at the home of Mrs. William Yaeger and Mrs. James Campbell was hostess to Mount Prospect alumnae.

At the first general meeting a regional representative of the California Institute of Wine Growers presented a program on wines and their uses, with particular emphasis on wine cookery.

DELTA GAMMA alumnae who have not been contacted by the association are urged to call their community chairman: Arlington Heights, Mrs. E. L. Somers, CL 9-1106; Mount Prospect, Mrs. Marshall Field, CL 9-0494; Inverness-Palatine, Mrs. Fred Anderson, FL 9-1531. Mrs. James Campbell of Mount Prospect, CL 9-0247, is membership chairman.

CHI OMEGA

Chicago northwest suburban alumnae of Chi Omega will preview the new toys, dolls and educational toys scientifically designed for children from tots to teens when they meet at 8:15 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 17, in the Park Ridge home of Mrs. Clare Perlin, 107 Columbia ave.

The new president, Mrs. Harold Wolff, will conduct a short business meeting and introduce Mrs. Donald Normandt as the new vice president of the alumnae group.

All Chi Omega alumnae in the northwest suburbs are invited and may telephone Mrs. Wolff at CL 3-5611 for reservations.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Food, facts and fiction, too, are close to the woman's heart. That is why the Chicago northwest suburban alumnae club of Kappa Alpha Theta will meet Thursday, Oct. 19, to hear Mrs. Dorothy Fina. The meeting will be held at 1 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Mary Ann Stiegmeier, 877 W. Cornell, Palatine. Mrs. Carol Svoboda is co-hostess.

MRS. FINA has named her subject, "Food - Fact - and Fiction." The in-store food consultant for the north suburban area for Hillman's, Mrs. Fina is a home economics graduate from the University of Illinois. She formerly had her own catering business and presently assists in meal planning, party planning and food budgeting.

Mrs. Stiegmeier requests that alumnae of Kappa Alpha Theta who have recently moved into the area, telephone her at FL 8-2035.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

A film, "Communism on the Map," and a talk by Mrs. Aldrich Krejci of Park Ridge is planned for the October meeting of the Chicago northwest suburban alumnae chapter of Delta Delta Delta.

Hostess for the program, which will be Wednesday, Oct. 18, at 8 p.m., is Mrs. George W. Rodormer, 638 Ottawa, Park Ridge. All Tri Delta alumnae are invited to bring a guest to the meeting.

Reservations should be made by Monday, Oct. 16, by calling Mrs. Elliott Timme at TA 3-6031.

BETA SIGMA PHI

Lambda Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held its "rushee party" October 4 in the Palatine home of Mrs. Thomas McLaughlin. Receiving personal invitations to join the group were Mrs. Herbert Canniff and Mrs. Richard Ericksen of Palatine and Miss Eileen Swan of Rolling Meadows.

The history of the group was given by Mrs. Robert Lang of Mt. Prospect and Mrs. Frank Wiedl of Palatine presented the past projects and service record of the chapter.

THE CHAPTER also welcomed two transferees, Mrs. Vernon Schlexer of Arlington Heights and Mrs. Jean Turman of Mt. Prospect.

October 18 is set for the next meeting of the chapter. It will be held in the Palatine home of Mrs. Wayne McBride. This will be an open meeting and guests are invited for the program, which will be a jewelry demonstration. (S

WOMEN OF THE MOOSE

A rummage and used article sale, sponsored by the Des Plaines Women of the Moose, will be held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday, Oct. 20, in the Moose lodge. "Donations of fall clothing will be appreciated" commented Mrs. Dorothy Tucker. She continued, "If possible, donors should mark the size on the article, tie shoes together and have the clothes in presentable condition."

The group is also presenting a chicken dinner October 27, to which the public is invited. Mrs. Tucker can be contacted at CL earbrook 5-1328.

ST. SIMON WOMEN

Down On The Farm

CARL F. MEES

with Your Farm Adviser

I have received several calls recently about mushrooms that are growing in the front lawn. Abundant moisture and proper temperatures in Illinois have produced a bumper crop of mushrooms. Many front lawns provide an abundant and an all too handy supply for the unsuspecting children or the unknowing adults.

Be sure about mushrooms, says University of Illinois mycologist D. P. Rogers. Have them identified by an expert or buy them from the store. Your life is worth more than a plate of mushrooms.

One good mowing will no doubt take care of the mushrooms in your lawn, since the weather and moisture were just right for the present crop.

Studies reveal that all individuals, particularly growing children, can work and play best if they have from a fourth to a third of their daily food requirement at the start of the day. Food habit studies show that far too many children and adults either skip breakfast or eat an inadequate amount. Good breakfast habits are important if a good diet is to be obtained. Children are often partial to some types of food. In this land of abundance, such a good job has been done in the production, processing, and distribution of the wide variety of foods that make up our food supply that it is not necessary for youngsters to eat a stereotype breakfast to be adequately fed. Why don't you take a look at your breakfast menu and see if it is the type your children like, if not, change it so that they will eat an adequate breakfast each day.

Speaking of food, for the third consecutive month, turkey tops the U. S. D. A. plentiful foods list. It looks like they will continue to be in good supply for the rest of the year.

Also in plentiful supply during October are broilers, fryers, beef, late summer vegetables. To go with all of these meat and poultry items, a wide variety of late summer vegetables are available. There is no need for anyone not to have a wide variety of meals during this season of the year.

Arlington Heights has just completed its 125th year celebration, thhe Extension Service and the Cook County Farm Bureau have been located in the city for the past 41 years. Many changes have taken place during this time, much farmland has been used for industrial and subdivisions.

A total of 4,000 cases of accidental poisoning were reported to the Chicago Board of Health by hospitals during 1959; 1,539 resulted in hospitalization and 35 were fatal. Hospital reports reveal three significant facts: (1) about nine-tenths of the cases resulted from substance used primarily within the home; (2) three-quarters of the cases were children under four years of age; (3) almost half of the persons poisoned lived in 12 of the City's 75 community areas. The lesson we should all learn from these statistics is that we should be extremely careful when we have poisonous material around the home. Let's keep it away from the reach of small children. (Fm

Recession Is Slowing Down, Simerl Notes

by L. H. SIMERL

The recovery from the 1960-61 business recession began fast, but is slowing down. For example, the flow of personal income increased about 4 per cent from February to July, but dipped ½ per cent in August.

The latest report on employment, for August, showed over 71 million persons at work. This was about the same as a year before. Unemployment was listed at 4½ million, or ¾ million more than a year earlier. New jobs have not been forthcoming to match the additions to the labor force.

Housing starts, which increased in five of the first six months of this year, declined in July and August. The annual rate of starts was 1,317,000 in August compared with 1,335,000 the year before and over 1,400,000 two years before. Housing construction is one of the nation's biggest industries.

STEEL PRODUCTION swelled from around 6 million tons a month at the first of the year to 9 million tons in May. Monthly output since May has been 8 million to 9 million tons.

Families are still cautious in spending their money. Installment debt is about the same as it was a year ago, while savings are greater. The slowness of personal and family buying to increase has been a major factor in holding back recovery.

Retail sales dipped to a recession low of $17.8 billion in January and February. They went up a bit to $18.1 billion in March, but have not increased since then. Retail sales, however, have lagged in other recoveries, particularly those of 1954 and 1958.

CONSUMERS are better supplied with goods now than they were in the earlier years. They are less pressed to buy automobiles, furniture and appliances. Another point is that uncertainties about military service obligations prevent many families from making major purchases.

Trends in bank credit are good measures of the change in tides of business. Many bankers are disappointed in the slow demand from businesses for loans. Business firms are not borrowing as much to finance expansion and improvements as had been expected.

There is some thought that when and if consumers start on another spending spree, businessmen will borrow to increase their spending for new plants and equipment. But many businesses have just completed expansion programs and see no profit from increasing their outlays for capital items.

BUSINESS failures jumped in August to 74 per 10,000 enterprises compared with about 62 in earlier months of this year and late 1960. In 1959 and 1960 the monthly rate of failures was only about 50 per 10,000. The biggest increase in failures was among retail stores selling apparel, furniture, hardware and general merchandise.

Spending by state and city governments has continued to increase, but only at a normal rate. No big change in such spending is in sight. Spending by the federal government is increasing, but not so rapidly as in the recovery from the 1957-58 recession. (Fm

Three New Members Join Home Bureau

Three new members joined Elk Grove Home Bureau members at their first fall meeting held September 27 in the home of Mrs. George Koelper. They were Mrs. Edward Moder, Mrs. Donald Mollenkamp and Mrs. Theophild Thibault.

The lesson for the month, "When Families Face Crises," was presented by Mrs. Hilmer Mahler. The first craft lesson on Christmas decorations will be held October 24 in the Roselle home of Mrs. Ted DePalma beginning at 9:30 a.m. Craft materials are available in the Home Bureau office in the basement of the Des Plaines post office, and those attending are asked to bring scissors and straight pins.

A FULL DAY'S activities have been planned for October 17 when members will meet for a tour of a Skokie cleaning plant. After the tour, members will lunch and meet again at 1 p.m. for another tour, this of the Salerno-Megowen Biscuit Co.

Since Mrs. Upham is giving monthly lessons to two units October 25, the Mt. Prospect group will meet at 11 a.m. instead of noon. Mrs. John Oltragge will have the meeting in her farmstead home prior to moving to her new home in Arlington Heights. Mrs. Hilmer Mahler, Mrs. John Moehling and Mrs. Irwin Mueller will serve the dessert and coffee.

Mr. Farmer: Check That Corn Picker

A preharvest season checkup of your corn picker can save you time and money, says Robert Hood, Cook county assistant farm adviser.

What's more, the fewer times your picker clogs, the smaller the chances that you'll be injured while cleaning it. First cleaning it. First check the gathering chains. They should be tight and have no broken or cracked links.

Snapping rolls that are badly worn won't do the job as they should. If the snapping rolls are worn smooth, replace them or have rough spots welded on.

Make sure that the husking rolls are in good shape and that the springs still have plenty of life. If you get the picker out and do the checking now, your dealer will be better able to supply parts or order needed ones before picking time. (FM

WORD STUDY

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

INCUMBENT (adjective); imposed as a duty or obligation. "The quality of selflessness is incumbent on any great leader."

'Clothes,' Topic For Lincoln Unit

"The Way You Wear Your Clothes" was the lesson topic Mrs. Butler, home advisor, gave to members of Lincoln Home Bureau when they met September 21 in the Bensenville home of Mrs. Brewer. Fourteen members were present at the meeting. (FM

Keep Cover On Farming Equipment

Keep Safety Shield in Place.....

In this busy fall season, it's smart to play safe by having all safety shields in place on power take-offs and other moving farm machinery parts.

The stakes are too high for you to gamble against having an accident by working around machinery without guards, says Robert Hood, Cook county assistant adviser. If you lose, it's too late to be sorry.

GET STANDARD power take-off hitches and shields from your farm equipment dealer. But even the best shield will not protect you if you don't put it on.

Some manufacturers are putting on nonmovable power take-off shields to help protect operators against negligence. You can open these shields for servicing or inspection.

Remember that accidents do not respect either age or experience. (FM

Future Homes 4-H Club Has Guests

Sherry DePalma was hostess to the Future Homes 4-H club at the October 2 meeting of the group. The girls discussed their annual Halloween party and made plans for attending Recognition night.

Instructions on walking etiquette were given by Mrs. J. Iorio, a guest for the evening. Mrs. Ed Ostrowski was also a guest.

A talk was given by Suzanne DePalma entitled "When Glasses Should Be Worn." (FM

Mike Biddle Is New 4-H President

Mike Biddle was elected president of the Palatine Township 4-H at the group's September meeting. Other officers elected at the meeting were: George Pope, vice president; Georgia Bergman, secretary; Dick Biddle, treasurer; Joan O'Connor, reporter; James O'Connor, recreation chairman.

Federation delegates are Joan O'Connor and George Pope.

Members also handed in posters for the food contest and discussed plans for 4-H projects.

The group's next meeting will be held at the home of George and John Pope. Those wishing to join the group as members may contact Mr. Bergman at FL 8-1788. (Fm

Store Apples in Low Temperature

If you're a backyard orchardist wanting to store apples for winter "munching," take a tip from commercial growers, says Carl F. Mees, county extension coordinator. Combine low temperatures and high humidity to keep apples in storage.

Mees says there's a lot of truth in the old adage that one rotten apple will spoil the barrel.

So first store only sound, high-quality apples. Then try to lower the storage temperature to 31 to 33 degrees. Keep the humidity at 85 to 95 per cent. Temperatures below 28 degrees will damage apples, he warns.

MAINTAIN the correct storage temperature by insulating a storage area so that the temperature won't fluctuate during the day. Provide simple ventilation so that you can bring in cold air at night.

Pans of water or simple humidifers will furnish enough moisture to keep apples in good condition. When the storage is too dry, apples usually shrivel.

The old-fashioned dirt-floor cellar was ideal for apple storage, since it met both temperature and humidity requirements. An unheated basement might "fill the bill" if humidity is adequate.

IF THERE'S no way of lowering temperatures to around 31 degrees, plan to store at about 45 degrees, suggests Owen. At the higher temperature, you might expect to keep apples until January. At around 31 degrees, you might have apples until April.

Of course, for smaller volumes of apples, the hydrater of the refreigerator makes excellent storage space. And a tip for the housewife: If you're using apples for a table centerpiece, buy them just for that purpose. They won't stay in peak condition long at room temperatures. (FM

Pleasant Hill Development Displays Three Model Homes

The grand opening of Pleasant Hill development, Palatine, was held the weekend of October 7 and 8.

Pleasant Hill consists of 145 medium-priced brick homes. The new development is adjacent to the new Palatine high school, within walking distance of downtown Palatine and North Western rail commuting service. Grade schools and churches are also close by—as well as swimming, golf, tennis and other cultural and recreational facilities.

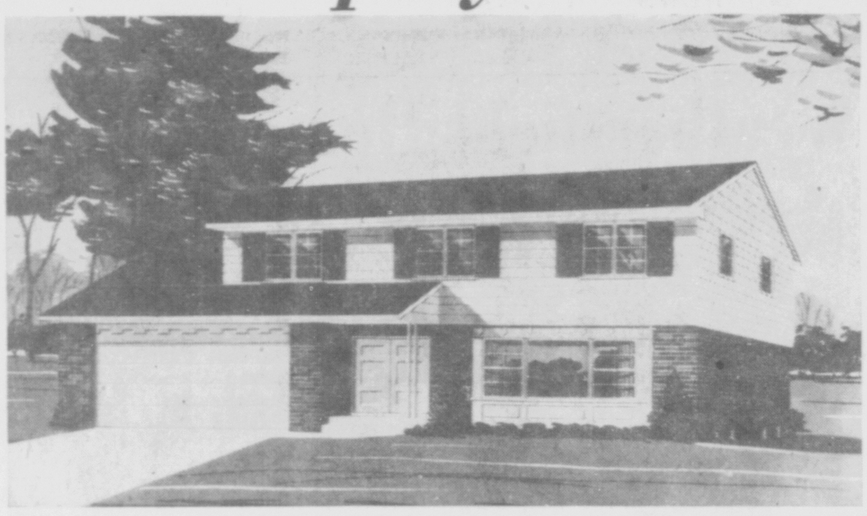
THREE furnished models are ready for public inspection. Prices range from $19,950 to $25,500 including improved lot, garage, asphalt-paved driveway, built-in range and oven, and sculptured spicewood kitchen cabinets.

Other features included in all homes at no extra cost are: brick exterior on all sides; at least two tiled baths; oak flooring; lighted closets with sliding doors; steel-girder construction; copper plumbing; stone door and window sills; gutters and downspouts; aluminum combination storm doors; kitchen exhaust fans and numerous others.

THE MARLTON is a large L-shaped brick ranch with attached garage and asphalt-paved driveway. This three-bedroom, two-bath home is priced at $19,950 including lot, with a down payment of $2,000.

The Pembroke brick mid-entry model with enclosed double garage has four bedrooms, two tiled baths, a large living/dining room, pantry, built-in range and oven, sculptured spicewood kitchen cabinets, and plenty of closets. Priced at $22,700 including lot, the Pembroke may be purchased with as little as $2,270 down. A low-priced three-bedroom, one-bath is offered with lower level unfinished.

THE SALEM two-story face-brick colonial features four bedrooms, two and one-half tiled baths, full basement, and attached two-car garage with double asphalt-paved driveway. Priced at $25,500 including lot, the Salem may be purchased with $2,600 down.



THE SALEM, a four bedroom, two bath colonial with family room and attached garage and asphalt driveway and full basement is one of the models featured in Pleasant Hill development, Palatine. (BB

Gilbert and Wolf, builders of Pleasant Hill, have constructed more than 4,000 homes in 37 different developments in the Chicago area. Their most recent are Fieldcrest, Playfield and Southfield, planned communities in Chicago's southwestern suburbs. Pleasant Hill is their first north suburban new-home development.

To reach Pleasant Hill in Palatine, take any northwest route (Route 72, 14, 58 or 12) to Plum Grove Road. Then drive north to Pleasant Hill entrance, which is ¾ mile south of downtown Palatine. (BB

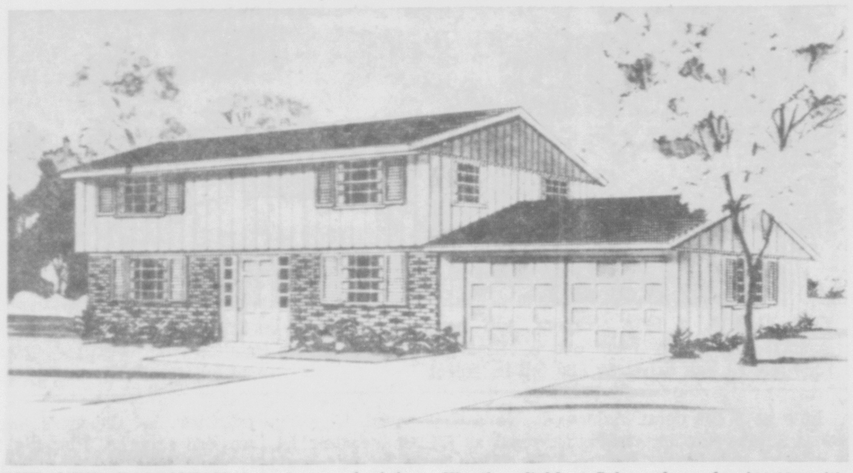
Weathersfield Home Models Open to Public Inspection



THE NEW BOSTONIAN two-story colonial, with four bedrooms and three separate bathrooms is offered by Campanelli Bros. in Weathersfield at Schaumburg for $21,900 with attached garage and ¼-acre landscaped lot. (BB

Numerous requests for a big-family home with plenty of bathrooms and bedrooms have prompted Campanelli Bros. to import a native New England design to the Chicago area. To meet these needs, they have introduced the new two-story Bostonian colonial in Weathersfield at Schaumburg. This home has four bedrooms and three separate bathrooms, consisting of one full and two half baths.

OFFERED AT $21,900 with $1,490 down payment to veterans, the Bostonian includes an attached two-car garage and a quarter-acre fully landscaped lot, with trees, shrubs and lawns already planted.

The gas-fired hot-water heating system radiates an even, gentle warmth from the floors upward in the new model. Baseboard heating encircles the four bedrooms and one and one-half baths on the upper floor. Copper heating coils are embedded in the floors of the kitchen, living room, separate dining room and extra half bath on the lower level.

OTHER FEATURES included in the Bostonian at no extra cost are: ceramic-tile and colored fixtures in all bathrooms; maple kitchen cabinets; range, disposal, washer and dryer; and sliding glass doors leading from the living room to the landscaped yard.

Weathersfield has 11 furnished models including ranches, mid-entry and colonial styles. Prices range from $15,950 to $21,990, with little or no down payment required.

To reach Weathersfield at Schaumburg, take Route 58 (Golf rd., or Route 72 (Higgins rd.) or Route 20 (Lake st.) or Route 19 (Irving Park rd.) to Barrington rd., then follow the Campanelli Brothers signs. (BB

Explain Varnish In Refinishing

By BOB WILKIN

We're in the home stretch now. Your pine table is stripped, sanded, stained, and sealed—all in six short articles. Let's varnish.

Q. Great. I've got some good varnish left over from doing the living room.

A. Sorry. Forget about floor varnishes, spar varnishes and anything else that isn't specifically known as a furniture varnish. Brush on a thin coat of a high-grade gloss varnish and let it dry at least five hours out of doors, longer inside. When THOROUGHLY dry, sand lightly with a finishing grade paper.

Q. Why the gloss varnish? I wanted an antique finish.

A. Right. Apply a second coat of dull varnish over the gloss. Try to use both a gloss and dull varnish made by the same manufacturer. The dull gives you the effect you want; the gloss is sturdier and insures resistance to temperature, humidity, detergents, alcohol, salts, etc.

Q. And that's it?

A. Almost. When COMPLETELY dry, dust with a clean, soft cloth and rub with a high-grade canuba-base paste wax. Work on only a small section at a time because wax tends to "set" quickly.

Had we wanted to end up with one of those antique effects which comes from a method, here's what we'd have done.

After we'd applied our sealer over the stain and sanded, we'd go over the entire area with another coat of slightly-darker stain applied with a soft cloth pad. For this process, we'd have purchased a specific type of stain called "Japan," or "ground in Japan."

We'd wipe this off the major part of the surface but leave the darker stain along the edges and in corners and crevviced parts of rungs and turnings. This second coat is called "glaze."

When thoroughly dry, we'd have applied a second coat of shellac sealer and continued with the varnishing steps.

In the final article, we'll offer some refinishing tips. (BB

139 HOMES SOLD IN 1st 9 MONTHS OF 1961

(including Co-Operative M.A.P. Multiple Listing Service)

We're not sure—but we'll wager this record can't be matched in this area.

We couldn't have made this statement 5 years ago – or 10 years ago – or 30 years ago—simply because we started this business not quite 4 years ago—but don't let this throw you, because our combined realtor and builder experience adds up to over 75 years, and we don't know where you'll find a sales staff that'll match the record they've produced thus far this year.

Why did this happen? No single reason — but we know how to work hard and realize it can't be done sitting down. We're also willing to spend thousands of dollars advertising in Chicago papers—it's expensive but unless it's done consistently it doesn't pay.

There are some other reasons for attaining this record —and if you're thinking of selling we'd welcome the opportunity to sit down and chat about your problem. It's very possible that we have a secret or two that would help — and remember that most of the buyers go to the broker that has the choice exclusives.

CHARACTERIZED BY EXPERTS in the child welfare field as "an exciting new concept in child care," the new Lutherbrook Children's Center will be dedicated at Addison, Sunday, according to the Rev. Ruben E. Spannaus of Elmhurst, executive director of the Lutheran Child Welfare Association. Open house will be held from 1:30 to 9 p.m. The dedication will begin with an acceptance ceremony at 3 p.m. and continue with a formal dedication service at 3:15 p.m. A consecration service for the Chapel-Library will be held at 7:30 p.m. The main dedication speaker will be the Rev. E. Buckley Glabe, D.D., of Minneapolis, Minnesota, chairman of the Board for Social Welfare of the Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod. Officiants at the evening services will be the Rev. Reuben Garber and the Rev. Richard Raedecke, Pastors of St. Paul Lutheran church in Addison. Lutherbrook Children's Center is built on the site of the original Evangelical Lutheran Orphan Home founded in Addison in 1873. It also replaces the Kinderheim, erected in 1926. Its unique modern design was developed by Holabird & Root, Chicago architects, and it was built by Havco, Inc. of Addison, General Contractors. Lutherbrook Children's Center is designed for the care and treatment of a maximum of forty children of elementary school age who have severe problems. Four cottages for ten children and their houseparents are provided. They connect with central dining and laundry facilities. A full size gymnasium is included. The front wing of the building contains a three room school with a complete remedial education program, a library-chapel, and offices for health services and the mental health treatment program using a part time psychiatrist and casework staff. The Lutherbrook Children's Center is a unit of the Lutheran Child Welfare Association, River Forest. Robert H. Schlesselman of Addison, Residence Director, is in charge of the Addison program. The Chapel-Library, which will be consecrated at the 7:30 p.m. service, is a memorial to the late Dr. Edward W. Marquardt of Elmhurst, pioneer DuPage County physician and agency doctor for the Lutheran Child Welfare Association for many years.

Arlington Heights Man Joins National Safety Council

The Seven Countries

Food Expert Named For New Restaurant

A former assistant vice president in charge of food operations for Statler Hotels Co., Inc., has been named consultant to The Seven Countries, a new restaurant soon to open in Wheeling.

Mildred Haugh, a well-known catering executive through her association with the Statler hotels and her supervision of U. S. Presidential dinners for many years, will be concerned with all food service and general administration, according to an announcement from The Seven Countries.

During World War II, Miss Haugh took a leave-of-absence from Statler at the request of the Red Cross to establish bakeries and mobile food stations as well as enlisted men and officer's clubs in the Mediterranean Theatre of Operations.

FOR 11 YEARS she planned and supervised the annual National Press club dinners in Washington, D. C., and has planned and served dinners for members of the British royal family on several of their visits to this country.

Among the famous she has served are former Presidents Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower, Queen Elizabeth, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor.

While Miss Haugh has "opened" many hotels for the Statler organization, she says The Seven Countries may be her "most interesting" opening.

"ESTABLISHING A restaurant with authentic atmosphere from seven different lands, all under one roof, is going to be a unique experience even for me," she said.

Miss Haugh added that she doesn't believe the opening this September will be as "hazardous" as her experience with the Los Angeles Statler in 1952.

"We had an earthquake," she said.

SHE IS A graduate of New Trier high school in Winnetka, has a masters degree in home economics and nutrition from the University of North Carolina, and holds memberships in the American Dietetic association and the American Home Economics association. (BB

Metropolitan Future To Be Seminar Topic

Northeastern Illinois—the six-county Chicago metropolitan area—will be defined, described and its future analyzed by 27 experts in metropolitan planning, economics, sociology and geography, in a ten-week seminar starting Wednesday. Among them are nationally known figures in business, finance and public affairs.

Titled "The Future of Northeastern Illinois," the leadership training course is co-sponsored by University College, The University of Chicago and the Northeastern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission. It will meet on Wednesday evenings at 7 p.m. at the University's Downtown Center, 64 E. Lake street, Chicago.

ACCORDING to Maurice F. X. Donohue, Director of University College, the course seeks to provide "the first comprehensive treatment for citizens, officials and political leaders, of the nature of our huge metropolitan area, who lives in it, what are their pressing needs, and what critical decisions will have to be made if they and their area are to continue to prosper.

"Business men in particular should find the discussions of 'The Metropolitan Anatomy,' the economy of Northeastern Illinois, the 'Metropolitan Image' and the metropolitan transportation problem of direct value," Donohue declared.

Chester R. Davis, president of the Planning Commission, stressed the value of the seminar for community leaders and members of the metropolitan area's hundreds of governments.

"A remarkable list of speakers and discussion leaders will take part in the 'Future of Northeastern Illinois' seminar," he declared. "I strongly recommend it to both civic and political leaders, including members of county and municipal boards, zoning and plan commissions, school boards and other agencies concerned with metropolitan development."

THE TEN sessions will cover five main topics: The Metropolitan Anatomy; Three Functional Problems (open space, transportation and community facilities); The Economy of Northeastern Illinois; Inter-Governmental Relations and Planning, and the Metropolitan Image. (BB

HINTS TO HOMEOWNERS

by James Fizzell
Assistant Farm Advisor

Alert Homeowners
Dial Daily 392-3060

The fall season is the most spectacular of Mother Nature's seasonal displays. In a last effort before winter, all the plant kingdom seems determined to outdo itself in a show of color.

The color is a result of an uncovering of pigment which have been masked all year by the more abundant chlorophyll. When the chlorophyll dies, the full color is revealed.

The most colorful of all trees in our area is the sugar maple. Its colors range from deep yellow to orange, and red. These trees are easily identified even from a distance by the intensity of their color.

Other trees showing good yellow color, but not so deep and intense are the poplars, silver maples, elms, and ashes.

RED IS A common fall color and is found in a number of different plants. It is deepest in color in the Japanese maple and the roadside summacs.

Burning bush, probably the same one mentioned in the old testament; flowering dogwood; red maple and red oak can also be counted on for a good display. The leaves of oak trees often display a deep bronze or rich brown color which persists long into winter.

Leaves are not the only colorful aspect of plants. Fruits and berries as well as twigs are often very colorful. No one can deny the beauty of a mountain ash, a highbush cranberry or a crabapple covered with brilliant red or orange berries. Even ground cover and vines can provide color in this category. Pyracantha and bittersweet are grown for their berries which often last all winter.

Red twig and yellow twig dogwoods as their names imply display their characteristics when the leaves fall and the stems are revealed.

FALL IS THE time to plant trees and shrubs. Visit your local nursery and see the fall color of the plants you want to buy. Most nurseries allow customers to pick out and tag their trees which are dug later when the leaves fall.

Take a drive through the forest preserve and see if you can identify the most colorful plants. You can get a free booklet called "Forest Trees of Illinois, How to Know Them" by writing this paper. Ask for the tree booklet offered in "Hints for Homeowners." (BB

Disease Varies

Multiple sclerosis is not evenly distributed throughout the world. In the U. S. it is much more prevalent in the north than south. The same is true in Europe, and in the Union of South Africa there is very little occurrence of the disease.

HINTS TO HOMEOWNERS

by James Fizzell
Assistant Farm Advisor

Alert Homeowners
Dial Daily 392-3060

Early fall is considered the best time to plant one of the most popular garden perennials, peonies. These plants are familiar and appreciated by almost everyone. They are one of the most showy and most easily grown of all garden flowers.

Most of our peony varieties originated from two species, Paeonae albiflora and Paeonae chinensis. The species are almost never planted, but the centuries of crossing have resulted in the many varieties and types which are so beautiful in our gardens in late spring.

Peony flowers are classified as to the amount of doubleness. Singles have five petals and a multitude of yellow, pollen bearing stamens. The transformation of these stamens into petal-like structures is what produces double[illegible] types have two to three rows of petals and strap-like [illegible]. In fully double peonies the stamens are completely transformed into petals. The American Peony Society lists other intermediate types but the three general categories are usually enough for accurate classification.

DOUBLE peonies are steril, and cannot be reproduced from seeds, The single and Japanese varieties are hybrids, and even though they may produce seeds, the resultant plants may be quite unlike their parents.

Peonies are almost always propagated by division of the large storage roots called tubers. The divisions should be divided into sections containing three to five eyes. Plant the sections so that the top eye is about two inches below the surface of the soil. Too deep or too shallow planting is usually the cause of failure to bloom. Large clumps cannot be moved. When it is necessary to move a plant, it must be divided and the small pieces planted.

Peonies will not bloom the year following division. If a bud is formed, it should be picked off. The third year after planting, satisfactory blooming should begin.

PEONIES make large plants so allow plenty of room for them to expand. Once established they do not like to be disturbed. Few diseases or insects attack peonies. Ants, often prolific on peonies, cause much undue concern. They do not hurt the plants, but remove the sweet material secreted by the buds. (BB

To insure large and tasty strawberries and raspberries next summer, give the plants a little extra care this fall. Remove and burn all the old raspberry canes that bore fruit this season. They will not bear again and may already be dying. These canes carry diseases. Burning them protects the younger canes.

Keep raspberries free from weeds until the ground freezes and weeds stop growing. Also keep rows three to four feet wide by removing suckers between rows. Either cultivate or pull them out by hand.

Keep strawberry rows about 18 to 24 inches wide. Remove all runners and plants beyond these limits. As the runner plants form, space and set them six to eight inches apart.

Also, keep strawberries free from weeds. Then apply a mulch later this fall, using good clean straw. To insure a clean patch next spring, make sure the straw is free of weed seed.

THIS FALL would be a good time to consider planting one or two dwarf fruit trees. Dwarf fruit trees can supply your family with plenty of fruit, and are attractive accents in a border.

The true value of these trees is that they maintain their small size. The dwarfing is controlled by grafting the top of the tree on the proper type rootstock. The roots used are usually Malling VIII or Malling IX which produce true dwarf type trees. Other rootstocks may produce dwarfing but not so completely as these two. Be sure to ask your nurseryman what type rootstock his trees are on. Even with the proper root, dwarf trees will grow large if improperly planted.

It is most important that the tree be planted so that the graft between the rootstock and top is above ground. If planted so that the union is below ground, the top may make roots, and the effect of the rootstock will be lost.

A free pamphlet on Dwarf Fruit trees can be secured from our Extension Service Office, 201 North Dunton Avenue, Arlington Heights, Illinois. (BB

Plan Demonstration Of Watercolor Art

by LUCILE ERNST

Countryside Art Center has planned a really exciting evening not only for its members but for the public and has given planty of advance notice so you may plan for the evening.

On November 2, Mr. Irving Shapiro will demonstrate a complete watercolor painting. When the painting is finished, he will present it to the Countryside Art Center.

MR. SHAPIRO is a member of the American Watercolor Society. He is an instructor at the American Academy of Art and was recently appointed first commissioner of Art for the Village of Skokie.

A winner of first award in the Union League Club in 1955 and in 1957, he has been exhibited in so many places it would take the rest of the column to list them all. Suffice it to say, Irving Shapiro is a first rate artist.

You will not only enjoy watching his skill in painting but should learn a good deal from what he has to say.

IRVING SHAPIRO is not only a gifted artist, he is also able to express himself with vigor and clarity in his writings. He was featured as the watercolorist of the month, April, 1959, of the American Artist Magazine. His article should be read by everyone, whether they are an artist or just someone interested in understanding the arts. I think you will find interesting the following quotation from Irving Shapiro's article in The American Artists Magazine.

"Unfortunately, there are those misguided individuals who rely on their 'interpretations' or 'emotions' to an extreme, and the result becomes nothing short of gibberish. They incorrectly term the cushion on which they rest, 'Modern Art.'

"What a heyday for frauds this era of sensationalism seems to be! No degree of brush convulsion will make up for lack of basic understanding, much less the gift of talent.

"THE BASICS that serve the artist include draughtsmanship, principles of color, composition, and the guidance and theories offered by past instruction and experience."

This is just a taste of the sensible advice which will be available on November 2. Mr. Shapiro will demonstrate his painting at Pioneer park in arlington Heights, at 8 p.m.

In all honesty, I think most people are either appalled or downright frightened by the extremes of what passes for artistic expression. When an "Artist" drives his paint impregnated tires over a huge canvas and is actually seriously considered an artist, people with any sense simply dismiss art as nonsense. This is one extreme, the other is almost as bad.

SOME ARTISTS hide in their studios and consider their art too scared to profane with explanations, at least explanations in plain English. They speak loftily of "educating the public." Actually no one can be really educated anymore. There are too many things to know. Any good teacher knows he must stimulate and interest before anyone allows himself to learn anything. To put it bluntly, you sell your students.

If you do a good job, they learn what you want them to learn. In my humble opinion we need some good salesmen for art. We need people in art who love it enough to want to share it. (Bill

PAUL NEWMAN, as Ari Ben Canaan, and Eva Marie Saint, as Kitty Fremont, are shown in a tender scene from Otto Preminger's production of "Exodus." The film, which was shot on location in Israel and Cyprus in Technicolor and Super-Panavision 70 wide-screen, begins its local engagement Oct. 13 at the Prospect Theatre, through United Artists release.

Have Talks On Music Education

Fred Schmoyer, representing Arlington and Prospect high schools, and John Shoemaker of Palatine high, met with Dean George Howerton and Jack Pernecky of Northwestern university school of music October 1 for an informal discussion of the mutual problems of music education.

They also discussed the ground-work for closer cooperation between the faculties of the high schools and the university.

TALK CENTERED around the establishment of short summer programs at the university, and year 'round clinics at the high schools for the students in all fields of music.

It was felt by all who took part that such a program would serve as a source of inspiration to the students and to the faculty. (B8

Three Performances

'Annie' Production Slated Oct. 20-22

A new production of "Annie Get Your Gun," mounted by Best Off Broadway Players, Inc., will be given three performances Friday and Saturday evenings and Sunday afternoon, October 20-22, in the theatre of Barrington consolidated high school.

Evening performances will begin at 8:30 p.m. and the Sunday matinee will start at 2:30 p.m.

Written by Herbert and Dorothy Fields, the show was first seen on Broadway during the 1946 season when it was staged as a vehicle for Ethel Merman. The current production is the first presentation of BOB Players, a new musical theatre group formed as a not-for-profit corporation.

The plot, based in part on fact, involves the love interest and shooting prowess of two ace marksmen, Frank Butler and legendary Annie Oakley. The story is set at the turn of the century.

THE SCORE was written by Irving Berlin. Songs—many of which achieved "hit parade" status and are now considered to be "pop" standards—include "They Say It's Wonderful," "The Girl That I Marry," "You Can't Get a Man With A Gun" and the widely recognized "There's No Business Like Show Business."

Staged in two acts with a total of 10 scenes, the musical calls for a cast of 50, eight separate stage settings and more than 250 different costumes.

Leading players and their roles include: Karyl Jacobsen, 1538 N. Kaspar, Arlington Heights as Annie; George Palmer, 208 N. Benton, Palatine as Frank Butler; Wendell Christine, 808 S. Owen, Mt. Prospect, as Tommy Keeler; Floyd R. Collins, 418 N. Fairview, Mt. Prospect as Buffalo Bill; Edward Joyce, 942 N. Walnut, Arlington Heights, as Charlie Davenport; Mary May, 305 E. Chicago, Palatine, as Winnie Tate; and Burton H. Neuner, 205 N. William, Mt. Prospect, as Chief Sitting Bull.

STAGE DIRECTOR is Kermit Allen, 8201 W. Fullerton, Elmwood Park, instructor in speech, drama, and English at Elmwood Park community high school, who has been prominent in the adult little theatre there. Musical director is Reno J. Chiorgno, 800 E. Main St., Barrington, bandmaster at the Barrington high school.

Allen considers the Barrington school theatre to be one of the finest in the Chicago area outside of the Loop.

"The million dollar installation has a well-equipped stage, is acoustically good and provides seats for 750 people. It's ideal for musical presentations," he says. Allen adds that the Barrington school has a spacious parking facility available at no cost.

BOB PLAYERS was formed by a number of northwest suburban residents many of whom have had professional musical and theatrical experience.

"We believe there has been insufficient opportunity for people in our area who want to participate in quality musical productions," explains Palmer, who also is president of the group.

"We're satisfying that need and, at the same time, giving residents of the area a chance to see the best shows that have come off Broadway." "Annie Get Your Gun" is the group's first venture for the current season.

THE SECOND—"Show Boat"—is scheduled for May, 1962.

While advance ticket sales have been going well, according to Burton Neuner, ticket chairman, a number of reserved seats are still available for each performance. They may be obtained by phoning 381-0600, CL 3-6904 or FL 8-0156.

Theatre Slates Meeting Thurs.

Village Theatre, Inc. will meet Thursday, Oct. 19, at 8:15 p.m. in Park elementary school auditorium on Mitchell street, Arlington Heights.

Village Theatre officials said visitors and potential members are welcome at these monthly meetings; actors alone would never get a production on the stage. Play cuttings are dramatized at each meeting by members, and refreshments are served. (Bill

Firmness Key To Survival

The lemming is a small, mouse-like creature, which makes its home in the Scandinavian countries. Its main claim to fame stems from the fact that every five to twenty years a major portion of the lemming population pulls up stakes and rushes head-long for the Atlantic Ocean or the Gulf of Bothnia and proceeds to drown itself.

No one will argue the point that this constitutes mass suicide, nor can one doubt that modern man at the present time seems to be about to embark on a similar expedition. And the propriety of horror at this mass insanity cannot be doubted.

If, however, the editor of the Palatine Enterprise attempts to stem the tide of the marching lemmings with moralizing, a halt must be called. The title of the editorial, "Survival Mania Is Threat to Humanity," is one of the most beautiful examples of a collection of contradictions in one short sentence.

SURVIVAL, as such, is not a mania, but one of the basic instincts, which motivates individuals. Logically, the survival instinct cannot be a threat to humanity, but only the lack of it, as exemplified in the case of the lemming.

Only a complete detachment from present-day realities can produce a thought of repudiating war as an instrument of national policy, since it is commonly known that it takes at least two nations to make a war. If one nation puts its trust in world government and international law and disarms completely while another nation, which has made a mockery out of world government, remains armed to the teeth, it only invites attack and thereby commits national suicide.

From the foregoing, it appears that persons who advocate unilateral disarmament or who demonstrate against nuclear arms testing under present conditions are as much comparable to our friends the lemmings as those who advocate preventive atomic war.

OUR BASIC question remains — "Do we prefer Communist slavery to the temporary decrease of our comforts and to a risk of our personal lives?"

If the answer is "yes," let us invite international Communism to take over without the firing of a missile, and thereby get what we deserve. If the answer is "no," let us buckle down to work and stop talking. Let us concentrate all our forces and national resources on an increase of the striking power of the United States and greater protection for the civilian population, which undoubtedly will have to bear the brunt of any attack. And, above all, let us instruct our diplomats to make our position clear in unequivocal terms and then stick to our position come what may.

THE FIRMNESS and purpose in the action and thinking of each and every one of us may well determine the survival of our capitalistic system. And all of us are individually responsible for the defense of our civilization. As I pointed out in a previous article, our most pressing problem at this time is the provision for individual community, plant, or school shelters to protect as large a segment of the population as possible against the effects of atomic warfare.

Since the construction of proper family fallout shelters may be beyond the means of many families, I suggest that the residents of a neighborhood get together and form a corporation, which will raise money by selling shares. And with the money collected, a proper community shelter can be constructed—the shares serving as entry tickets to the shelter.

Industry should give some serious thought to the protection of its employees if an attack should come during working hours.

Schools must be provided with adequate shelters for the entire school population immediately. And no schools should be planned from now on unless adequate provisions for shelters are made. Schools being more or less equally distributed through the entire community, it would be feasible to construct these shelters rather larger than necessary to provide access for other members of the community, which are not otherwise protected.

A SCHOOL SHELTER, more or less centrally located, should be also used as command post for the local civil defense headquarters and for the safe storage of the civil defense emergency hospital. School shelters for the existing schools will, of course, entail a marked increase in taxation and may for the time being preclude the possibility of constructiong new schools.

But I am sure every one will agree that these disadvantages will be minor compared to the tremendous advantage of protecting our children and our adult citizens.

Party Labels Have Meaning

In the Rolling Meadows Herald of September 29, Mrs. Sheila Abraham wrote a letter addressed to Alderman Piekarski, bemoaning his acknowledgement of the help of a national party in the city election.

I read the alderman's letter but do not recall the contents, therefore cannot comment upon it, but I would like to set Mrs. Abraham straight upon the trend of the times.

It is true the MAP candidates were Republican, all of them; but what Mrs. Abraham doesn't know is that precinct captains from the township committeeman's organization was working against Rolling Meadows Republicans and for the PEP party which were Democrats. So let's not talk about national politics in local elections.

I KNOW in the past a great many people have resisted the idea of national political parties at the local level and some still do. I for one do not. I don't change my philosophy just because I am voting for a local candidate. I want a local man to believe in the things I consider right as well as the president of the United States.

The basic philosophy of the two national parties is world wide. The Democrats are socialistic in their thinking and have been trying for years and years to break down our Republic form of government. When our government was formed by Washington, Hamilton, Jefferson and all of the great men of our constitutional convention, they made it a constitutional republic, which they considered to be the best form of government or they would have provided something else.

There have been forces at work for a great number of years (I consider these forces to be the socialistic thinking of the Democrats) to make this government into a representative democracy, which can readily degenerate into mobocracy or communism or any other name you want to call it.

History shows us that a democracy has never worked satisfactorily as a form of government and never will.

THERE IS only one way to keep our country a Republic—to have candidates from the local level on up with the kind of thinking that will keep our government a Republic. You can't do this by national politics alone. Good politics starts at home with the individual thinking of the citizen.

The time will come when politics will be two parties all the way down and that is the way it should be. Then the townspeople will really know the type of thinking and philosophy entertained by the candidates.

Letters to the Editor

New GOP Precinct Captains Raise Ire of Lady Citizen

An open letter to Jackson Boughner, Republican committeeman of Palatine township:

Dear Jackson, once again you have disappointed me, but it is for the last time. You have publicly stated that you were not in the ring for committeeman. You have privately agreed to negotiate for a new committeeman. You have publicly acknowledged that you were not the best committeeman, but again you strike back at the Rolling Meadows Republicans who helped put you into office four years ago. Why, Jackson?

Those same precinct captains are really honest-to-goodness Republicans and YOU know it. They are hard workers and that you know, too. But your new ones, Jackson, don't do you credit. There are two former Democrats in the fold, and I'm not sure but there may be three.

THE ARTICLE in the October 5 issue of the newspaper reads as if you chose these men. But knowing you, Jackson, it was done by a precinct captain guilty of disloyalty to his home town.

It is my understanding that a precinct captain should live in his precinct. Do yours? Take a look at the addresses. Can't yours find his type in other precincts? If these captains are really Republicans at heart, they'll get on the right bandwagon and soon—very soon.

For over three years, you have refused to be a good committeeman, but now that you are bowing out you are certainly doing it with a great deal of publicity. Why? In the past you didn't want publicity. Is it just so you can give Rolling Meadows another dig?

You told me privately that there was NOTHING in the world you wanted as much as to unite the Republic organization in the township. Remember? You are certainly going about it in a very queer manner. You have done nothing to help the situation, for every time you publicly open your mouth, you drive the wedge just that much deeper.

The Rolling Meadows Republicans take their politics seriously and don't relish the type Lester Denhard. Mr. Denhard's political reputation is well known in Rolling Meadows.

YOUR ARTICLE states that you are appointing new captains for Rolling Meadows because of the poor showing for Stratton. WHY!!! Mr. Boughner, YOU were against Stratton or don't you remember? Way back in a February 1960 meeting, you presented the following resolution (in part):

"The Regular Republican Organization of Palatine Township hereby endorses the following candidates for Republican nomination at the primary April 12, 1960 — United States Senator, William R. Rentschler; Governor, Hayes Robertson; etc."

I suppose this is something else you forgot. If you were such a good Stratton man, why then were you on a Mediterranean Cruise during the 1960 primary?

You also forgot that Stratton was party to special legislation to allow the race track to disconnect from the city of Rolling Meadows. The voters didn't forget. You couldn't expect the Rolling Meadows precinct captains to sell anyone that was a traitor to their city.

YOU PUBLICLY credit Mr. Lopata with his work for Stratton in precinct 12. You forgot the date Mr. Lopata became precinct captain. He wasn't asked to be one until September and was introduced as such at the September 8 meeting, three weeks before election. WHAT WORK DID HE DO? All the work done in that precinct was done before Mr. Lopata arrived on the scene.

NO! Jackson, it won't work. This latest publicity is just another dig at the Rolling Meadows Republicans. You are not the man that can strengthen the party, nor any of your present workers. Some of them are even NOW trying to make deals behind your back just like they did to the Rolling Meadows organization at election time in November.

Just one more thing, Jackson. When did you have to advertise for judges? I think the judges should be left out of this quarrel.

1961 Newspaper Contest

'Poor' Series Wins First Place Award

"The Poor," Paddock Publications' penetrating report-in-depth on poverty in Illinois, was honored Friday night with one of the state's most coveted journalistic awards.

The series of articles won first place for community service in the 1961 newspaper contest sponsored by the Illinois Press association.

Contest winners were announced at the press group's fall meeting in Springfield.

The award for community service was one of seven presented to Paddock Publications in competition with weekly and daily newspapers of more than 3,500 circulation.

THE PRIZE- winning series was reported and written by Charles E. Hayes, executive editor of Paddock Publications, and William L. Dulaney, formerly managing editor and now associated with Pennsylvania State university's school of journalism. The articles were illustrated with photos by Larry Cameron, the chain's chief photographer.

In making the top award, contest judges commented:

"No greater task has ever been undertaken than Paddock Publications' attempt to alert its readers to the problems of poverty in Illinois. The Newspaper didn't stop with a front page story and a page four editorial, but spent more than five months in research and investigation, not only of its immediate community but of the whole state. It then dramatically presented its findings, in words and pictures, in six full installments followed by editorials and apt illustrations. This effort in community service could not, in the eyes of your judges, be overlooked and this effort must be ranked first among all."

This is the third community service award presented to Paddock Publications since 1957. Previous citations recognized the newspapers' efforts in behalf of Northwest Community hospital and the area's Mexican - American minority.

OTHER press awards made to Paddock Publications in the 1961 contest included first place in advertising excellence, second place in classified advertising, third place in typography and makeup; third place for best editorial page, and honorable mentions for feature writing and best use of illustrative materials.

In conferring the first place award in advertising excellence, the judges said:

"Superior is the word for this newspaper's advertising — across the board. Big ads and small ads alike carry the mark of skilled craftsmen. Strongest points are suitable type selection and composition balanced with fine illustrations. The effectiveness of the advertising in this newspaper is enhanced by the uncrowded look of nearly every page. Amidst a list of formidable competitors, this newspaper is outstanding in advertising excellence."

Judges also cited the "consistently high quality" of the newspaper's typography and makeup. They described the classified ad pages as "well made-up and generally attractive."

A TOTAL of 791 entries from 138 Illinois newspapers were judged in the state-wide competition.

Paddock Publications was represented at the IPA meeting by Stuart R. Paddock, editor-in-chief; Stuart R. Paddock Jr. and Robert Y. Paddock, vice president. Stuart Paddock Jr. is also president of the Illinois Press association.

The IPA honors bring to more than 40 the total number of state and national journalistic awards earned by Paddock Publications since 1955.

They Know What Neighbor Means

Having read a great deal in the local paper relative to our Prospect Heights volunteer fire department, it is with pleasure we can add a few more words.

Our humble and most gracious thanks to the firemen for the manner in which they handled the fire at our house a week ago last Saturday. As your readers probably already know, the firemen operated under a handicap from the very start when the alarm was given. No electrical alarm available and when they arrived at the scene of the fire, there was no water supply except for the supply on their trucks. Having seen the paid big city firemen operate, I can honestly say we citizens of Prospect Heights should tip our hats to our boys.

INSTEAD OF getting 20 pairs of hands all making music with the axes swinging in unison, they quietly and efficiently plied their talents. Containing the flames in a small area, they used the hose in the manner any homeowner would be happy to see. They took the trouble to remove storm windows so that if they had to break a single pane in a window, the storm window could be placed back to seal the opening.

Contents of the house were not promiscuously water-soaked. All in all, the Cullens can say with all sincerity that the extensive damage to our home was caused primarily by smoke and decidedly not by the handling of the fire.

We also want to add a few words to some other local residents who taught us the meaning of the word "neighbor," a word we hear often but probably few of us have much thought about. We want to publicly say thanks to our neighbors, particularly the Walter Herbst family who not only opened their home to us but lent moral and physical assistance. Without them to soften the blow, the past week would have been much worse of a nightmare. We don't know the Webster meaning of the word "neighbor," but we tie

Firearm Use Is Defended

Your October 5 editorial entitled "Survival Mania is Threat to Humanity" condemns the suggested safeguard of personal arms against friends and neighbors. This head-in-the-sand attitude, however noble and pious, would prove to be disastrous in a real crisis.

Nuclear bombs could hamper and even immobilize official law enforcement, and reduce survivors, if any, to a dog-eat-dog existence not unlike that of prehistoric days, with the added danger of residual radiation.

WHILE I do not relish the grim prospect of defending my family and belongings against neighbors-turned-robbers, the eventuality must be faced, and I intend to employ whatever defensive means I find necessary to safety and survival.

Your hopeful suggestion that we endeavor to prevent a nuclear war sounds attractive, but is no solution to the problems of post-bomb existence. We would be naive to assume that bomb survivors would be only the good, the charitable, and the hospitable, and that all others could be held in check.

IF, UNDER the guise of an appeal to our moral obligations to civilization the real purpose of your plea is to minimize the purchase of arms by householders, thereby diminishing later competition for food and other necessities, it may have in part succeeded.

Regardless of your motives, you must concur that a firearm is a defensive as well as an offensive weapon.

Danger Spots Demand Action

Must it always follow this pattern? A child molested and murdered in high weeds; must there be these spots for danger to bunk in?

Should we leave these circumstances exist to be a future danger to other children plus the health hazard that exists in every vacant property neglected by the owners to grow into jungles of weeds and debris.

IS IT TRUE that legal action can be taken against these owners to keep their property clear or town-country officials can notify these owners if necessary to clear the land and assess the owners for the work involved. This will give much needed additional revenue to maintain our roads and ditches.

I believe that this problem rests with all the citizens and should not be neglected any longer. To do this each homeowners group can turn in the lot numbers and owner's name to their road commissioner and see to it that he does the work or elect someone that believes in a fair return for his pay.

Resident Asks For Answers

I wonder why, as we all do, all the fuss is being made in towns about the elm tree disease and their removal of these.

We along Swift road in Bloomingdale township have been told we have 95 such large trees between North ave. and Army Trail road and we all have made many, many appeals to our road commissioner for help. These are old trees and break very easily in any storm and we have children waiting for buses all along this road. If anyone of these fall on the east side it will mean our electric facilities will be affected.

Why can't we get help in this manner and what do we do to point out the serious nature of this? How do towns expect to eradicate this blight when the townships aid in breeding same? We would like answers!

'Good Thought' Wins Supporter

If those who have not been wronged protest as loud as those who have, then and only then will justice prevail.

I don't know who first expressed this thought, but I do know it's a good thought and one that I heartily subscribe to. It is with that thought in mind that I would like to stand up and be counted as one who supports the idea of open occupancy for our community.

I hope there are others, too.

Editorial Is 'Paranoic'

In reading an editorial or by-line article there are some questions the reader should ask: 1) What does the title or theme imply or state? 2) Is the article written for the purpose of logically presenting a responsible tablet of ideas to develop the theme or title? 3) Does the writer stick to pertinent matter or does he wander into a secondary (but perhaps the true) center of interest?

In applying the above tests to "Survival Mania Is A Threat to Humanity" and accompanying caricature, I found the following:

1) The title implies that to want to survive (a nuclear war) is the thought of an irrational or demented individual and like demented ideas (or persons?) it is a threat to humanity.

2) The presentation was not logical. In fact, it was hard to find any connecting logic other than that of a paranoia at the hands of anyone who would seek to protect his loved ones and himself.

3) The writer did not stick to pertinent matter; rather all the bogeymen which have been fabricated relative to nuclear war were reconcocted and sent whoosing across the reader's "minds eye" in an attempt to frighten him to do — nothing. Yes, and repudiate war as a national policy.

AND SO we finally "get the message" — do nothing, and repudiate war as a national policy. The article might as well have carried this "logic" to the next step of "repudiating police protection as a national policy" or "repudiating the criminal sections of the judicial code as a national policy." Since there would be no police force to enforce the laws for the protection of society.

Frankly, this editorial is in my opinion, a victim of what I have heard called "secular humanism" which "asks no sacrifices, makes no martyrs, and has dispensed with the cross." It only asks that we use human rationalism to wish away all these possible horrors by the magic wand of "repudiating war."

Strictly to the point, I wish to suggest to the editor an article on fall-out shelters by Rev. L. C. McHugh, S.J. in the Jesuit (Catholic) magazine, "America" where he says, "Nowhere in traditional (Catholic) morality does one read that Christ, in counseling non-resistance to evil, rescind the right of self-defense which is granted by nature and recognized in the legal systems of all nations."

AS A FORMER combat-infantryman (Normandy, France, the Rhineland) I think I am fairly qualified to speak of the horrors of war.

Like almost all, I hope it can be avoided — but it won't be avoided by a befogged delineation of its causes and cures. The tone and temper of this editorial does nothing to lift that fog by its illogical and paranoiac interpretation of this facet of life and thought in the northwest suburbs of Chicago.

John A. Corrigan
Mount Prospect

(Ed. Note: In answer to Mr. Corrigan, we feel that the premise to shoot one's neighbor in order to survive is a form of mania and a threat to all the good instincts of humanity. At no time did we suggest that to wish to survive a nuclear war represented the thinking of a demented person, and we acknowledged that the instinct to self-preservation was a basic one. But one of the appeals to man's higher nature, as we see it, is the Christian one of "loving thy neighbor," not shooting him. We expressed the "hope" that "man" would eventually survive his baser instincts by repudiating war as a national policy, but did not urge any such immediate or unilateral action.)

The Way We See It

Area-Wide Drainage Action Is Overdue

Suburbia's semi-annual flood season is once again upon us. Flooding in the suburbs is not an isolated instance; it outlines a problem faced by all northwest communities.

With depressing regularity, farmlands are turned into swamps, streets rendered impassable, subdivisions inundated, basements flooded, and septic tank refuse spewed to the surface.

The problem grows with each new batch of asphalt poured over the landscape. Parking lots replace sponge-like fields. Acres of roofs and miles of streets cascade water into inadequate sewer and storm water systems.

In his recent depth report of the flood and drainage situation in the northwest area, news editor Tom Edwards found that much of the dilemma rested with a lack of foresight and planning at both community and regional levels.

Although these problems have been with us for several years, little positive action has been taken. Ultimately, there is no one person or group of persons to whom one can turn for relief from flood problems. Instead, there are state, county, metropolitan, and local bodies, often with poorly defined jurisdictions, that seem more than willing to "pass the buck" to one another.

The net result has been a duplication of effort, squabbling over jurisdiction which often has no relation to natural watersheds, unnecessary expenditure of funds, and a degree of confusion that sees one drainage district serving its taxpayers while at the same time it submerges a neighboring community by diversion of flood waters.

Major causes of our drainage dilemmas are poor planning and present building practices.

Too many subdivision developers are disregarding drainage problems, both present and potential, in planning their projects.

Too often, village officials are shortsighted and insular in their approach to overall drainage needs, both local and area-wide.

The unsuspecting home buyer is usually left holding the bag. When the inevitable flooding occurs and community action is demanded, the village's response is a special assessment program which places the burden primarily on the new home owners. And obviously, it is more costly to cope wth drainage problems after a subdivision is completed than while the land is undeveloped.

How much longer can we afford to tread water in the face of the continued chaotic approach to increasingly severe flood threats?

Village officials must broaden their grasp of drainage needs, develop long-range corrective programs and tighten restrictions on new subdivision development to guarantee proper drainage installations by the builder.

Finally, we reaffirm our belief as outlined in an editorial nearly two years ago: "We feel the magnitude of the problem demands a state study of drainage problems and a master flood control plan drawn on watershed lines rather than on governmental boundaries. Within such watershed boundaries there is a need for central authorities, perhaps taxing districts, who have the power and revenue to coordinate and carry out flood control efforts."

Republicanism's New Face Is Good Omen for Suburbs

New faces loom large among suburban Republicans today and are likely to loom larger in the future.

We are especially encouraged at the "new face" of Republicanism in northwest suburbs. The political party with the loftiest ideals and soundest platform is lifeless and impotent unless it can gain widespread voter support. The best candidate for public office or the most worthwhile public program will never have a chance unless backed by a strong political organization. The strength of a party flows directly from its local organization.

Such strength has been woefully lacking in the GOP. Prior to the 1960 general elections, the Republican party in the northwest area was generally characterized by indolence, inactivity, and inertia. Much of the criticism for this condition must be directed at passive members and lackadaisical citizens, not solely at party leaders. Those leaders who use the party to serve their own ends thrive on members' apathy or lack of understanding of political affairs.

Since defeat of the GOP's national and state tickets last year, there has been a general "renaissance" of the party at the township level. Most of this dynamic "let's get organized" effort comes from the younger, more energetic new faces in the party, although many old-timers are wise enough to accept the necessity for a sweeping overhaul of existing organizations.

It is only natural that along with this revitalization have come the inevitable power struggles between emerging young elements and the established leadership.

This is reflected in the spirited contests shaping up for township committeemen in the April primary elections. Competition is keen and campaigning will be intensive — healthy signs for the GOP, as well as for the continued development of a vigorous two-party system in the northwest area, since a revived Republican party should stimulate renewed activity among Democrats.

These intramural contests should not split or destroy the suburban GOP. We are confident that when the township committeemen are finally determined, all elements of the party will come together to wage a determined and unified campaign for November 8, 1962.

In the midst of its youthful rebirth, the Republican party has a rare opportunity to express itself to the electorate in fresh, new terms. For too long, the GOP has permitted itself to be described as representative of isolationism, fiscal obsession above human need, and "stone-bottomed stand pat-ism."

There are certain principles of American life and of Repubicanism that are timeless and will never lose their value. But even these must be looked at anew to see how they may be best understood and applied to the problems of our nation in a rapidly changing world.

We look to the new faces of Republicanism to help us to restore our sense of purpose, and to inspire national willingness to sacrifice for world peace, social and economic justice, and human freedom.

Not Helping at All!

Democracy Is Taught By Schools

Pupils Are Provided With Solid Background

by DR. GEORGE E. PROPECK
Supt. of Schools, Prospect Heights

The real evaluation of one's formal education occurs after his school days are over; this is particularly true in the realm of citizenship. Everyone is an observer and a critic of education so it is timely to set forth some basic beliefs concerning the inculcation of our youth with the American way of life. This is particularly true due to the conditions in today's explosive world.

This point is emphasized in President Kennedy's tenet about teaching democracy:

"It is most urgent that the American educational system tackle in earnest the task of teaching American youth to confront the reality of totalitarianism in its toughest, most militant form, which is communism, with the facts and values of our American heritage."

THIS THEME enunciated by President Kennedy was stressed at the National Military - Industrial and Educational Conference held in Chicago the week of April 10, 1961.

The consensus of those who spoke at the conference was that our democratic life is dependent on the education of the citizenry. Conferees were reminded of the Jeffersonian statement concerning the fact that those who expect people to remain ignorant and free expect what never was and never will be.

There is no doubt that the school has been and still is the fount of American patriotism. Our American heritage is transmitted to each new generation in the classrooms of the nation.

THE YOUTH of our communities learn about the great documents of liberty, our form of government, our Constitution, our patriotic literature and music in the schools.

When we are asked about the level at which we begin instruction in our American way of life in the Prospect Heights schools, we sometimes surprise the inquirer by saying that we start in kindergarten. The child begins to learn something of our American way of life when he hears the pledge of allegiance to the flag, when he hears the "Star Spangled Banner" played and sung, and as he learns to associate with twenty-five other boys and girls organizing and sharing in a new plan or group living within the room.

As he progresses through the schools he accumulates knowledge of our history, our national shrines and the governments of our communities, states and the nation. By the time he completes the eighth grade he knows much about our democratic form of government, the threat from totalitarianism, and he has developed attitudes about communism that will serve him to good advantage as he pursues his studies.

WE REQUIRE each student to pass a test on the Constitution of the United States, the Constitution of the State of Illinois and the proper respect of our flag before he is permitted to go on to the Prospect High School.

In high school and college the student will delve more deeply into these fundamentals and will build on this solid foundation of knowledge and attitudes gained in the elementary school.

Through our carefully planned program of instruction the student will have a sound structure on which to continue his learning about the ways of democracy and of protecting our cherished institutions of freedom from false ideologies as represented by the communist doctrine.

We accept with sincerity a primary principle stated by President Kennedy, "The purpose of our educational system is to communicate to the youth of the land the facts and ideas necessary both for abundant living and for meeting the issues of life and death in today's dangerous world . . ."

Point of View

The Problem of the Pyre

by DICK HOFFMANN

". . . unless man can match his strides in weaponry and technology with equal strides in social and political development, our great strength, like that of the dinosaur, will become incapable of proper control — and man, like the dinosaur, will decline and disappear . . ."

Thus, for the first time, a world leader has admitted that man may well be following the path the great reptiles trod to extinction.

President Kennedy's speech before the United Nations was one of the most definitive and realistic expressions of man's peril since the ushering in of the horror at Hiroshima.

I was disappointed in the press coverage of his compelling statements; the treatment was without exception concerned with immediate matters he touched upon: Berlin, finding a replacement for Dag Hammarskjold, the continuing crisis in Laos.

THERE WAS an emphasis on our standing firm, while no one commented on the fact that Mr. Kennedy stated what we have all suspected: that the death of all mankind is now in the realm of the conceivable.

The four horsemen of the Apocalypse — and their names are war, pestilence, famine and disease — are not yet harnessed. If they are to ride once more, it may be for the last time.

The thermonuclear gods of darkness are not the only figures whose shadows lengthen across the plains of hope. The twin-headed terror — population and automation — already begins to dog the dreams of mankind. An exploding birth rate and declining death rate will continue to combine with the technological revolution to compound the problems of the human race.

AS THIS PLANET becomes packed with humanity and the dignity of work is replaced by the monotony of the machine, not as high a premium will be put on the value of human life. In fact, the argument could probably be made that the Indian and Oriental philosophies, with their negation of life, actually represent an accommodation to their huge populations.

But at least the problems posed by the acceleration of population and automation are not insurmountable if they are not left unattended.

The odds narrow considerably when betting against the weapons of annihilation. There has been some rather absurd speculation going on recently about how the United States would fare numerically in the event of nuclear attack.

SOME "EXPERTS" have been blandly estimating that about half our population would survive; other "official" estimates are as high as 90 per cent, but this is based on the assumption that only about 300 bombs would be employed in the assault. What are the chances of survival in an all-out nuclear war in which 3,000 instead of 300 bombs are used? I have yet to hear predictions as to the outcome of such a holocaust.

And what of those who survive the nightmare? They would inherit scorched and uninhabitable earth. It was recently reported that ecologists feel the deadly rain of fallout would poison all foods, animals, and vegetation. A seed would not germinate for a time far exceeding the lifetime of the "survivors."

No, we have reached the bare minimum of alternative: the sword of Damocles must be hammered into the plowshare of peace. We must not permit this planet to be converted, as President Kennedy said, into a "burning pyre."

"THE problem," he says, "is not the death of one man (Hammarskjold) — the problem is the life of this organization (the United Nations) . . . . For in the development of this organization rests the only true alternative to war — and war appeals no longer as a rational alternative. Unconditional war can no longer lead to unconditional victory. It can no longer serve to settle disputes. It can no longer be of concern to great powers alone. For a nuclear disaster, spread by winds and waters and fear, could well engulf the great and the small, the rich and the poor, the committed and uncommitted alike. Mankind must put an end to war — or war will put an end to mankind."

Kennedy has been criticized in the past for substituting eloquence for deeds, but in this instance the eloquence of the simple truths he stated should act as powerful persuaders for sanity. And he did submit a disarmament plan to complement his address.

This matter was also treated with lucidity. ". . .men no longer pretend that the quest for disarmament is a sign of weakness — for in a spiraling arms race, a nation's security may well be shrinking even as its arms increase. . . .The risks inherent in disarmament pale in comparison to the risks inherent in an unlimited arms race. . .."

FROM MY window, I can see a sugar - maple tree's leaves coloring with the first flush of autumn. Sunlight slants on its gown of green and red and gold, and an easterly breeze is stirring its branches to the rhythms of the dance of life. It fills my view with beauty, and madness and nihilism seem distant whispers of doom. But it reinforces my belief that we must do all that we can to prevent the final obscenity of a war which would be waged on a scale unimaginable.

For if it does occur "We have made a covenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement."

Pornography Threat Cited

Tell Economic and Moral Damage Caused by Smut

by MARTIN E. MARTY

"The High Price of Pornography" is the title of a book by Richard Kyle-Keith (Public Affairs Press, $4.50); it also summarizes his thesis.

Maybe he does have a point: Americans might listen to the whole problem of degrading books, magazines, etc. when they can be convinced of their economic liability. This, knows Kyle-Keith, is difficult to do.

Scientific means of measuring which young man violated which girl because he got the idea from a drugstore-newstand novel are limited and inexact.

BUT ON A semi-scientific basis the author does reveal countless ways in which law enforcement officers can trace connection between the pornographic material and evil or criminal—and thus expensive to society—acts of various kinds.

Kyle-Keith rejects many of the views concerning the source of vileness in its mass produced forms. Many people, for example, believe it is an outside conspiracy; the Communists, for example, would profit by using pornography to weaken and destroy America.

While there have been fleeting evidences of such strategy, and this would be a rather effective means, the author is more ready to point to the safely domestic origins of the problem.

LIKE MANY of his colleagues, in other words, Kyle-Keith believes that a sick society produces a sick literature for itself; it is not that someone from without comes to corrupt.

Again he is in an enlarging company when he rejects extensive censorship; too often the censors can be as great a societal evil as the products they censor.

It is too easy to impose arbitrary standards, to ban valid and vital literature of genius, or to enter political realms of suppression. (That there be some censorship for the world of children is a different matter.) The only solution is for a society to recognize the expense—moral and actually economic — and to examine the source of the evil impulse. Then it can determine whether it wants to pay the price of rooting out the problem.

HERE KYLE-KEITH is on good ground: what is often called 'hard-core pronography does not appear out of no where. It comes where the setting has been carefully prepared. It has been prepared in a culture that is pervaded with slightly more respectable symbols of, say, a sex obsession.

The parent who fills his home with magazines that are on the borderline, so to speak, dare not be surprised if his or her children, educated on this material, pushes matters a bit further for a bigger thrill. When movies, television, the women's magazines, in almost every signal they send out, "soften" people and build appetites that a normal and routine life cannot fill, we cannot pretend to be surprised when matters are pushed beyond the edge.

So, by 'high cost', the author means both moral and economic damage. Maybe he's hitting on the right combination: we have heard plenty from the moralists who oppose pornography. Now let's get a little science and a bit of persuasion into what the economists could tell us.

Family's Yen For Chocolate Satisfied By Two Favorites

FROM BABIES TO ADULTS, Chocolate Nut Sticks are an appealing taste treat! Here "J. D." and twins, Vic and Valorie Walker, are eager to sample their mother's delicious dessert. Mrs. Richard W. Walker of Hasbrook Heights classifies these rich, frosted little cakes as her favorite recipe. (SH

"My husband likes plain and simple meals," said Mrs. Richard W. Walker of Arlington Heights, "so I go all out on desserts. This is one area of cooking where I can really be creative and try new recipes with his hearty approval!"

"One recipe which I think is the very best I've ever had is for Chocolate Nut Sticks," said this good cook. "My family loves these and they always make a big hit with guests."

Somewhat similar to Brownies, the batter for this pan cake is easy to prepare and is beaten together by hand. There is little muss or fuss. After baking, the cooled cake is frosted with a rum-flavored icing and melted chocolate is drizzled over all.

It is stored in the refrigerator and cut in oblong 1 by 3 inch strips to serve.

"Because it is so rich, small pieces are ample, said Mrs. Walker. "In fact, my neighbors refer to them as "fattenings," she smilingly mused.

The Chocolate Nut Sticks are delicious for afternoon coffees or late evening snacks. Served with ice cream, they are a delectable dinner dessert.

"As you might guess from this recipe my family is partial to chocolate," said Mrs. Walker, "and another of our favorite desserts is chocolate also."

CALLED A Lincoln Log, this cake is similar to a jelly roll except that the cake batter is chocolate and the filling is whipped cream.

Although the dessert looks quite special, it is relatively easy to prepare. "I have never had any trouble rolling it up," said this capable homemaker, "and it has never failed."

After the cake is rolled up with the whipped cream, Mrs. Walker frosts it with a chocolate icing and places the Lincoln Log in the refrigerator until it is served.

Pretty in appearance and light in texture, this tempting chocolate roll is perfect as a dinner or late evening dessert.

"THIS IS A nice bridge dessert, too, as it will serve three tables," commented Mrs. Walker.

Digressing a bit from chocolate desserts, this homemaker has a favorite salad recipe which she likes to serve for holiday meals.

Called a Wine Jello Fruit Salad, it consists of Queen Anne cherries stuffed with cream cheese and molded in a mixture of red jello and port wine. Pineapple and bananas may be added if desired, but Mrs. Walker prefers the salad without these additions.

THE DELIGHTFUL, refreshing flavor of this appealing salad mold complements the flavor of any meat, be it beef, pork or fowl.

In addition to her culinary interests, Mrs. Walker has three children to keep her busy: twins Vic and Valorie, one-year-old, and a son, J. D., five years old.

The family moved from Robinson, Ill., to their home at 1542 N. Kaspar in Arlington Heights a year ago. Mr. Walker is assistant varsity football coach at Glenbrook high school. The family belongs to the First Methodist church and the Hasbrook Civic association.

SUCCESSFUL HOMEMAKING

by LOIS SEILER

CHOCOLATE NUT STICKS

½ cup butter or margarine
2 squares Bakers semi-sweet chocolate
1 cup granulated sugar
2 beaten eggs
¼ teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup all-purpose flour, sifted
½ cup chopped pecans

Melt butter and chocolate together. Add sugar and then the eggs. Stir in vanilla, flour and chopped nuts.

Bake in a greased, 9-inch square pan in 350 degree oven for 20 to 25 minutes. When cake is cool, mix together the following ingredients:

2 tablespoons soft margarine
1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
1 tablespoon milk
½ teaspoon rum or rum extract

Mix and spread over the cooled chocolate layer. Place in the refrigerator until firm. Then melt together:

4 small squares German Sweet Chocolate
1 tablespoon butter

Drizzle over the above frosting and store in refrigerator. To serve, cut in 1 by 3 inch oblong strips.

LINCOLN LOG

6 egg yolks
1 cup powdered sugar
3 tablespoons cocoa
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon vanilla
Dash of salt
3 tablespoons flour
6 egg whites, beaten
2 tablespoons sugar
½ pint whipping cream, whipped

Place egg yolks, powdered sugar, cocoa, baking powder, vanilla, salt and flour into a large mixing bowl. Beat for six minutes at No. 7 speed with electric mixer. Fold in beaten egg whites to which the two tablespoons sugar have been added.

Pour into a warm, buttered jelly roll pan and bake in a 350 degree oven for 15 minutes. Immediately turn over onto a tea towel which has been sprinkled with powdered sugar. Roll up cake while it is still warm, rolling the long side of the cake.

Let cool and unroll the cake. Spread with whipped cream, re-roll and frost with a powdered sugar icing or a chocolate frosting. Store in refrigerator until served.

Serves 12.

WINE JELLO FRUIT SALAD

1 package red jello (any flavor)
1 cup Queen Anne cherry juice
2/3 cup water
1/3 cup port wine
Queen Anne Cherries
1 3-ounce package cream cheese

Stuff Queen Anne cherries with softened cream cheese.

Boil water; dissolve jello in hot water and add cherry juice and wine. Let set until partially congealed and fold in stuffed cherries. Pineapple and bananas may be added, if desired.

Pour into any type mold or individual ring molds. Refrigerate until served. Unmold on bib lettuce. Serves 5 to 6.

October Is Month To Bake Halibut

October is the month of the "National Fish and Seafood Parade." It's the perfect time of year to try a new and delightful fish recipe.

Enhance the delicate flavor of fresh or frozen halibut steaks with a delicious sauce flavored with celery, onion, curry and sparked with the citric accent of 7-Up.

2 pounds halibut steak
1 (7-ounce) bottle 7-Up
½ cup sifted bread crumbs
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/3 cup chopped green pepper
1/3 cup chopped celery
1/3 cup finely chopped onion
1½ tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon curry powder
Dash of Tabasco sauce.

Pour 7-Up into a shallow dish. Spread crumbs on waxed paper. Dip halibut steaks into 7-Up, then in crumbs coating all sides with crumbs. Reserve remaining 7-Up.

Place halibut in a greased, shallow baking pan. Bake in a 450 degree oven for 12 to 15 minutes or until tender. While fish is baking, melt butter in a saucepan.

Add green pepper, celery and onion and cook on low heat until tender. Stir in flour, curry powder and Tabasco. Gradually add remaining 7-Up. Cook on low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened.

Serve over halibut. Makes 4 to 6 servings. (SH

Local Lumbermen To Observe National Forest Week Oct. 15

Did you know that one of every ten manufacturing employes in America is in the forest products industry? Most homes are built largely of wood.

But did you know that ice cream flavoring, bowling balls, rayon garments, perfume base, antifreeze, fabric dyes, varnishes, photographic film, radio cabinets and linoleum trace their origins in some degree to trees?

LOCAL lumbermen are calling attention to these and many other facts about America's amazing, renewable timber resource, in observance of National Forest Products Week—October 15 to 21.

Lumber leaders will appear before service clubs and radio and television audiences during the week. Numberous publications will carry informational articles on the place of wood in the economy.

THE TREES are taken too much for granted, lumbermen point out. Their chief contribution in products to man's welfare are lumber, plywood and paper and these are well known, of course.

Less well recognized is the tremendous service of forests as they protect domestic water supplies, provide the habitat for wild game, and furnish recreation area where millions of Americans picnic, camp, fish and hunt every year.

THE WEEK'S tributes to the forests will point out that America now is growing 25 per cent more trees than are removed for all purposes, and that protection of this incomparable, ever-renewing resource is the concern of all citizens.

An estimated 5,000 different products are made from forest materials today, ranging into an imposing array of chemicals.

Wood's potential in new products is rated high, and the industry is spending millions of dollars a year on research to unlock its remaining secrets.

FIRST manufacturing by America's colonists was of lumber, crudely sawn soon after the landing at Jamestown, Virginia, in 1608.

In the ensuing decades the vast forests stretching westward have proved far more valuable than would the gold sought by the first settlers.

Though the forests have contributed billions in wealth to the country's development, first formal recognition came only last year with the first National Forest Products Week, 3½ centuries after start of the first tiny sawmill.

Idea for the week began with the Hoo-Hoo club, which has chapters all over the United States and Canada among retail, wholesale and manufacturing lumbermen. (SH

Wood, Miracle Material

Without doubt, wood is this planet's most amazing and versatile material. It has been said, facetiously, that a stranger landed on earth from Mars one day and when interviewed, said he was in search of a material that could do everything.

He described wood so perfectly that one of the earthmen showed him a piece of wood.

"That's it," the Martian cried, "Now we can really build a civilization."

THE WEEK of October 15 to 21 is National Forest Products Week, when the nation will pay tribute for the second time to this fabulous material.

There are those among our scientists who believe we are just on the threshold of vast new discoveries in wood which will provide this nation with new sinews for peace and defense.

THE TARGET today is the lignin molecule, how to crack it to make it give up its secrets and its potential. Lignin is the binder in wood, making up 40 per cent of its weight.

Now man has learned through tree farming how to insure maximum growth of trees on every forest acre.

The outlook for endless supplies of lumber, plywood, pulp and paper and a whole new family of chemicals based on wood is bright. (SH

Cranberry Tempter Has Orange Flavor

Don't miss out on the tantalizing goodness of tangy cranberry desserts, relishes and salads during the holiday season.

One of the prettiest and best tasting cranberry desserts we have come across lately is a light and luscious Cranberry-Orange Tapioca, piled high in sherbets or parfaits and served icy cold.

WITH SO many people counting calories these days, this festive dessert is sure to be a popular one. Unnecessary calories have been slashed away by the use of the calorie-free sweetener, Sucaryl, rather than sugar.

You need count only 42 calories per serving, which is less than one-fourth the normal calorie count when sweetened in the ordinary fashion.

Best part is, non-dieters, too, will enjoy the pleasant, natural-tasting sweetness of this calorie-streamlined holiday dessert.

CRANBERRY-ORANGE TAPIOCA
(Low-Calroie)

2 cups fresh cranberries
1 cup water
2 tablespoons Sucaryl solution
3 tablespoons tapioca
1 cup boiling water
½ cup orange sections
1 teaspoon vanilla.

Combine cranberries, water and Sucaryl; cook until skins pop. Cook tapioca in boiling water, stirring constantly, until thick.

Stir in the cooked cranberries, orange sections and vanilla. Cool until mixture begins to set; then spoon into dessert glasses. Chill.

Makes 6 servings. Each serving contains 42 Calories; trace of protein; trace of fat; 10 grams carbohydrate. If made with sugar, each serving would contai n 170 Calories. SH the Loaf that became a Legend....

WAY BACK IN 1856, St. John's Abbey and University were founded. From the start, the monks baked a wonderful grain-rich bread from an age-old monastic recipe. The thick, brown, hearty loaves became a tradition.... a special trade-mark to the thousands of St. John's men who enjoyed it. Graduates write for it, come back for it.

NOW, this old-abbey bread, with its rare, natural flavor and quality, is being baked for you. You'll find it fresh at most good food stores, in the original ROUGH-GRAIN DARK loaf, and in WHITE. Ask for it, try it, you'll agree:

It's what bread was meant to be!

Week's Best food buys

Metropolitan food markets continue to reflect prevailing steadiness at all levels, in costs, prices and supplies. Consumers will find bargains this week selectively discounted depending on store judgment.

The University of Illinois consumer service weekly survey, for the period ending October 14, notes these standout situations: 1. Grocery departments will soon be subjected to one of the largest packs of processed lines in recent years; the wholesale index already reflecting this, drops below year-ago costs.

2. APPLES PERSIST as the top buy in fresh fruits, being abundant and much lower in cost; 3. Lettuce prices plummet, off nearly 50 per cent with Chicago quotes the lowest in the country on new western supplies that range widely in quality between Arizona and California kinds.

4. Bacon returns to the value list after its long high-priced absence; 5. Interest in over-abundant turkeys and fryers is dull, with reports some stores are cancelling prior bookings and promotion prices continuing down.

THE U OF I bargain buy list shows: meats — round, sirloin and porterhouse steaks, rump roasts, pork butt roasts, bacon, lamb leg roasts; poultry—medium size eggs, fryers, turkeys; produce—apples, bananas, pears, potatoes, cabbage, carrots, lettuce, cucumbers, green beans, peppers and celery.

The new-pack processed lines begin to shape up this way, percentages of supplies over last year noted: In canned lines, snap beans 14 per cent, lima beans 15 per cent, peas 6 per cent, corn 22 per cent, tomato products 7 per cent, beets 21 per cent and sauerkraut 8 per cent.

FROZEN LINES, green beans, corn and spinach are at record levels, followed by peas and orange juice close behind. There also is a new-crop abundance of all kinds of nuts, led by pecans.

In fresh produce, lettuce will be a common market based feature. Cabbage also is a good seasonal buy, prices quoted by "head" rather than pound. Rated as relatively cheap are squash, tomatoes, brussels sprouts, potatoes and medium-size yellow onions.

Lower-cost lines include green beans, peppers, cucumbers and carrots; persisting higher in cost are spinach, okra, endive, Romaine, radishes, green onions and sweet corn.

MEATS AND poultry retails are virtually unchanged against fractionally moving live and wholesale costs, that were more down than up. But a store price review is in order, these general competitive tags being noted:

Beef—blade cut chuck roasts 49-55 cents, round bone to 69 cents, rump and sirloin tip 89-95c, first four rib cuts 75-79 cents, fifth-sixth cuts 65-69 cents. Round steak 69-89 cents, sirloin 89c-$1.05, porterhouse 98c-$1.25. Ground beef 49-55 cents.

LAMB—FROM native spring supplies, leg roasts 59-69 cents, shoulder roasts 39-49 cents, shoulder chops 65 cents, rib chops 89c-$1.05, loin chops 98 cents-$1.25.

Poultry—Against slow wholesale and retail trade, turkeys range 29-39 cents between toms and hens, fryers 29-39c, stewing hens 29-35 cents—but usually lower on promotion for all three.

Small eggs, sometimes short of demand, 33-35 cents, better supplied medium size eggs 49 cents or less, large size eggs holding 57-61 cents.

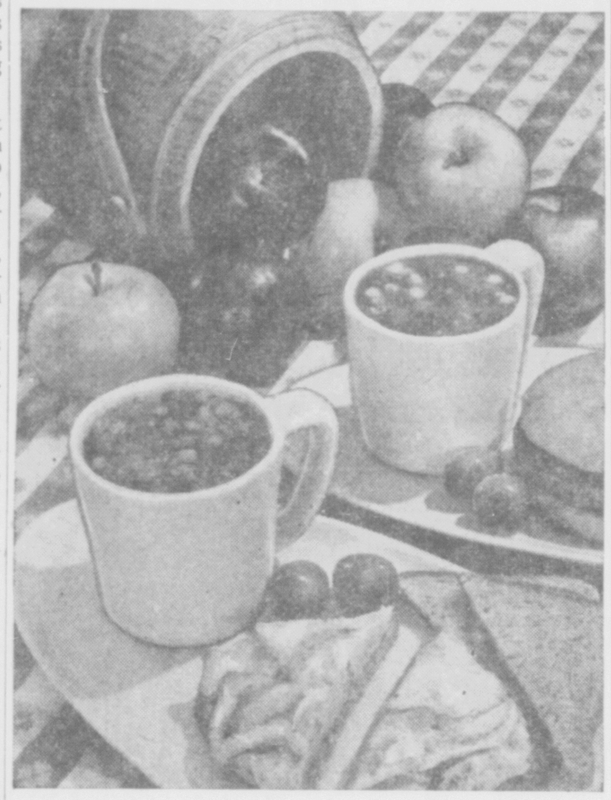
New Soups Arrive For Winter Menus



As the third season of the year rounds the corner it holds a surprise just as fresh and exciting.

Two canned condensed soups —vegetable bean and chili beef, are just waiting to be included in your menus.

TRY CANNED condensed vegetable bean for a filling soup with natural nourishment.

Seven garden-fresh vegetables, plump pink beans, tasty lentils, and tender lean beef are found throughout.

It's sure to become your family's soup. Next, spoon into a tangy beany, beefy soup—canned condensed chili beef—enriched with fine lean beef, tomatoes, onion, and spieced with chili.

BOTH SOUPS are packed full of protein, vitamins and minerals for good nutrition at lunch and supper.

They'll be carried too, in vacuum bottles to many an outdoor activity to warm the toes of spectators and participants.

The perfect accompaniments to these two new soups are sandwiches. Good things begin to happen when menus follow this soup 'n sandwich pattern.

It's a popular pattern, too, for a recent national menu survey revealed that when soup is served, 51 per cent of the time a sandwich is served, also.

HOW ABOUT offering the family a selection of sandwiches when you serve these soups: roast beef on enriched whole wheat, sliced chicken on enriched wheat germ bread and crab salad on enriched family rye.

Dessert—fresh fruit and coffee. A nourishing, satisfying, relaxed meal.

Here are some more soup ideas and sandwich accompaniments.

CHILI BEEF AND CORN CHOWDER

1 can (11 ounces) condensed chili b...
1 soup can water
½ cup w... corn with red and green sweet peppers

Combine soup and water; add corn. Heat, stirring now and then. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

VEGETABLE BEAN WITH BACON

Prepare soup according to label directions. Float crumbled cooked bacon on top of soup.

Sandwich suggestion: Parslied omelet on whole wheat toast.

Man Plants Trees On 2 Million Acres

Forests have a remarkable capacity to regenerate themselves, starting seedlings to replace the mature trees, which have been harvested to make useful products or have succumbed to disease, insects and age.

In some tracts, however, new trees fail to take hold and woodland owners carry on a costly seeding and hand planting program. In 1960, more than 2 million acres were planted by man.

FIVE southern states, Georgia, Florida, Louisiana, South Carolina, Alabama and Mississippi led the list. More lumber is used in America than in any other nation.

But Canada and New Zealand boast a greater consumption per person. The average American uses twice as much lumber as a Russian, four times as much as an Englishman and six times as much as a Frenchman.

Quick Sale

YOUR HOUSE WILL SELL.

The money is ready. We are ready. Veterans are ready. You must take a reasonable discount for cash as made permissible by Public Law 364 of 85th Congress. But the sale is certain if your house is structurally sound and in good general condition.. Any location suited to a veteran and family. Minimum price about $9,000. Maximum about $16,000. Why wait endlessly? The no-down-payment 30-year terms of the law make your house salable. Phone or see us for booklet "Personal Message to Owners of Hard-to-Sell Homes."

COUNTRYSIDE

One-year-old brick and frame bi-level, large living room, dining area, 3 twin-size bedrooms, 2½ c. t. baths, family room paneled, fireplace, 2½-car attached garage. $33,500.

BARRINGTON
COUNTRYSIDE ESTATE

In finest estate area consisting of 5 pretty rolling wooded acres. The residence is New England Early American and has 4 very pretty large bedrooms and 4 baths. Living room, full family dining room and exceptionally large family room all have fireplaces. There's a large screened porch. The kitchen has all the usual built-ins as well as a connecting family size breakfast room. There's a 2½ car attached garage. Barn with box stall for horses and loafing shed as well as hobby and work shop. This is an elegant property priced to sell for $69,500.

CHOICE VACANT

We offer very choice hi-rolling—wooded homesites in a beautiful countryside estate area, from $4500.00 to $6800.00 total cost per site. 3-acre minimum zoning and reasonable restrictions. Sites vary in size from 4 acres to 6 acres. We don't believe you can duplicate these values anywhere in all Chicagoland. Your early inspection suggested.

Fall Cleaning

Begins with Clean Drapes

. . . and you're anxious to have clean drapes at your windows.

Heat, dust and open windows have played havoc. We'll not only return your drapes with their original clarity and freshness of color but with a decorator fold.

Your drapes will be easier to hang and will look better when pleated and folded for you. Let us give your drapes a new lease on life and beauty!
